Income Tax Bill Still Alive, But Fate Very Much In Doubt

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The state income tax bill survived its fourth kill attempt Monday, but its fate remained very much in doubt as it headed for a possible rendezvous with history Tuesday.

Final vote is scheduled for Tuesday morning.

The measure, LB797, chiefly sponsored by Sen. Hal Bauer of Lincoln, will need 25 affirmative votes.

Narrowest Yet

It escaped Sen. Terry Carpenter's fourth assault on a 21-25 vote, the narrowest margin yet.

Tuesday's decisive votes are likely to be cast by Sens. Fred Carstens of Beatrice and Chet Paxton of Thedford, both of whom opposed the kill motion, and Sen. Edward Danner of Omaha, who switched from his previous opposition to a non-voting position.

Sens. Cecil Craft of North Platte and William Hasebroock of West Point abandoned their prevoius stands, and voted to kill for the first time.

Won't Support It

Sen. William Wylie of Elgin, who voted to kill on the third roll call one week ago, did not vote, but he indicated he will not support the measure on the final count.

Only absent senator was Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, a supporter of the bill.

Carstens said he has not yet decided how he will vote on Tuesday, and Paxton said he will "rassle with that question" when the final bell sounds.

'Disturbed'

Danner said he voted not to kill for the first time because he is "somewhat disturbed by some people in Omaha who have stuck their nose in favoring a sales tax."

Legislators were presented last week with letters signed by a number of prominent Omaha businessmen favoring a sales tax over an income tax.

"If we are going to get one or the other," Danner said, "I would rather have the income tax."

Both Sides Confident

Both sides predicted victory as the issue headed toward showdown.

"I think it will pass," Bauer declared. "We've held 26 solid votes and will continue to do so."

"By observation, and contact with some of those who did not vote to kill, it would appear that the bill will lose by one vote," Carpenter declared. ..

Up To Danner

"The issue may rest almost entirely on the shoulders of Sen. Danner."

Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen will be in the chair when the final vote is taken, and he will vote aye if the issue deadlocks in a 24-24 tie.

A legislative resolution has authorized him to break a 24-24 tie on final reading, but there is grave legal doubt whether his vote would be constitutionally effective and thus able to determine the fate of the bill

'More Practical'

Carpenter argued Monday that it would be "more practical" for the Legislature to kill the measure by approving his motion to return the bill to select file to strike its enacting clause than to wait a day and kill it on final reading.

"For those who might want to change, it would be better to do it here than on final reading," he argued.

"If you do not do it today, I hope you stand tight tomorrow."

24 Certain Votes

With Carstens and Paxton declining to commit themselves, the bill now has but 24 certain votes, including Rasmussen who will be on hand for the final ballot

Some behind-the-scenes political maneuvering has been directed at accomplishing a 24-24 tie in order to place Sorensen, a strong Democratic gubernatorial possibility in 1966, on record in favor of the measure.

If the bill is approved it will be subjected to a referendum petition effort to place the issue on the general election ballot next year.

Only State

LB797 would enact a flat-rate individual and corporate income tax to replace the state property tax. Nebraska is the sole remaining state without some form of a general sales or income tax.

Previous efforts to kill have failed on 20-29, 21-27 and 19-28 counts.

Vote on the motion to kill:

For Batchelder, Brauer, Budd, Carpenter, Claussen, Craft, Hasebroock, Klaver Losinger Mahoney, Marvel, Moulton, Moylan, Nore, Paine, Payne, Pedersen, Proud, Skarda, Stromer, Syas Against: Adamson, Bauer, Bowen, Burbach, Carstens, Crandall, Fleming, Gerdes, Harsh, Holmquist, Hughes, Kjar, Knight, Kokes, Kremer, Matzke, Nelson, Orme Paxton, E Rasmussen, Ruhnke, Stryker, Wallwey, Warner, Whitney.

Not Voting Danner, Wylie.

Absent R Rasmussen

Defeat Of Tax Bill Predicted By Morrison

Gov. Frank Morrison predicted on the eve of the showdown vote on the state income tax bill that lawmakers will not pass the controversial measure.

The bill, LB797, comes up for final reading Tuesday.

Morrison, commenting after the measure had survived its fourth kill attempt Monday, said he thought the bill would be turned down by a narrow margin, but he declined to predict the exact vote.

He promised, however, that if the bill is passed by the Legislature, he will most likely announce his decision on what he will do with the bill Tuesday. Morrison can sign it, veto it, return it to the Legislature with suggestions, or allow it to become law without his signature.

He reiterated his position that although he opposed the measure, he would not veto it unless it contained such major mechanical difficulties that the bill would be unworkable.

—FLOOD WATERS NEAR—

Temporary Dikes Guard North Platte

North Platte pinned its hopes Monday on a temporary dike system and the so-called Nichols lateral to keep flood waters of the South Platte River out of the town.

The rate of flow was down about 20% from the rated experienced at Julesburg, Colo., and generally the water did not reach the Union Pacific railroad tracks which serve as a barrier between the towns and the South Platte River, from Roscoe to Paxton.

At North Platte proper the bank was about 10 feet above the water level at mid-afternoon and a 6-foot dike was thrown up on top of the bank, providing about 16 feet of bank to carry an anticipated 10-foot rise.

Dike Hooks Up

This dike extends for about a mile until it hooks up with the embankment of the Nichols lateral, which also provides an embankment.

To the south, however, the river was spilling over meadows as far as a half to three quarters of a mile and sometimes more, but this area is sparsely populated and little trouble is anticipated.

Residents in the area were alerted to leave when the water starts to get close.

Up At Sutherland

Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch, Nebraska adjutant general, reported late Monday afternoon the South Platte was rising at Sutherland, located 21 miles west of North Platte.

Seven miles east of Sutherland at Hershey the Union Pacific railroad right of way has been diked. Everything north of the railroad in the Hershey area is expected to escape flooding, Gen. Welch said.

The general returned to Lincoln Monday morning after spending Sunday in the Ogallala area watching the swollen South Platte and flew back to North Platte Monday night to await the crest there.

Survey Waters

North Platte city officials were taken on a flight over the flood waters Monday.

Gen. Welch said flooding is not expected in the residential sections of North Platte. He explained the valley widens in the North Platte area and should adequately carry off the high water. However, he warned that residents should heed precautions and keep an eye on the situation.

Late Monday afternoon predictions were that the level would still not reach the levels of the 1935 floods.

Question

Reservoirs in the North Platte area can handle additional water but the question was whether the canals could deliver it fast enough to avoid canal overflow.

Once the South Platte joins the North Platte just east of North Platte it is anticipated that the channel wll be ample to handle the volume of water without further difficulty.

The crest passed Ogallala with only minor damage to low lying property south of the town between the railroad tracks and the river, but one manufacturing plant building was evacuated and several homes were surrounded by water. A four-foot dike thrown up along the tracks held and the water did not reach more than half way to the top of the dike.

Four-District School Plan Ballot Today

Residents in the Walton, Bennet, Palmyra and Alvo-Eagle School districts will vote Tuesday on a proposal to merge the four districts.

The polls at Eagle, Bennet, Palmyra and Walton will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

According to Lincoln attorney Donn Davis, passage of the issue which involves Lancaster, Cass and Otoe Counties, would result in a designation of Eagle and Palmyra as attendance centers next fall for grades seven through 12.

If the issue carries, then a second vote will be necessary to determine location and for approval of a bond issue.

The merged district would have an assessed valuation of $12.2 million. Its student population would be 907, including 370 attending high schools.

THAIS, CAMBODIANS CLASH

Bangkok Border Crossed

18 CAMBODIAN TROOPS KILLED

Bangkok, Thailand (AP)— The Thai government said Monday more than 200 Cambodian soldiers crossed into Thailand in one of the sharpest outbreaks of fighting between the two countries in more than a year.

Premier Thanom Kittikachorn said Thailand will protest to the United Nations.

The premier told newsmen 13 Cambodians were killed in four clashes Sunday in Trad province, about 180 miles southeast of Bangkok. One Thai soldier was reported killed, other government sources [illegible].

Thai Marines Sent In

Thailand landed more than 100 marines from navy craft in the Gulf of Thailand and rushed them into the jungled border area. Border police in three adjoining provinces were alerted. Thai navy patrol craft cruised offshore.

A party of government officials flew to the area by helicopter.

Bangkok has no direct communications with Trad province and the government said it received first reports of fighting from the governor of adjoining Chadburi province.

Penetrate Half Mile

The government said a company of Cambodian soldiers penetrated more than one-half mile into Thailand at Khao Wong village. Reports said more than 200 of the soldiers were digging in near the village.

A Thai government statement said:

"The Thai government and people will suppress them (the Cambodians) decisively. Cambodia will have to bear consequences of this act."

A source at Kittikachorn's office pointed out that border clashes have occurred in Trad province before, but never on such a scale.

Spy Recruiter

A government press release said the trouble began several days ago when a Cambodian village chief approached Thai border police in hope of recruiting spies for Cambodia.

A border policeman told the Cambodian to come back a few days later. When the Cambodian returned Sunday afternoon he saw the policeman talking with another man. The statement said the village chief then opened fire on both, wounding the policeman. Other border police returned fire and killed the Cambodian.

Cambodian soldiers nearby heard gunfire and rushed to the scene, opening fire on arrival. The border police returned fire and called for reinforcements, the government statement said.

CRASH FATAL TO CROP DUSTER

Joe Roll of Nebraska City was killed Monday when his crop dusting plane hit a power line as he pulled up after finishing dusting a field. His brother, Ed, who was acting as flagman, said he believed Joe was blinded by the sun as he pulled up. Joe, who was in his 60s, had been a licensed commercial pilot for about 20 years. The accident occurred three miles northwest of Nebraska City.

AMA 'Discrimination' Protested

New York (AP)— About 100 pickets, most of them doctors, Monday marched in protest against what they called racial discriminatory practices by local medical societies.

The demonstration came as thousands of doctors from across the country were gathered here for the meeting of the house of delegates of the American Medical Association and related scientific sessions.

Organized by a Medical Committee for Human Rights, the demonstrators called for integration of all local and state chapters of the AMA and elimination of discrimination in organized medcine.

Leaders said it was the largest picket line ever amassed by doctors in this country. About 70% of the participants were white.

The AMA promptly issued a statement declaring that pressure tactics hampered rather than helped the progress toward "voluntary elimination of discrimination in medicine."

The pickets moved in a long continuous circle in front of the New York Coliseum where special medical sessions are being held and scientific exhibits shown. Marchers carried placards saying:

"Integrate all county and state medical societies" and "End discrimination in medicine now."

Leader in AMA

The demonstration leader, Dr. John L. S. Holloman Jr. of New York City, said the AMA, of which he is a member, should lead the way in removing discrimination.

The committee sponsoring the demonstration cited examples of asserted discrimination, including these figures on local medical societies said to deny membership to qualified Negro physicians: 68 out of 76 local societies in Georgia; 66 out of 70 in Alabama; all of the local societies in Louisiana, and all but two in Mississippi, and three in North Carolina.

Dr. Holloman, a Negro, said there are "pockets of distress" elsewhere in the country.

Appeals Demand Okay Of Antimedicare Strike

New York (UPI) — Nine state delegations, including Nebraska's, and one individual delegate demanded Monday that the American Medical Association sanction a doctors' strike against medicare. It was an emotion-charged day at the AMA's annual convention.

A number of medicine's elder statesmen were busy behind the scenes trying to prevent what one of them called a plunge off the deep end. Authoritative forecasts were that they would prevail. But this was no certainty.

The appeals to strike were in resolutions introduced at the first legislative session of refusal by medical doctors to the AMA's ruling house of delegates. All called for a flat participate in the tax-supported program of medical aid for all persons over 65 if and when it becómes law.

To Committee

They were immediately referred to the house's committee on legislation and public relations. The committee chairman is Dr. George Petznick of Cleveland, Ohio, an outspoken opponent of AMA-sanctioned "nonparticipation" which, in his opinion, is another term for strike or boycott.

That also is the position of Dr. James Z. Appel of Lancaster, Pa., who took office as AMA president Sunday with a forthright demand for full participation in medicare on the moral and ethical grounds that there can be no defiance of either the intent or spirit or any law by any right-minded citizen.

Dr. Charles L. Hudson of Cleveland, who may be chosen AMA president-elect Thursday, goes along with Appel's position.

Dr. Durward Hall, a Republican congressman from Missouri who is another major candidate for president-elect, advised in a speech Monday that it would be wise to wait until the medicare bill becomes law before the house takes any action.

Work For Moderation

Dr. Willard A. Wright of South Dakota, who is said to have the best chance of becoming president-elect, was understood to be working for moderation, as was Dr. Donovan Ward of Dubuque, Iowa, whom Dr. Appel succeeded as president.

The nonparticipation resolutions were introduced by delegations of Arizona, Ohio, Florida, Connecticut, Texas, South Carolina, Louisiana, Indiana and Nebraska. The individual delegate was Dr. John K. Glen, a Houston pediatrician who thought the Texas resolution was not strong enough in its wording.

He read his to the house with a stern voice that betrayed emotion. Its "whereases" denounced "the socializers" and upheld 'individual freedom, free enterprise and free market economy."

—UNREST MOUNTS—

Algeria Regime Bans Protests

Algiers (AP)—Algeria's new military regime banned all public demonstrations and ordered its security forces on maximum alert Monday in the face of growing unrest over the ouster of President Ahmed Ben Bella.

For the second tine in 24 hours, angry youths took to the streets of Algiers shouting their support of the deposed strongman in defiance of Algeria's new revolutionary council.

Riot police fired repeatedly into the air to disperse the throngs of young demonstrators, who chanted "ya-hyah Ben Bella!" (long live Ben Bella) or the French version, "vive Ben Bella!" By late afternoon, numerous arrests were reported in the sweltering city.

Scatter

The demonstrators, many waving Algeria's red, white and green flag, scattered as police and helmeted troops bore down on them in jeeps. But each time one knot of demonstrators scattered, another group seemed to gather in the next street.

The mobs smashed the windows of a bus in front of the main post. office. Troops ringed the government palace, the Central Bank of Algeria and other public buildings as well as the city's student quarter, many brandishing submachine guns.

Tension also ran high in other Algerian cities, according to travelers arriving in France.

The demonstrations were a re-enactment of disturbances Sunday night. Police scattered a group of pro-Ben Bella students but thereby set off a rash of similar outbursts by sympathetic bystanders throughout the capital.

In Cairo, informed sources said United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser has offered to grant Ben Bella asylum. The sources said Algeria's new leaders insisted however, that the ousted president must face trial. The new regime informed Nasser that Ben Bella would not be executed, the informants added.

It was certain to plague Col. Houari Boumedienne, key figure in the revolutionary council now governing this country of 12 million Algerians.

Boumedienne and the revolutionary council had a good deal more than student disturbances as priority problems.

The council has the tough problem of the shaky future of the Asian-African summit conference, scheduled to open June 29. A foreign minister's preparatory meeting was slated for Thursday. Nobody knew for certain just what would happen to the conference.

Thirteen Asian-African countries of the British Commonwealth called for a postponement because of what they said was the political uncertainty in Algiers.

Red China, which has announced support of the new regime, wants the conference to go on as scheduled.

VFW's New Building Dedicated; City Praised

Lincoln was termed "a good veterans community" by Robert A. Lowe, national director of membership and extension for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, as he gave the dedicatory address for the new Department of Nebraska VFW headquarters building at 2726 No. 48th.

The dedication was part of the Monday program of the VFW convention, which included business sessions, a past commanders luncheon, and an afternoon parade.

Lowe said the building was the achievement of a long-time dream "for all of us," and said it was fitting that it should be in Lincoln.

Lowe noted that Lincoln VFW Post 131 is one of the 10 largest in the world and that there are other veterans facilities in the city, such as Veterans Hospital, and Veterans Administration regional offices.

In accepting the new building for the state department, Nebraska VFW Department Commander Roy G. Carveth of Lincoln said much of the credit should go to the adjutant quartermaster, Evert L. Shelbourn of Lincoln, who painted and cleaned the building.

William Schultz of the University Place Businessmen's Association welcomed the state department to University Place.

Tuesday events at the convention include a new and old district commanders breakfast, two business sessions and election of new chairman before adjournemt Tuesday afternoon.

The convention will act on resolutions and reports being prepared by state department committees, and has already passed unanimously 25 national resolutions dealing with Viet Nam, Cuba, the Dominican Republic and Americanism.

Newly elected or re-elected district commanders are: District One, C. W. Anthony, Chadron; two, James Shaw, Scottsbluff; three, Orlen Volquadsen, Norfolk; four, Scotty Engelman, North Platte; five, Allen Varney, Culbertson; six, James Pulston, Nebraska City; seven, Andrew Ludwig, Wisner; nine, Lloyd Wyant, Aurora; ten, Rolland Parrish, Omaha; 11, Ray Revel, O'Neill; 12, Leon Klanacky, Ord; 13, Howard Olson, Nelson; 14, Glen Hiles, Kearney; 15, Dean Tepley, Clarkson; 16, Ralph E. Pool, Hebron.

Elections will be held as part of the Tuesday women's auxiliary program, along with award presentations and officer installations.

Sophia Goldstein, national senior vice-president of the auxiliary, will address the group.

AMA 'Discrimination' Protested

New York (AP)— About 100 pickets, most of them doctors, Monday marched in protest against what they called racial discriminatory practices by local medical societies.

The demonstration came as thousands of doctors from across the country were gathered here for the meeting of the house of delegates of the American Medical Association and related scientific sessions.

Organized by a Medical Committee for Human Rights, the demonstrators called for integration of all local and state chapters of the AMA and elimination of discrimination in organized medcine.

Leaders said it was the largest picket line ever amassed by doctors in this country. About 70% of the participants were white.

The AMA promptly issued a statement declaring that pressure tactics hampered rather than helped the progress toward "voluntary elimination of discrimination in medicine."

The pickets moved in a long continuous circle in front of the New York Coliseum where special medical sessions are being held and scientific exhibits shown. Marchers carried placards saying:

"Integrate all county and state medical societies" and "End discrimination in medicine now."

Leader in AMA

The demonstration leader, Dr. John L. S. Holloman Jr. of New York City, said the AMA, of which he is a member, should lead the way in removing discrimination.

The committee sponsoring the demonstration cited examples of asserted discrimination, including these figures on local medical societies said to deny membership to qualified Negro physicians: 68 out of 76 local societies in Georgia; 66 out of 70 in Alabama; all of the local societies in Louisiana, and all but two in Mississippi, and three in North Carolina.

Dr. Holloman, a Negro, said there are "pockets of distress" elsewhere in the country.

Appeals Demand Okay Of Antimedicare Strike

New York (UPI) — Nine state delegations, including Nebraska's, and one individual delegate demanded Monday that the American Medical Association sanction a doctors' strike against medicare. It was an emotion-charged day at the AMA's annual convention.

A number of medicine's elder statesmen were busy behind the scenes trying to prevent what one of them called a plunge off the deep end. Authoritative forecasts were that they would prevail. But this was no certainty.

The appeals to strike were in resolutions introduced at the first legislative session of refusal by medical doctors to the AMA's ruling house of delegates. All called for a flat participate in the tax-supported program of medical aid for all persons over 65 if and when it becomes law.

To Committee

They were immediately referred to the house's committee on legislation and public relations. The committee chairman is Dr. George Petznick of Cleveland, Ohio, an outspoken opponent of AMA-sanctioned "nonparticipation" which, in his opinion, is another term for strike or boycott.

That also is the position of Dr. James Z. Appel of Lancaster, Pa., who took office as AMA president Sunday with a forthright demand for full participation in medicare on the moral and ethical grounds that there can be no defiance of either the intent or spirit or any law by any right-minded citizen.

Dr. Charles L. Hudson of Cleveland, who may be chosen AMA president-elect Thursday, goes along with Appel's position.

Dr. Durward Hall, a Republican congressman from Missouri who is another major candidate for president-elect, advised in a speech Monday that it would be wise to wait until the medicare bill becomes law before the house takes any action.

Work For Moderation

Dr. Willard A. Wright of South Dakota, who is said to have the best chance of becoming president-elect, was understood to be working for moderation, as was Dr. Donovan Ward of Dubuque, Iowa, whom Dr. Appel succeeded as president.

The nonparticipation resolutions were introduced by delegations of Arizona, Ohio, Florida, Connecticut, Texas, South Carolina, Louisiana, Indiana and Nebraska. The individual delegate was Dr. John K. Glen, a Houston pediatrician who thought the Texas resolution was not strong enough in its wording.

He read his to the house with a stern voice that betrayed emotion. Its "whereases" denounced "the socializers" and upheld 'individual freedom, free enterprise and free market economy."

—UNREST MOUNTS—

Algeria Regime Bans Protests

Algiers (AP)—Algeria's new military regime banned all public demonstrations and ordered its security forces on maximum alert Monday in the face of growing unrest over the ouster of President Ahmed Ben Bella.

For the second tine in 24 hours, angry youths took to the streets of Algiers shouting their support of the deposed strongman in defiance of Algeria's new revolutionary council.

Riot police fired repeatedly into the air to disperse the throngs of young demonstrators, who chanted "ya-hyah Ben Bella!" (long live Ben Bella) or the French version, "vive Ben Bella!" By late afternoon, numerous arrests were reported in the sweltering city.

Scatter

The demonstrators, many waving Algeria's red, white and green flag, scattered as police and helmeted troops bore down on them in jeeps. But each time one knot of demonstrators scattered, another group seemed to gather in the next street.

The mobs smashed the windows of a bus in front of the main post. office. Troops ringed the government palace, the Central Bank of Algeria and other public buildings as well as the city's student quarter, many brandishing submachine guns.

Tension also ran high in other Algerian cities, according to travelers arriving in France.

The demonstrations were a re-enactment of disturbances Sunday night. Police scattered a group of pro-Ben Bella students but thereby set off a rash of similar outbursts by sympathetic bystanders throughout the capital.

In Cairo, informed sources said United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser has offered to grant Ben Bella asylum. The sources said Algeria's new leaders insisted however, that the ousted president must face trial. The new regime informed Nasser that Ben Bella would not be executed, the informants added.

It was certain to plague Col. Houari Boumedienne, key figure in the revolutionary council now governing this country of 12 million Algerians.

Boumedienne and the revolutionary council had a good deal more than student disturbances as priority problems.

The council has the tough problem of the shaky future of the Asian-African summit conference, scheduled to open June 29. A foreign minister's preparatory meeting was slated for Thursday. Nobody knew for certain just what would happen to the conference.

Thirteen Asian-African countries of the British Commonwealth called for a postponement because of what they said was the political uncertainty in Algiers.

Red China, which has announced support of the new regime, wants the conference to go on as scheduled.

VFW's New Building Dedicated; City Praised

Lincoln was termed "a good veterans community" by Robert A. Lowe, national director of membership and extension for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, as he gave the dedicatory address for the new Department of Nebraska VFW headquarters building at 2726 No. 48th.

The dedication was part of the Monday program of the VFW convention, which included business sessions, a past commanders luncheon, and an afternoon parade.

Lowe said the building was the achievement of a long-time dream "for all of us," and said it was fitting that it should be in Lincoln.

Lowe noted that Lincoln VFW Post 131 is one of the 10 largest in the world and that there are other veterans facilities in the city, such as Veterans Hospital, and Veterans Administration regional offices.

In accepting the new building for the state department, Nebraska VFW Department Commander Roy G. Carveth of Lincoln said much of the credit should go to the adjutant quartermaster, Evert L. Shelbourn of Lincoln, who painted and cleaned the building.

William Schultz of the University Place Businessmen's Association welcomed the state department to University Place.

Tuesday events at the convention include a new and old district commanders breakfast, two business sessions and election of new chairman before adjournemt Tuesday afternoon.

The convention will act on resolutions and reports being prepared by state department committees, and has already passed unanimously 25 national resolutions dealing with Viet Nam, Cuba, the Dominican Republic and Americanism.

Newly elected or re-elected district commanders are: District One, C. W. Anthony, Chadron; two, James Shaw, Scottsbluff; three, Orlen Volquadsen, Norfolk; four, Scotty Engelman, North Platte; five, Allen Varney, Culbertson; six, James Pulston, Nebraska City; seven, Andrew Ludwig, Wisner; nine, Lloyd Wyant, Aurora; ten, Rolland Parrish, Omaha; 11, Ray Revel, O'Neill; 12, Leon Klanacky, Ord; 13, Howard Olson, Nelson; 14, Glen Hiles, Kearney; 15, Dean Tepley, Clarkson; 16, Ralph E. Pool, Hebron.

Elections will be held as part of the Tuesday women's auxiliary program, along with award presentations and officer installations.

Sophia Goldstein, national senior vice-president of the auxiliary, will address the group.

Peking Rejects Wilson Mission

Tokyo (AP)— Red China put Peking off limits Monday to the British Commonwealth's Viet Nam peace mission. A broadcast article of the official Peking People's Daily rejected the mission's proposed visit to the Communist Chinese capital.

Mao Tze-tung's regime previously had called the Commonwealth peace attempt a discredited hoax. So had the North Vietnamese government of Ho Chi Minh in Hanoi, another of the five capitals that Prime Minister Harold Wilson hoped the mission could visit.

The rest are Washington, Moscow and Saigon.

Wilson plans to head the mission.

High Official

The People's Daily article, relayed abroad by the New China News Agency, was signed "Observer." In Communist print, that means some high official of the Communist Party or the government or both. The article was titled "a clumsy move."

"China has already banged the door in Gordon Walker's face," it said referring to Peking's exclusion of a former British foreign secretary, Patrick C. Gordon Walker, on a Viet Nam peace mission in April.

"If the Wilson government wants to have another try with this 'mission' of his, all that awaits is another slamming of the door."

'LBJ's Errand Boy'

The article said the new project, voted over some Asian and African objections at a conference of Commonwealth prime ministers in London, is "a continuation of Britain's consistent effort to serve as errand boy to the United States and peddle (President) Johnson's peace talks hoax."

"The only difference this time is that Wilson's formula is being served up on a platter marked 'British Commonwealth'," the article said.

"Wilson seems to think that the British Commonwealth label will make his formula 'difficult to refuse.' This is fantastic."

Conchita and three San Sebastian girls have said they have had other heavenly visitations.

Arkansas River Five Miles Wide

Kinsley, Kan. (AP)—Thousands of Kansans were homeless Monday and thousands more prepared to flee from the path of the rampaging Arkansas River—a five-mile-wide, 75-mile-long torrent moving across the state.

Heavy rainfall occurred in scattered parts of the flood region Monday night. Jetmore, north of Dodge City, got 3.75 inches of rain in two hours, and 1.65 fell at Rozel, west of Larned. That area drains into Pawnee Creek, which meets the Arkansas River at Larned.

Flood waters continued to recede at Dodge City.

The leading edge of the river crest—termed the highest ever on the Arkansas by the U.S. Weather Bureau—passed through this Edwards County seat at midmorning. It was expected in Larned, Kan., by midnight and at Great Bend Tuesday.

Third Of Town

About 800 persons—one-third of this town—were evacuated and more than 500 were being moved at Larned. Great Bend officials planned to move 3,000 persons—20% of the population—from the flood's path.

The hospital at Kinsley was evacuated, with patients being sent to a nursing home, private residences and to the hospital at Spearville, 20 miles upstream.

The flood was born of heavy rain and broken dams in Colorado last week where damage estimates soared into the high millions of dollars—$44 million at Denver alone.

Inundating, Killing

It moved into western Kansas last week, inundating roads and bridges, houses and businesses and causing at least two deaths.

The death toll in Colorado has reached 16 persons.

The damage to ripening fields of wheat—the state's principal crop—was expected to be high. Some effort was being made in middle Kansas to harvest wheat in the path of the rising water.

From Great Bend the river turns southeastward toward Hutchinson, Wichita and Arkansas City. A crest of five to six feet above flood level is forecast for Hutchinson by Thursday, but levees are expected to hold down damage.

A bypass canal is expected to handle the high water around Wichita, and no flooding is forecast. Levees also protect much of Arkansas City, the Weather Bureau says.

Tax Takes Marilyn's Bequests

New York (AP)—Actress Marilyn Monroe's estate, far from providing $1 million in bequests for her friends, was reported Monday to have been devoured by taxes.

The New York Post said, "The heirs to her estate are being formally notified that their legacies will be completely devoured by federal income, state and estate taxes, and that there will be no significant amount for any beneficiary."

The newspaper, in an article by columnist Earl Wilson, added that it now appears there will be no money to provide $5,000 a year for the care of Marilyn's mentally ill mother, Gladys Eley, 63. The older women is a patient in a Verduga Hills, Calif., sanitarium.

Miss Monroe, 36, was found dead of an overdose of sleeping pills Aug. 5, 1962, in her California home. Her death was ruled probable suicide.

At the time, there were reports she had died broke. But with the admission to probate of her will, dated Jan. 14, 1961, her estate was estimated at $1 million.

JOHNSON SIGNS EXCISE CUT

Washington (AP) — President Johnson signed a $4.7-billion tax cut bill Monday on what he called "a bright day for all Americans." And he let it be known he is thinking of a further tax reduction for people who "now live in the shadow of poverty."

That cut is in the vague future when there again is an opportunity for tax revision.

But for millions of American buyers more billions in pocket money will be available starting midnight Monday through slashes and repeal of excise taxes which are expected to reduce prices and stimulate buying.

Johnson put his signature on the tax measure with dozens of pens in a ceremony in the White House east room to which he invited Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, cabinet members, and leading members of Congress of both parties.

Buying Public

He let it be known that he expects the tax cuts to be passed on to the buying public.

Already merchants are busy taking stock and making out records that will let them claim refunds for taxes already paid for goods on their shelves.

Some of the tax cuts will be in stages—those on cars and telephone calls will go on until Jan. 1, 1969.

The tax on cars will come down from 10 to 7%. At the same time, the entire 10% tax on jewelry, retail sales of toiletries, cosmetics, luggage, leather goods and furs will be lifted.

Manufacturer Taxes

In addition, excise taxes paid by the manufacturer—that have been passed on to the consumers—will be repealed on radio, TV and phonograph sets, refrigerators, freezers and all gas and electric home appliances, cameras, film, sporting good, musical instruments, playing cards, matches, fountain and ballpoint pens, air conditioners and business machines.

The initial cut in the tax on new cars and the repeal of excises on air conditioners are retroactive to May 15. Persons who bought cars since then will get an average rebate of about $70.

On Jan. 1, the tax on cars will drop one more point and the tax on phone calls will go down from 10 to 3%. Also at the first of the year the excise taxes on movie and theater tickets, tickets to races and athletic events, and on cabaret and night club bills will be repealed.

Killers Of Seven Hanged In Kansas

Lansing, Kan. (AP) — Two young killers who once boasted they did their victims a favor "by putting them out of their miseries in this rat race" were hanged early Tuesday in the second double execution at the Kansas Penitentiary in two months.

James Douglas Latham, 23, and George Ronald York, 22, died for one of seven slayings they committed as teen-agers in a ruthless cross-country swing in 1961.

Their last hope to escape the gallows faded Monday when Gov. William H. Avery of Kansas refused them executive clemency. The governor said he had come to the conclusion that "the judgment of the courts should not be disturbed."

York, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Latham, of Mauriceville, Tex., were convicted of killing Otto Ziegler, 62-year-old Oakley, Kan., railroad worker, near Wallace, Kan., June 9, 1961. They were not tried for the deaths of six other persons in Florida, Tennessee, Illinois and Colorado.

The motive in each case was robbery, but the youths in statements after their capture expressed a hatred of society. Tattooed on Latham's arm were the words, "I hate the world."

Warehouse

The executions took place in the same prison warehouse where ex-convicts Perry Edward Smith and Richard Eugene Hickock ware hanged April 14 for the 1959 slayings of four members of the Herbert Clutter farm family near Holcomb, Kan.

Crouse said York and Latham, Army deserters, ordered big last meals.

York, he said, asked for oyster stew and crackers, lettuce and tomato salad with mayonnaise, chocolate milk, French-fried shrimp, barbecued chicken, fried okra, corn on the cob, fresh peas, French-fried potatoes, deviled eggs, fresh strawberries with whipped cream, soft drink and sweet rolls.

Latham requested chicken noodle soup with crackers, lettuce and tomato salad with mayonnaise, two fried quail, two cans of Vienna sausage, cheddar cheese, fried okra, black-eyed peas, French-fried potatoes, deviled eggs, chocolate cake and chocolate eclairs, chocolate milk, soft drink and sweet rolls.

Escaped Stockade

The two youths took off on their robbery-killing spree after escaping from the Army stockade at Ft. Hood, Tex., May 24, 1961.

Their first crime was the robbery-beating of Edward J. Guidroz, 43, at Baton Rouge, La. Three days later Guidroz was left for dead, but survived.

"We thought as long as we killed one, we might as well keep on," York said later.

In statements they gave officers, they listed the following killings:

May 29—Mrs. Althea Ottavio, 43, and Mrs. Patricia Anne Hewitt, 25, both of Valdosta, Ga., strangled while vacationing near Jacksonville, Fla.

June 7—John A. Whitaker, 71, a railroad porter, shot at Tullahoma, Tenn.

June 8—Albert E. Reed, 35, railroad lineman of Litchfield, Ill., shot and robbed of a pistol and his car. Martin Drenovac, 69, operator of a service station at Granite City, Ill., beaten to death.

June 9—Ziegler shot.

June 10 — Rachel Marian Moyer, 18, maid at a resort hotel, shot near Craig, Colo.

York and Latham were captured near Grantsville, Utah, June 10, 1961.

Mayor Claims Reds Behind Cyclists' Rioting

Laconia, N.H. (UPI)—Mayor Peter Lessard charged Monday that weekend rioting among motorcycle race enthusiasts was Communist-inspired.

Lessard, a 28-year-old Republican elected earlier this year, said he had "reliable reports" that instigators of the Saturday night riot were Communist-trained "riot mongers."

He said he would ask the FBI to investigate.

A spokesman for Gov. John W. King said the governor had no evidence to support Lessard's charge.

More than 80 persons were injured and scores were arrested in a four-hour battle between shotgun-firing police and National Guardsmen and leather-jacketed cyclists.

Trained For Riots

Lessard said he had information that at least seven members of the notorious California motorcycle band, the Hell's Angels, had been in Mexico "for special training on how to start riots."

State Police Col. Joseph L. Regan said members of the Hell's Angels triggered Saturday night's riot. Four alleged members of the outlaw band were arrested during the melee.

Twenty-nine suspects accused of taking part in the rioting pleaded innocent Monday when arraigned under New Hampshire's new "get-tough" antiriot law.

The new riot control act, rushed through the New Hampshire legislature last week, provides for fines up to $500 and a maximum of one year in jail for those convicted of being rioters.

The law also provides for fines up to $1,000 and three-year jail terms for anyone convicted of causing personal injury or property damage during a riot. The old fine was only $25.

Vatican City (AP)— Pope Paul VI spent quietly the second anniversary of his elevation to the pontificate. As usual he said mass early in the morning in his private chapel and then went to work in his studio.

Committee Rejects Veto Over Bases

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Armed Services Committee Monday rejected a House-approved plan to give Congress veto power over presidential orders closing military bases.

The vote was 10 to 3.

House members wrote the veto provision into their $1.9 billion version of the annual military construction bill.

The Senate approved a $1.7 billion construction bill, but rejected the provision which would allow either the House or the Senate to block a base closing.

Strongly opposed by the administration, the veto proviso could have a heavy impact on many of the 669 shutdowns and reductions ordered by the Defense Department in the last four years.

Teachers Strike

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP) —A 24-hour teachers strike to protest tardy payments of wages closed Argentine public schools. The teachers claim the government still owes them their April salaries and in many cases several months of back pay.

Know the facts about
before you buy

Every air conditioner uses electricity to power its control devices and fan motor. Most air conditioners also use electricity to power the cooling system. By contrast, fuel-burning air conditioners must use electricity plus a second fuel.

Why pay TWO utility bills for air conditioning? One will do!

WHICH ONE IS SIMPLER? Electric air conditioners have the same kind of cooling system found in a refrigerator or home freezer. You know it's simple enough to be efficient, practical, and remarkably trouble-free.

WHICH ONE COSTS LESS? We invite you to get comparative bids from the dealers or contractors of your choice. You will find that electric air conditioning costs far less to buy than the fuel-burning type and, in most cases, costs less to install. This is true with central air conditioning, as well as window units.

WHAT ABOUT "QUALITY"? The quality of air conditioning equipment is determined by the standards of the manufacturer, not by the fuel line to which it is connected. We suggest that you shop for equipment from known manufacturers and from known, reputable dealers. Their warrantees, guarantees, and business reputation are your best assurance of quality.

With electric air conditioning you pay for only one fuel.
How could it be cheaper to pay for two?

CONTACT YOUR LOCAL CONSUMERS OFFICE. A qualified specialist can help you determine the size and kind of electric air conditioning equipment that will be most practical in your home. Take advantage of this free service from Consumers.

State Police Col. Joseph L. Regan said members of the Hell's Angels triggered Saturday night's riot. Four alleged members of the outlaw band were arrested during the melee.

Twenty-nine suspects accused of taking part in the rioting pleaded innocent Monday when arraigned under New Hampshire's new "get-tough" antiriot law.

The new riot control act, rushed through the New Hampshire legislature last week, provides for fines up to $500 and a maximum of one year in jail for those convicted of being rioters.

The law also provides for fines up to $1,000 and three-year jail terms for anyone convicted of causing personal injury or property damage during a riot. The old fine was only $25.

Vatican City (AP)— Pope Paul VI spent quietly the second anniversary of his elevation to the pontificate. As usual he said mass early in the morning in his private chapel and then went to work in his studio.

Committee Rejects Veto Over Bases

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Armed Services Committee Monday rejected a House-approved plan to give Congress veto power over presidential orders closing military bases.

The vote was 10 to 3.

House members wrote the veto provision into their $1.9 billion version of the annual military construction bill.

The Senate approved a $1.7 billion construction bill, but rejected the provision which would allow either the House or the Senate to block a base closing.

Strongly opposed by the administration, the veto proviso could have a heavy impact on many of the 669 shutdowns and reductions ordered by the Defense Department in the last four years.

Teachers Strike

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP)—A 24-hour teachers strike to protest tardy payments of wages closed Argentine public schools. The teachers claim the government still owes them their April salaries and in many cases several months of back pay.

Arkansas River Five Miles Wide

Kinsley, Kan. (AP)—Thousands of Kansans were homeless Monday and thousands more prepared to flee from the path of the rampaging Arkansas River—a five-mile-wide, 75-mile-long torrent moving across the state.

Heavy rainfall occurred in scattered parts of the flood region Monday night. Jetmore, north of Dodge City, got 3.75 inches of rain in two hours, and 1.65 fell at Rozel, west of Larned. That area drains into Pawnee Creek, which meets the Arkansas River at Larned.

Flood waters continued to recede at Dodge City.

The leading edge of the river crest—termed the highest ever on the Arkansas by the U.S. Weather Bureau—passed through this Edwards County seat at midmorning. It was expected in Larned, Kan., by midnight and at Great Bend Tuesday.

Third Of Town

About 800 persons—one-third of this town—were evacuated and more than 500 were being moved at Larned. Great Bend officials planned to move 3,000 persons—20% of the population—from the flood's path.

The hospital at Kinsley was evacuated, with patients being sent to a nursing home, private residences and to the hospital at Spearville, 20 miles upstream.

The flood was born of heavy rain and broken dams in Colorado last week where damage estimates soared into the high millions of dollars—$44 million at Denver alone.

Inundating, Killing

It moved into western Kansas last week, inundating roads and bridges, houses and businesses and causing at least two deaths.

The death toll in Colorado has reached 16 persons.

The damage to ripening fields of wheat—the state's principal crop—was expected to be high. Some effort was being made in middle Kansas to harvest wheat in the path of the rising water.

From Great Bend the river turns southeastward toward Hutchinson, Wichita and Arkansas City. A crest of five to six feet above flood level is forecast for Hutchinson by Thursday, but levees are expected to hold down damage.

A bypass canal is expected to handle the high water around Wichita, and no flooding is forecast. Levees also protect much of Arkansas City, the Weather Bureau says.

Tax Takes Marilyn's Bequests

New York (AP)—Actress Marilyn Monroe's estate, far from providing $1 million in bequests for her friends, was reported Monday to have been devoured by taxes.

The New York Post said, "The heirs to her estate are being formally notified that their legacies will be completely devoured by federal income, state and estate taxes, and that there will be no significant amount for any beneficiary."

The newspaper, in an article by columnist Earl Wilson, added that it now appears there will be no money to provide $5,000 a year for the care of Marilyn's mentally ill mother, Gladys Eley, 63. The older women is a patient in a Verduga Hills, Calif., sanitarium.

Miss Monroe, 36, was found dead of an overdose of sleeping pills Aug. 5, 1962, in her California home. Her death was ruled probable suicide.

At the time, there were reports she had died broke. But with the admission to probate of her will, dated Jan. 14, 1961, her estate was estimated at $1 million.

Know the facts about
before you buy

Every air conditioner uses electricity to power its control devices and fan motor. Most air conditioners also use electricity to power the cooling system. By contrast, fuel-burning air conditioners must use electricity plus a second fuel.

Why pay TWO utility bills for air conditioning?
One will do!

WHICH ONE IS SIMPLER? Electric air conditioners have the same kind of cooling system found in a refrigerator or home freezer. You know it's simple enough to be efficient, practical, and remarkably trouble-free.

WHICH ONE COSTS LESS? We invite you to get comparative bids from the dealers or contractors of your choice. You will find that electric air conditioning costs far less to buy than the fuel-burning type and, in most cases, costs less to install. This is true with central air conditioning, as well as window units.

WHAT ABOUT "QUALITY"? The quality of air conditioning equipment is determined by the standards of the manufacturer, not by the fuel line to which it is connected. We suggest that you shop for equipment from known manufacturers and from known, reputable dealers. Their warrantees, guarantees, and business reputation are your best assurance of quality.

With electric air conditioning you pay for only one fuel.
How could it be cheaper to pay for two?

CONTACT YOUR LOCAL CONSUMERS OFFICE. A qualified specialist can help you determine the size and kind of electric air conditioning equipment that will be most practical in your home. Take advantage of this free service from Consumers.

Crops Delayed By Cool Temps

. . . Half Wheat Fields Turning

Cool weather slowed the development of crops and also delayed drying of fields during the past week, the State-Federal Bureau of Agricultural Statistics said in the weekly crop-weather report Monday.

Considerable replanting of corn and sorghum took place and cultivation of all row crops was under way where fields were dry enough to till.

The bureau said practically all of the sorghum has now been planted, but there is still some acreage of soybeans to go in the ground.

Other comments:

Maturity of winter wheat was slowed and harvest is not expected to get under way until near the close of the month. Practically all of the crop is headed across the state and well over half of the crop is turning. Heads are filling well and test weights should run high. Some red leaf rust and black stem rust have been reported, particularly in the southeast area and along the counties bordering Kansas.

Weather conditions have been quite favorable for oats and barley. Both crops are headed and harvest will start soon after the completion of wheat harvest.

Wet fields and intermittent rains slowed the harvest of alfalfa and a considerable loss of both tonnage and quality of the first cutting has occurred because of wet weather. About 80% of the first cutting had been harvested and the second cutting is off to a good start under favorable conditions. Wild hay prospects have improved, but warm weather is needed to promote the development of native grasses.

Crops in the upper Platte Valley such as sugar beets, dry beans and potatoes are making good progress with plenty of soil moisture, but need warm, dry weather for better plant growth.

$5,000 Bond Set For Man In Check Case

A man arrested Saturday in connection with a bogus check operation, William D. Marshall. 26, was charged Monday with writing a $1,109 insufficient fund check.

Marshall was arraigned in County Court and a preliminary hearing was scheduled for June 30. Bond was set at $5,000 by County Judge Ralph Slocum.

The check on which Marshall was specifically charged was made out to Gold's of Nebraska and was used to buy a television set. It was drawn on the Union Bank and Trust Co.

On Sunday, police took from Marshall's rented house at 4920 Ginny up to $10,000 worth of merchandise which police said was purchased with bad checks.

Lincoln police also hold an Iowa warrant seeking Marshall and his 16-year-old companion, on a check charge at Des Moines and Detective Merl Hesser earlier said that the two are also wanted for bad checks in Texas, California. Colorado, Georgia and Alabama.

The boy, who police say has been traveling with Marshall for two years, was referred to juvenile authorities, according to the county attorney's office.

Martin Stresses Importance Of Sales Manpower

The human element—sales manpower—remains an enormous facet of marketing and merchandising today, regardless of the quality of the product or the nature of the business, feedmen from several states were told here Monday.

Verne L. Martin, retired vice president and general sales manager of the Maytag Manufacturing Co., Newton, Ia., addressed feed industry representatives attending a "Men and Management" conference at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

"A good product is important and essential, but unless it is sold, nothing else matters," Martin declared. He warned business heads attending the conference sponsored by the Midwest Feed Manufacturer's Association that "competition moves in and hurts you in your weakest spot—your corps of salesmen."

Martin said "hiring a poor salesman puts a firm in double jeopardy . . . the cost of training an employee, even before he goes out to sell, is exorbitant, and that isn't the worst of it. If the man was not capable, the real cost was the loss of sales volume suffered by having him on the job."

Many business executives hang on to a poor man too long after he ought to be fired, Martin commented, because they chose him and are reluctant to confirm that their judgment was bad.

New Liquor Policy OKd At Beatrice

Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice — By a 5-4 vote which reversed an earlier decision, the City Council Monday night compromised on a highly controversial liquor license policy of 27 years' standing.

With Mayor W. W. Sook Sr. breaking a 4-4 tie, the showdown came at a special session which saw practically all the town's present eight licensees protesting a ninth package liquor store approved a month ago. The application from Elmer Kasper and Francis Moles, had been the first okayed since a limit of eight was imposed by the 1938 council.

Replacing the old resolution is a flexible policy based upon population — but which maintains the status quo at least until 1970. The endorsed plan of Councilman Eldon Gerdes will leave the total at eight, but after each ten-year census a new license could be granted for every 1,500 persons gained in population.

The Kasper-Moles application had gained 4-3 approval originally and is to be heard June 28th before the State Liquor Commission. Gerdes' motion included instructions for the city attorney to formally oppose the license.

Absent on the first count May 24, Robert LaCroix forced the mayor's decision by siding with Gerdes, Millard Henderson, and Rex Lutz. Against the new policy were Ray Elwood. William Waddell, Paul Kollekowski and Harry Milke.

Urging continued controls rather than a discussed "wide open policy." the liquor dealers had suggested basing the number of licenses on sales. After explaining that the town's six bottle clubs had cut retail sales 624 cases between 1963 and 1964, they proposed that a new license be permitted whenever retail business increased an average 800 cases over a three-year period.

The licensees argued that as controlled businesses they should be entitled to protection from unlimited competition. Some councilmen countered that their risks should be the same as other operations, and that the rigid policy inflated license values.

Practically, the policy is not binding upon any future council, but could influence decisions as did the former one. Also, the Liquor Commission has the final authority on applications and still could approve that of Kasper and Moles.

Crutch Fails To Discourage Havlovic's Gardening Efforts

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Wilber — It takes courage and more for a man to garden from a crutch.

His Highway 82 neighbors are used to the sight, but it pulled this reporter to a camera-grabbing halt. Here was despair's wedding of blight, indeed its seeding of hope.

"Any fellow with a hoe in one hand and crutch in the other deserves to have his picture taken," this intruder decided.

It develops that there'd be a better subject nowhere to illustrate man's love of soil. Until arthritis separated them four years ago, Frank Havlovic and his Blue River farm had been as close as root and sod for six decades.

Even as a boy he had scampered down its slopes, tried its trees, caught its catfish. No wonder at age 73 that his reflections approached the poetic·

"I never knew anything but that old mother earth. Always I hated to think of the spring work, and then would coome the baby pigs and little chickens and all. I'd go to the field and oh, how I'd love it!"

A freezer-size patch now replaces the great garden which had produced up to 250 bushels of sweet potatoes alone for Frank and sister Anna. The variety of vegeables—tomatoes and cucumbers were especially luscious—brought buyers from every town around.

"Everybody knew about the watermelons, but I don't believe we ever had a single one stolen," agreed the two town retirees. "Maybe that's because the kids knew we'd give them the biggest ones to take home anyway."

The brother and sister still visit their farm, but less often now. Blame it on the tiny town garden.

It takes so much longer to hoe from a crutch.

Family Dinner Marks 60th Wedding Anniversary For David City Couple

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

David City — Tuesday marks sixty years of marriage for the R. W. Zeilingers.

The kindly couple celebrated quietly with a family dinner here Sunday because "we didn't want to make any big affair of it."

At 92, Zeilinger is now nearly retired from the hardware business he's been associated with since 1893.

His wife, 88, helps him around the house as "we play around here cutting some of the weeds."

Zeilinger's father was a Civil War veteran who "came west to get a free homestead."

"They came across the Platte on a ferry and took a homestead out on Deer Creek," said the tall, slim businessman. "There wasn't any David City then or when I was born."

After several years on the farm and two years at the University of Nebraska, Zeilinger went into the hardware business with his brother.

The downtown store is still in the family, now being operated by a widowed daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard C. Zeilinger.

The Butler County pioneer went to Wahoo to marry his bride in 1905 and "brought her back to this very house."

The quiet Sunday anniversary commemoration included a son, District Judge and Mrs. John D. Zeilinger and two of their sons from York, and a daughter, Mrs. Ray Sabata, Mr. Sabata and their two children of David City.

"We've been very happy," said Zeilinger, "but there's been nothing outstanding in our married life."

Nothing, that is, except that it's already carried on for 60 years.

North Platte Site Suggested For Ag Weather Station

Washington (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., in testimony before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, said Nebraska needs a weather station geared to the needs of the producers of agricultural products. He suggested North Platte for such a station.

Curtis said more detailed weather forecasting and a more adequate communications network for weather forecasts are imperative for Nebraska and neighboring states.

"The need for this service is now if we are to prevent the loss of life and property in the great plains," he said.

He said Nebraska experienced 25 tornadoes within a recent 24-hour period. The tracking of such tornadoes would be expedited by more adequate weather bureau forecasts and loss of life would be reduced, he said.

North Platte would be an excellent site for the agricultural weather service, he said, because there is a weather station there now as well as an agricultural experiment station.

Abboud Files Damage Suit

. . . Against Coleman

Omaha (AP)—Ronald J. Abboud, Omaha real estate man, filed a one-million-dollar damage suit in federal district court Monday against John B Coleman, Chicago real estate developer, key figure in a rezoning case in which Abboud and four others were indicted for bribery

In his petition Abboud alleged that he had "never paid nor offered to pay to any person, public official or otherwise, any bribe or illegal inducement, nor did plaintiff accept or offer to accept from defendant any monies or other thing of value for any illegal or improper purpose."

He alleged Coleman had sought him out as a skilled real estate man and asked him to assist in the development of a housing project and that he acted in good faith throughout.

A District Court grand jury indicted Abboud, former Mayor James J. Dworak, former councilmen Ernest A. Adams and Steve Novak and former city Planning Board member C. R. Buttner. The indictments accused the five of taking bribes to clear the way for Coleman's development. All have denied any wrongdoing.

Accident Claims Course Manager

Bridgeport (AP)—Carl R. Christensen, 59, Bridgeport golf course manager, died Sunday evening at a Denver hospital from injuries received in an accident June 6 in Alliance

He was a passenger in a panel truck driven by Tom D. Edwards, 63, also of Bridgeport, which struck the side of a large moving van at an Alliance intersection. After striking the van, the panel truck smashed against a tree a block away. The driver, Edwards, and another passenger, R. D. (Dale) Millhollin, 53, Bridgeport, were injured. The three men were en route to a golf tournament at Gordon at the time of the accident.

Agricultural Progress Show Slated For 1967

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Something unique in agricultural events is being planned for the Nebraska Centennial

An Agricultural Progress Show that would utilize the revolving stages representing Nebraska's national and world high ranking leadership in ranching, farming, irrigation, feeding, hay production, meat packing, and other fields of livestock and crop production has been suggested for the state's big event in 1967

The proposal which has been suggested by the Nebraska Centennial World's Fair in Agriculture Committee under the leadership of veteran fair secretary Edwin Schultz would headline the statewide show with the National Corn Picking Contest, National Grasslands Show, National County Extension Agents Conference, and a 23 state Regional 4-H Tractor Driving Contest

To tell the world how Nebraska represents a near unchallenged position in varied agricultural industries, the committee has suggested that regional agricultural events based on the area's chief agricultural production be held as a program for the year long show.

"It would provide a revolving stage demonstrating the superiority of Nebraska agriculture, and a show that possibly no other state or governmental body in the world could match with home produced actors and products," said Schultz.

Tribute for the program originates with the Nebraska Future Farmers of America Chapters who in their recent annual convention suggested that Nebraska stage a World's Fair in Agriculture for the Centennial, said Schultz

Suggested as occupying an important part of the mammoth agricultural show would be a National Agricultural Youth Camp

Participants in the camp would include two youths appointed by the governors of each state with the possibility of foreign agricultural youth representatives joining in paying tribute to the progress in agricultrue.

It has been suggested that the Youth Camp become an annual affair in Nebraska, said Don Shriner, director of the Nebraska Centennial Commission.

Four Nebraskans Graduated From College For Deaf

State Education Commissioner Floyd Miller reported Monday that four Nebraskans have received degrees from the Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C., the world's only college for the deaf.

They are Gary Olsen of Grand Island, Donna Smith of Lincoln, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reitz Jr., formerly of Gering.

All are graduates of the Nebraska School for the deaf in Omaha.

Olsen received a degree in history and plans to do graduate work for his master's degree at Gallaudet College.

Miss Smith, who received a degree in library science, will seek employment as a librarian in a public school or school for the deaf

Mrs. Reitz, the former Patty Ann Davison of Ogallala, received a degree in library science. Her husband received a degree in physical education.

The check on which Marshall was specifically charged was made out to Gold's of Nebraska and was used to buy a television set. It was drawn on the Union Bank and Trust Co.

On Sunday, police took from Marshall's rented house at 4920 Ginny up to $10,000 worth of merchandise which police said was purchased with bad checks.

Lincoln police also hold an Iowa warrant seeking Marshall and his 16-year-old companion, on a check charge at Des Moines and Detective Merl Hesser earlier said that the two are also wanted for bad checks in Texas, California, Colorado, Georgia and Alabama.

The boy, who police say has been traveling with Marshall for two years, was referred to juvenile authorities, according to the county attorney's office.

Martin Stresses Importance Of Sales Manpower

The human element—sales manpower—remains an enormous facet of marketing and merchandising today, regardless of the quality of the product or the nature of the business, feedmen from several states were told here Monday.

Verne L. Martin, retired vice president and general sales manager of the Maytag Manufacturing Co., Newton, Ia., addressed feed industry representatives attending a "Men and Management" conference at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

"A good product is important and essential, but unless it is sold, nothing else matters," Martin declared. He warned business heads attending the conference sponsored by the Midwest Feed Manufacturer's Association that "competition moves in and hurts you in your weakest spot—your corps of salesmen."

Martin said "hiring a poor salesman puts a firm in double jeopardy . . . the cost of training an employee, even before he goes out to sell, is exorbitant, and that isn't the worst of it. If the man was not capable, the real cost was the loss of sales volume suffered by having him on the job."

Many business executives hang on to a poor man too long after he ought to be fired, Martin commented, because they chose him and are reluctant to confirm that their judgment was bad.

New Liquor Policy OKd At Beatrice

Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice — By a 5-4 vote which reversed an earlier decision, the City Council Monday night compromised on a highly controversial liquor license policy of 27 years' standing.

With Mayor W. W. Sook Sr. breaking a 4-4 tie, the showdown came at a special session which saw practically all the town's present eight licensees protesting a ninth package liquor store approved a month ago. The application from Elmer Kasper and Francis Moles, had been the first okayed since a limit of eight was imposed by the 1938 council.

Replacing the old resolution is a flexible policy based upon population — but which maintains the status quo at least until 1970. The endorsed plan of Councilman Eldon Gerdes will leave the total at eight, but after each ten-year census a new license could be granted for every 1,500 persons gained in population.

The Kasper-Moles application had gained 4-3 approval originally and is to be heard June 28th before the State Liquor Commission. Gerdes' motion included instructions for the city attorney to formally oppose the license.

Absent on the first count May 24, Robert LaCroix forced the mayor's decision by siding with Gerdes, Millard Henderson, and Rex Lutz. Against the new policy were Ray Elwood, William Waddell, Paul Kollekowski and Harry Milke.

Urging continued controls rather than a discussed "wide open policy," the liquor dealers had suggested basing the number of licenses on sales. After explaining that the town's six bottle clubs had cut retail sales 624 cases between 1963 and 1964, they proposed that a new license be permitted whenever retail business increased an average 800 cases over a three-year period.

The licensees argued that as controlled businesses they should be entitled to protection from unlimited competition. Some councilmen countered that their risks should be the same as other operations, and that the rigid policy inflated license values.

Practically, the policy is not binding upon any future council, but could influence decisions as did the former one. Also, the Liquor Commission has the final authority on applications and still could approve that of Kasper and Moles.

Family Dinner Marks 60th Wedding Anniversary For David City Couple

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

David City — Tuesday marks sixty years of marriage for the R. W. Zeilingers.

The kindly couple celebrated quietly with a family dinner here Sunday because "we didn't want to make any big affair of it."

At 92, Zeilinger is now nearly retired from the hardware business he's been associated with since 1893.

His wife, 88, helps him around the house as "we play around here cutting some of the weeds."

Zeilinger's father was a Civil War veteran who "came west to get a free homestead."

"They came across the Platte on a ferry and took a homestead out on Deer Creek," said the tall, slim businessman. "There wasn't any David City then or when I was born."

After several years on the farm and two years at the University of Nebraska, Zeilinger went into the hardware business with his brother.

The downtown store is still in the family, now being operated by a widowed daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard C. Zeilinger.

The Butler County pioneer went to Wahoo to marry his bride in 1905 and "brought her back to this very house."

The quiet Sunday anniversary commemoration included a son, District Judge and Mrs. John D. Zeilinger and two of their sons from York, and a daughter, Mrs. Ray Sabata, Mr. Sabata and their two children of David City.

"We've been very happy," said Zeilinger, "but there's been nothing outstanding in our married life."

Nothing, that is, except that it's already carried on for 60 years.

Havlovic, 73 . . . retains love for soil.

Crutch Fails To Discourage Havlovic's Gardening Efforts

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Wilber — It takes courage and more for a man to garden from a crutch.

His Highway 82 neighbors are used to the sight, but it pulled this reporter to a camera-grabbing halt. Here was despair's wedding of blight, indeed its seeding of hope.

"Any fellow with a hoe in one hand and crutch in the other deserves to have his picture taken," this intruder decided.

It develops that there'd be a better subject nowhere to illustrate man's love of soil. Until arthritis separated them four years ago, Frank Havlovic and his Blue River farm had been as close as root and sod for six decades.

Even as a boy he had scampered down its slopes, tried its trees, caught its catfish. No wonder at age 73 that his reflections approached the poetic:

"I never knew anything but that old mother earth. Always I hated to think of the spring work, and then would coome the baby pigs and little chickens and all. I'd go to the field and oh, how I'd love it!"

A freezer-size patch now replaces the great garden which had produced up to 250 bushels of sweet potatoes alone for Frank and sister Anna. The variety of vegeables—tomatoes and cucumbers were especially luscious—brought buyers from every town around.

"Everybody knew about the watermelons, but I don't believe we ever had a single one stolen," agreed the two town retirees. "Maybe that's because the kids knew we'd give them the biggest ones to take home anyway."

The brother and sister still visit their farm, but less often now. Blame it on the tiny town garden.

It takes so much longer to hoe from a crutch.

North Platte Site Suggested For Ag Weather Station

Washington (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., in testimony before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, said Nebraska needs a weather station geared to the needs of the producers of agricultural products. He suggested North Platte for such a station.

Curtis said more detailed weather forecasting and a more adequate communications network for weather forecasts are imperative for Nebraska and neighboring states.

"The need for this service is now if we are to prevent the loss of life and property in the great plains," he said.

He said Nebraska experienced 25 tornadoes within a recent 24-hour period. The tracking of such tornadoes would be expedited by more adequate weather bureau forecasts and loss of life would be reduced, he said.

North Platte would be an excellent site for the agricultural weather service, he said, because there is a weather station there now as well as an agricultural experiment station.

Abboud Files Damage Suit

. . . Against Coleman

Omaha (AP)—Ronald J. Abboud, Omaha real estate man, filed a one-million-dollar damage suit in federal district court Monday against John B. Coleman, Chicago real estate developer, key figure in a rezoning case in which Abboud and four others were indicted for bribery.

In his petition Abboud alleged that he had "never paid nor offered to pay to any person, public official or otherwise, any bribe or illegal inducement, nor did plaintiff accept or offer to accept from defendant any monies or other thing of value for any illegal or improper purpose."

He alleged Coleman had sought him out as a skilled real estate man and asked him to assist in the development of a housing project and that he acted in good faith throughout.

A District Court grand jury indicted Abboud, former Mayor James J. Dworak, former councilmen Ernest A. Adams and Steve Novak and former city Planning Board member C. R. Buttner. The indictments accused the five of taking bribes to clear the way for Coleman's development. All have denied any wrongdoing.

Accident Claims Course Manager

Bridgeport (AP)—Carl R. Christensen, 59, Bridgeport golf course manager, died Sunday evening at a Denver hospital from injuries received in an accident June 6 in Alliance.

He was a passenger in a panel truck driven by Tom D. Edwards, 63, also of Bridgeport, which struck the side of a large moving van at an Alliance intersection. After striking the van, the panel truck smashed against a tree a block away. The driver, Edwards, and another passenger, R. D. (Dale) Millhollin, 53, Bridgeport, were injured. The three men were en route to a golf tournament at Gordon at the time of the accident.

Agricultural Progress Show Slated For 1967

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Something unique in agricultural events is being planned for the Nebraska Centennial.

An Agricultural Progress Show that would utilize the revolving stages representing Nebraska's national and world high ranking leadership in ranching, farming, irrigation, feeding, hay production, meat packing, and other fields of livestock and crop production has been suggested for the state's big event in 1967.

The proposal which has been suggested by the Nebraska Centennial World's Fair in Agriculture Committee under the leadership of veteran fair secretary Edwin Schultz would headline the statewide show with the National Corn Picking Contest, National Grasslands Show, National County Extension Agents Conference, and a 23 state Regional 4-H Tractor Driving Contest.

To tell the world how Nebraska represents a near unchallenged position in varied agricultural industries, the committee has suggested that regional agricultural events based on the area's chief agricultural production be held as a program for the year long show.

"It would provide a revolving stage demonstrating the superiority of Nebraska agriculture, and a show that possibly no other state or governmental body in the world could match with home produced actors and products," said Schultz.

Tribute for the program originates with the Nebraska Future Farmers of America Chapters who in their recent annual convention suggested that Nebraska stage a World's Fair in Agriculture for the Centennial, said Schultz.

Suggested as occupying an important part of the mammoth agricultural show would be a National Agricultural Youth Camp.

Participants in the camp would include two youths appointed by the governors of each state with the possibility of foreign agricultural youth representatives joining in paying tribute to the progress in agricultrue.

It has been suggested that the Youth Camp become an annual affair in Nebraska, said Don Shriner, director of the Nebraska Centennial Commission.

Four Nebraskans Graduated From College For Deaf

State Education Commissioner Floyd Miller reported Monday that four Nebraskans have received degrees from the Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C., the world's only college for the deaf.

They are Gary Olsen of Grand Island, Donna Smith of Lincoln, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reitz Jr., formerly of Gering.

All are graduates of the Nebraska School for the deaf in Omaha.

Olsen received a degree in history and plans to do graduate work for his master's degree at Gallaudet College.

Miss Smith, who received a degree in library science, will seek employment as a librarian in a public school or school for the deaf.

Mrs. Reitz, the former Patty Ann Davison of Ogallala, received a degree in library science. Her husband received a degree in physical education.

Progress In The State

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Perhaps many people do not realize it, but they might well have been saved millions of dollars in recent days. It all depends upon the outcome of LB764, the public power reorganization bill that will come up for final reading in the Legislature probably next week. Lincoln city officials, in effect, have aimed at the big money saving by supporting the bill.

The support by Lincoln officials is the first major step taken by the city recently in the field of public power that can go unquestioned. Lincoln has played a lot of cat and mouse in the past but in supporting a statewide consolidation of public power agencies at the wholesale level, it has assumed a position of leadership and state responsibility for which it deserves a lot of credit. At the same time, Consumers Public Power District has been praised for its attitude on the floor of the Legislature. Thus, two major obstacles to past improvements in the field of public power have been removed in the case of the pending reorganization bill.

Two Blocks Removed

No longer can Lincoln be held suspect for wanting to abandon the rest of the state and build a little power empire of its own. It has realized that the wholesale power supply at the state level can be so arranged as to provide a very advantageous rate to Lincoln.

From time to time, Lincoln has seemed to be headed toward eventual construction of its own generating facilities. This was the case two years ago when Lincoln failed to support a statewide consolidation plan. And Lincoln generation has seemed to lurk quietly in the background of negotiations of the past year for the city's acquisition of its retail distribution system from Consumers.

Now, however, Lincoln has gone on record in favor of the consolidation of Consumers and the Nebraska Public Power System (NPPS). It has stated through its consulting attorney, Clarence Davis, that it could not generate power as cheaply as it should be able to buy power at wholesale from a single statewide agency. Thus, it is looking to a tieup with the state for the future rather than an independent course of action. This is good both for Lincoln and the state. In this way, Lincoln provides the volume by which power costs can be reduced to their minimum at the wholesale level. At the same time, it discourages other sections of the state from going their own way in generation because they cannot meet the wholesale prices of a consolidated agency.

Lincoln support of LB764, therefore, is an important step and one for which city officials are to be commended. The praise for Consumers came in regard to their relations with the various municipalities they serve at retail. Rather than trying to hang on to any of this retail business, Consumers has been working with the municipalities toward whatever kind of an arrangement they wanted. The cities can take over their systems if they want or they can contract for continued Consumers operation. Currently, the only stumbling blocks are NPPS and a part of the membership of the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

Opposition of NPPS to the consolidation plan probably will never dissipate while the position of the League may or may not be pushed. Lincoln is a member of the League and supports the statewide consolidation plan and the objections held by the League are not strong.

The League believes that the bill would allow the consolidated statewide agency to continue indefinitely in the retail business, thus depriving towns of the right to acquire and operate their own distribution systems and subjecting others to unfair competition. This could happen but it is not likely and the bill involved clearly shows the intent of the Legislature to be opposed to any such development.

NPPS objects because it thinks the consolidation is a Consumers takeover. NPPS is composed of the Loup and Platte Public Power and Irrigation Districts and these two would become one, along with Consumers, under the consolidation bill. How this can be presented as a Consumers takeover, we fail to understand since Consumers would cease to exist just as would Loup and Platte. Directors to the new agency would be first appointed and then elected from districts representing all existing areas of interest as well as from currently independent sources.

Consumers Would Go

A Consumers takeover is such a poor argument that one doubts it will carry much support in the Legislature. At this point, it is difficult to see what would stop senators from giving their final stamp of approval to the most far-sighted and far-reaching power measure since public power was inaugurated 30 years ago.

Building Program Passes

The Legislature has given its final stamp of approval to a $68.5 million six-year capital expenditures building program that should prove to be an outstanding action of this session. The measure provides $23 million in the coming biennium alone, including $15.8 million for the University of Nebraska.

The program replaces and adds on to the past building fund levy and the levy for the new College of Dentistry at the University. It will require a levy of 3.2 mills for the next six years, assuming that it is continued by succeeding legislatures.

The initial appropriation aims primarily at the university. Provision is made for a new $5.2 million chemical science building, a $2.5 million addition to the University Hospital at Omaha, $2.1 million for a new classroom and office building and funds for other structures and for land acquisition.

State colleges will receive $3 million the first year, $1.1 million will go to the Department of Education and $2.4 million to the Department of Institutions. For a number of years now Nebraska has elected to provide for its essential physical plant expansion through a program of planned annual expenditures.

In the past year, the special building fund levy has done this job and the need today attests to the wisdom of that past action. Had we not had the special building fund levy through recent years, we would face a staggering demand today. This newly passed capital construction program gives us assurance of the state's determination to meet its future responsibilities.

Too Much Protection?

Just wait till I grow up, says the youngster who has just been denied something, and I will eat all the candy in the world. The youngster does grow up but, fortunately, with the growth comes a sense of responsibility to match the freedom he has grown into.

If a recent Denver county court decision stands up under appeal, the American Indian may find himself in the position of the child who has grown up but still has not gained his freedom. Just under a hundred years ago, Congress passed an act which made it illegal to make a deal with an Indian without first clearing it with the secretary of interior.

Now, an Indian has used the law as a defense against a loan company that advanced him $475 for a car on which he has defaulted on the payments. The county court judge sided with the Indian, despite the antiquity of the law, and the ruling could affect the lives of more than half a million Americans with Indian blood.

If so, it would allow a lot of people to avoid their just debts if they so desired, a little like the recent credit situation in Nebraska. But that short windfall could prove to be quite an encumbrance.

These half a million Americans would be placed on virtually a cash basis if every deal they proposed to enter into had to first be cleared through the secretary of interior. And the situation would not be exactly to the liking of the Interior Department which would be saddled with the tedious job of checking out all such deals. It would seem that a little modernizing of federal law was in order.

Kansas Water Act

Kansas has long been known as a non-conservation-minded state. It seemed to tolerate an unending alternation of ravaging floods and searing droughts.

Nebraska, which had scratched the surface with western works on the Platte and Republican Rivers, felt sophisticated although the flood-drought pattern continued to exist elsewhere in the state, and still does.

But times have changed. Kansas is now well out in front. And it has drawn a large and worthy plan for the future.

The Kansas legislature has passed the 1965 State Water Plan Act, and it has gone into law with the governor's signature. Under it, Kansas will invest almost twice as much by 1970 as it is investing today in water management. By 1980 the 1970 investment will be doubled. And such increases are projected to the year 2000 when the Kansas investment will be 10 times what it is today. The plan embraces hilltop conservation and river control. It will go underground where the state has a supply of 500 million acre feet of stored water. It supplies an agency to enter into agreements with the federal government. It visualizes total water management for the state.

This is a far cry from Kansas' historic water policy of no policy. It is not daydreaming. The plan has become the law and will govern Kansas' water future.

Although Nebraska has yet to act so dramatically, it still must congratulate Kansas on practical far-sightedness.

But there is a warning in it, too. Most of Nebraska's rivers south of the Platte flow into the Kansas River. If Kansas appropriates the water for its local use Nebraska could find itself barred from much of its own water, barred because it didn't make use of the resource in time. Our laxity and indifference have gone about as far as they can go.

U.S. Sells France Nuclear Essentials

WASHINGTON — Despite the fact that the United States has a firm policy against the proliferation of nuclear weapons, this column can reveal that we have recently delivered to France six expensive KC-135 tanks essential to the delivery of nuclear weapons.

Without these tankers, the new French Supersonic Mirage bomber could not fly any distance. The Mirage bombers require so much fuel to get off the ground that they have an extremely short range and have to be fueled in mid-air if they are going to make a flight as far as the Soviet Union, considered the No. 1 target in case of war. If fueled in mid-air, the Mirages can reach Moscow and come back to Paris. Otherwise they can't.

Inside fact is that President De Gualle has been rougher on the United States than Russia. The American embassy in Paris has reported that he has developed almost a passion for opposing the United States, goes out of his way at almost every turn to take a crack at us.

In connection with the American policy of preventing the proliferation of nuclear weapons, we have tried to discourage De Gaulle from promoting nuclear development tests.

Despite this, the Defense Department, with the State Department concurring, sold France the six KC-135 tankers and is now training French pilots at Bolling Field to fly them.

When Charles MacGillivary, a Medal of Honor winner from Braintree, Mass., walked into the White House the other day, President Johnson said: "I know all about you. You are a friend of speaker John McCormack. You won your country's highest award by knocking out six machine gun nests in the Battle of the Bulge."

MacGillivary, who lost an arm in combat, called on the President to assure him that the Medal of Honor Society fully supports his policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. The two men walked over to the window and gazed out at students demonstrating against those policies.

"What can I do about that?" asked Johnson. "Frankly I don't understand the thinking of some of these students. Democracy doesn't come easy. We've had to work and sweat to preserve ours. All this has been handed to those young people out there, but they don't appreciate how others have had to struggle for it down through the years."

wouldn't worry too much about it, Mrs. President," suggested MacGilliary. "These students are creating a bad image, but they represent only a very small minority of the student population in our universities. What interests me is that they can find the time for such negative activity—that is, to demonstrate against you while you work night and day to preserve the great heritage that has been handed them."

MARQUIS CHILDS

McNamara Center Of Viet Nam Dispute

WASHINGTON — An influential and highly articulate wing of the Republican party has begun the campaign for "victory" in Viet Nam by extending the bombing raids. Bombing can win and therefore, so goes this war cry, it is wrong to commit large numbers of ground troops in a jungle war in Asia. The principal spokesman for this line is former Sen. Barry Goldwater. But increasingly Republicans in Congress are championing the bombing way to easy victory.

For many reasons Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara will be their target of attack. Although it has not been generally understood, he has again and again resisted pressure from the Air Force and the Navy to push the war to limits making any political settlement all but impossible. That pressure is currently concentrated on bombing in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

During the campaign last fall, the secretary did not hesitate to respond when Goldwater fired at him with what McNamara considered an irresponsible or inaccurate charge. He became, as Goldwater warmed up, "Yo-Yo McNamara" who was guilty of flying back and forth between Washington and Saigon and putting out conflicting reports on the progress of the war.

By a directive taking members of Congress out of the ready reserve, McNamara won the enmity of those with close links with the services. The directive put an end to Air Squadron 999 which had been called Goldwater's own air force. Squadron 999, composed of senators and representatives and their staff assistants, was given to junketing around the world in Air Force planes. There was always a question as to whether holding a commission in the active reserve was not a violation of a provision of the Constitution that members of Congress may not be on active military service.

The secretary, who takes members of Congress at their word when they argue for economy, has made enemies in two ways. His orders closing down a whole series of useless or inefficient bases and construction centers brought cries of anguish. Under the egregious new chairman, Mendel Rivers of South Carolina, the House Armed Service Committee has just voted to clip McNamara's wings. An amendment tacked onto the military construction bill would give either Senate or House the right to veto any McNamara order on bases.

These conflicts are part of the hostility built up toward McNamara. But though they feed the controversy over bombing and the right of commanders to decide when and how and where they shall bomb, the essence is in the conviction of an easy war easily won from the air.

A fox cannot read, but the fox that lived on the farm of a neighbor down the road chose a remarkable place to rear its young. The den of this red fox was dug into the roadbank directly beneath a "No Hunting" sign.

Despite its well-hidden den, young farm boys who always have a way of exploring every ledge or crevice came upon this wild animal family. Three pups were found peeking at the world. Although they were quick to sense danger and darted far back into the den, they appeared to be very lean. The boys thought perhaps the old fox may have been killed and the young pups had not been fed their usual diet of rabbits and rodents.

Cherry picking seemed to be a bit on the ridiculous side this year. Either rain showers or mosquitoes drove us to the house a countless number of times as we tried to pick the fruit.

One morning we were engaged in the task at seven o'clock. I heard a distant rumble and remarked, "Is that thunder again? It can't possibly rain any more!"

The Farmer answered, "I don't think that was thunder. It was two big mosquitoes that had a mid-air collision."

Fifteen minutes later it was raining and we were dashing for the house where we spent another fifteen minutes doctoring the welts made by the mosquitoes. This episode happened again and again. I decided picking cherries was not my line of work and let The Farmer battle the elements and mosquitoes, while I started to stem and pit those already picked.

The final day was somewhat amusing, as The Farmer completed the work. The orchard borders the roadway, so many of the neighboring farmers driving by saw him in the trees. They stopped to talk about the business of farming while The Farmer's schedule was running about an hour of cherry picking to every two hours of visiting. He enjoyed every hour of it, however, and I was happy to get the cherries picked.

We have two more trees of later cherries but the trees are of a smaller size . . . more my size. Once the fields have dried, the hum of the tractor will be heard from early morning until late at night. I am giving myself pep talks on the merits of being a good cherry picker because I know the pleasure will be all mine.

The Madonna lilies are blooming now. This morning I gathered four large stalks for a bouquet in the living room. The sweet scent has drifted throughout the house. These lillies are one of the most beautiful flowers that bloom in early summer. Flower by flower, they open up the stalk, allowing quite a long blooming season.

In the evening or early morning when the light winds blow across the front yard, the delightful scent of the Madonna drifts through the open windows. The moths flutter about them at dusk and by day the butterflies come to sip of sweet nectar. I, too, am attracted to these subtle yet complex white flowers. A peaceful melancholy, or a kind of gentle resignation is projected just as surely as if an artist took brush in hand and touched his canvas.

There endures a slender cause for hope and a symbol for peace with a resignation of sadness. These things have come down through the centuries, I suppose, but the purity of a lily awakens deep certainties just as a farmer hears trust in wild geese calling as they pass.

I linger much too long in the mornings among the chaliced lilies, shimmering with stardust left over from the night before, yet I find it a good way to start my day. I forget small cares while the world about me sings its "Dawn Anthem."

Merger Problems

Lincoln, Neb.

It seems to me that small school districts are being panicked into unwise mergers. The Walton district would be foolish to merge with Bennet and Palmyra. Although the school board seems to be reluctant to give out the exact figures, I understand the bonded debt is around $200,000. Why should we have to help pay off someone else's bills?

I wonder if an Alvo-Eagle and Walton merger has been investigated? Then when Bennet and Palmyra had paid off their own debts, they could join, too. I agree that the schools must be improved but I resent an added nine mills (app.) on my taxes to help pay off a debt I did not make and from which I get no benefit.

There will be another big squabble when it comes times to float a big bond issue and build a new high school. They will all want it close to them, not to mention the problem in bad weather of picking up the children who live on dirt roads.

Let's take a good look before we leap.

It is heartening to see that Walton has finally realized the impossibility of operating a high school in Walton. It is unfortunate that they woke up so late and have to help pay off the bonded debts of Bennet and Palmyra. I understand these bonds amount to about $200,000. If this is true, it is just the penalty that has to be paid.

I think we will discover, too, that it is not economical to try to maintain a grade school in a separate location and eventually all grades will be operated at one central location. However, it is a step in the right direction at long last.

Holy Alliance

Lincoln, Neb.

President Johnson has called for a holy alliance with Latin American countries for the preservation of freedom and democracy. The old holy alliance of 1815 was between the czar of Russia, the emperor of Austria-Hungary and the king of Prussia. It was supposed to be a banding together of military forces to preserve religion, peace and justice against possible upheavals or revolutions in any of their respective countries.

"Revolution" is a very nasty word for those in power. It means a transfer of power from one class to another. The monarchs were thoroughly scared by the French Revolution. They saw a possible threat to their crowns. Hence, the alliance was to preserve the old order, and was not what it was claimed to be.

Likewise, the OAS has nothing in common with freedom and democracy, as claimed, but is to preserve the old economic domination of big North American interests over South America. Each year, immense wealth from those countries flows into the pockets of their northern neighbors. That is what they wish to preserve.

Communism Theory

Chicago, Ill.

It seems to me that there is evidence of the theory of communism at work in legislation being debated and voted on pro and con in the Legislature, or in the aim to defeat good bills before the Legislature.

The theory of communism may be summed up in the single sentence: Abolition of private property.

The partial record of bills now before the Legislature and/or already passed by the Legislature includes LB797. There is opposition to LB797, which if successful would retain the property tax in Nebraska, the only state in the Union with no sales tax or state income tax. Retaining the property tax as the tax base, which has increased the tax on property over a period of years in some individual instances as much as 800% to 1000%, at such a rate could result in confiscation of private property by degrees.

LB554 which would give eminent domain powers to the State Game Commission over 19 areas in the state would advance the theory of communism, namely, the abolition of private property.

LB485 passed by the Legislature some time ago as a companion bill to LB168 would give watershed districts powers specified in LB168, and the provisions of both bills would be administered by the Game Commission, as the provisions of LB554 would be administered. And the state would allow the Game Commission to so function that whatever production might be involved would be centralized in the hands of the state, a further advance of the theory of communism, namely, abolition of private property.

Recently, Planning Director Douglas Brogden advocated "aggressive annexation" of an area in the vicinity of 70th and Normal Boulevard, regardless of whether there would be a duplication of installations for private water supplies and sewage disposal systems with city installations of water and sewage systems. In other words, "aggressive annexation" and the theory of communism would be synonymous.

The programs of dams and reservoirs of watershed districts are further examples of the theory of communism at work, namely, the abolition of private property. These programs take thousands of acres off the tax rolls, thereby abolishing them as private property, with little or no benefit to the state, economically.

Progress In The State

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Perhaps many people do not realize it, but they might well have been saved millions of dollars in recent days. It all depends upon the outcome of LB764, the public power reorganization bill that will come up for final reading in the Legislature probably next week. Lincoln city officials, in effect, have aimed at the big money saving by supporting the bill.

Two Blocks Removed

The support by Lincoln officials is the first major step taken by the city recently in the field of public power that can go unquestioned. Lincoln has played a lot of cat and mouse in the past but in supporting a statewide consolidation of public power agencies at the wholesale level, it has assumed a position of leadership and state responsibility for which it deserves a lot of credit. At the same time, Consumers Public Power District has been praised for its attitude on the floor of the Legislature. Thus, two major obstacles to past improvements in the field of public power have been removed in the case of the pending reorganization bill.

No longer can Lincoln be held suspect for wanting to abandon the rest of the state and build a little power empire of its own. It has realized that the wholesale power supply at the state level can be so arranged as to provide a very advantageous rate to Lincoln.

From time to time, Lincoln has seemed to be headed toward eventual construction of its own generating facilities. This was the case two years ago when Lincoln failed to support a statewide consolidation plan. And Lincoln generation has seemed to lurk quietly in the background of negotiations of the past year for the city's acquisition of its retail distribution system from Consumers.

Now, however, Lincoln has gone on record in favor of the consolidation of Consumers and the Nebraska Public Power System (NPPS). It has stated through its consulting attorney, Clarence Davis, that it could not generate power as cheaply as it should be able to buy power at wholesale from a single statewide agency. Thus, it is looking to a tieup with the state for the future rather than an independent course of action. This is good both for Lincoln and the state. In this way, Lincoln provides the volume by which power costs can be reduced to their minimum at the wholesale level. At the same time, it discourages other sections of the state from going their own way in generation because they cannot meet the wholesale prices of a consolidated agency.

Lincoln support of LB764, therefore, is an important step and one for which city officials are to be commended. The praise for Consumers came in regard to their relations with the various municipalities they serve at retail. Rather than trying to hang on to any of this retail business, Consumers has been working with the municipalities toward whatever kind of an arrangement they wanted. The cities can take over their systems if they want or they can contract for continued Consumers operation. Currently, the only stumbling blocks are NPPS and a part of the membership of the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

Opposition of NPPS to the consolidation plan probably will never dissipate while the position of the League may or may not be pushed. Lincoln is a member of the League and supports the statewide consolidation plan and the objections held by the League are not strong.

The League believes that the bill would allow the consolidated statewide agency to continue indefinitely in the retail business, thus depriving towns of the right to acquire and operate their own distribution systems and subjecting others to unfair competition. This could happen but it is not likely and the bill involved clearly shows the intent of the Legislature to be opposed to any such development.

Consumers Would Go

NPPS objects because it thinks the consolidation is a Consumers takeover. NPPS is composed of the Loup and Platte Public Power and Irrigation Districts and these two would become one, along with Consumers, under the consolidation bill. How this can be presented as a Consumers takeover, we fail to understand since Consumers would cease to exist just as would Loup and Platte. Directors to the new agency would be first appointed and then elected from districts representing all existing areas of interest as well as from currently independent sources.

A Consumers takeover is such a poor argument that one doubts it will carry much support in the Legislature. At this point, it is difficult to see what would stop senators from giving their final stamp of approval to the most far-sighted and far-reaching power measure since public power was inaugurated 30 years ago.

Building Program Passes

The Legislature has given its final stamp of approval to a $68.5 million six-year capital expenditures building program that should prove to be an outstanding action of this session. The measure provides $23 million in the coming biennium alone, including $15.8 million for the University of Nebraska.

The program replaces and adds on to the past building fund levy and the levy for the new College of Dentistry at the University. It will require a levy of 3.2 mills for the next six years, assuming that it is continued by succeeding legislatures.

The initial appropriation aims primarily at the university. Provision is made for a new $5.2 million chemical science building, a $2.5 million addition to the University Hospital at Omaha, $2.1 million for a new classroom and office building and funds for other structures and for land acquisition.

State colleges will receive $3 million the first year, $1.1 million will go to the Department of Education and $2.4 million to the Department of Institutions. For a number of years now Nebraska has elected to provide for its essential physical plant expansion through a program of planned annual expenditures.

In the past year, the special building fund levy has done this job and the need today attests to the wisdom of that past action. Had we not had the special building fund levy through recent years, we would face a staggering demand today. This newly passed capital construction program gives us assurance of the state's determination to meet its future responsibilities.

Too Much Protection?

Just wait till I grow up, says the youngster who has just been denied something, and I will eat all the candy in the world. The youngster does grow up but, fortunately, with the growth comes a sense of responsibility to match the freedom he has grown into.

If a recent Denver county court decision stands up under appeal, the American Indian may find himself in the position of the child who has grown up but still has not gained his freedom. Just under a hundred years ago, Congress passed an act which made it illegal to make a deal with an Indian without first clearing it with the secretary of interior.

Now, an Indian has used the law as a defense against a loan company that advanced him $475 for a car on which he has defaulted on the payments. The county court judge sided with the Indian, despite the antiquity of the law, and the ruling could affect the lives of more than half a million Americans with Indian blood.

If so, it would allow a lot of people to avoid their just debts if they so desired, a little like the recent credit situation in Nebraska. But that short windfall could prove to be quite an encumbrance.

These half a million Americans would be placed on virtually a cash basis if every deal they proposed to enter into had to first be cleared through the secretary of interior. And the situation would not be exactly to the liking of the Interior Department which would be saddled with the tedious job of checking out all such deals. It would seem that a little modernizing of federal law was in order.

Kansas Water Act

Kansas has long been known as a non-conservation-minded state. It seemed to tolerate an unending alternation of ravaging floods and searing droughts.

Nebraska, which had scratched the surface with western works on the Platte and Republican Rivers, felt sophisticated although the flood-drought pattern continued to exist elsewhere in the state, and still does.

But times have changed. Kansas is now well out in front. And it has drawn a large and worthy plan for the future.

The Kansas legislature has passed the 1965 State Water Plan Act, and it has gone into law with the governor's signature. Under it, Kansas will invest almost twice as much by 1970 as it is investing today in water management. By 1980 the 1970 investment will be doubled. And such increases are projected to the year 2000 when the Kansas investment will be 10 times what it is today. The plan embraces hilltop conservation and river control. It will go underground where the state has a supply of 500 million acre feet of stored water. It supplies an agency to enter into agreements with the federal government. It visualizes total water management for the state.

This is a far cry from Kansas' historic water policy of no policy. It is not daydreaming. The plan has become the law and will govern Kansas' water future.

Although Nebraska has yet to act so dramatically, it still must congratulate Kansas on practical far-sightedness.

But there is a warning in it, too. Most of Nebraska's rivers south of the Platte flow into the Kansas River. If Kansas appropriates the water for its local use, Nebraska could find itself barred from much of its own water, barred because it didn't make use of the resource in time. Our laxity and indifference have gone about as far as they can go.

U.S. Sells France Nuclear Essentials

WASHINGTON — Despite the fact that the United States has a firm policy against the proliferation of nuclear weapons, this column can reveal that we have recently delivered to France six expensive KC-135 tanks essential to the delivery of nuclear weapons.

Without these tankers, the new French Supersonic Mirage bomber could not fly any distance. The Mirage bombers require so much fuel to get off the ground that they have an extremely short range and have to be fueled in mid-air if they are going to make a flight as far as the Soviet Union, considered the No. 1 target in case of war. If fueled in mid-air, the Mirages can reach Moscow and come back to Paris. Otherwise they can't.

Inside fact is that President De Gualle has been rougher on the United States than Russia. The American embassy in Paris has reported that he has developed almost a passion for opposing the United States, goes out of his way at almost every turn to take a crack at us.

In connection with the American policy of preventing the proliferation of nuclear weapons, we have tried to discourage De Gaulle from promoting nuclear development tests.

Despite this, the Defense Department, with the State Department concurring, sold France the six KC-135 tankers and is now training French pilots at Bolling Field to fly them.

When Charles MacGillivary, a Medal of Honor winner from Braintree, Mass., walked into the White House the other day, President Johnson said: "I know all about you. You are a friend of speaker John McCormack. You won your country's highest award by knocking out six machine gun nests in the Battle of the Bulge."

MacGillivary, who lost an arm in combat, called on the President to assure him that the Medal of Honor Society fully supports his policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. The two men walked over to the window and gazed out at students demonstrating against those policies.

"What can I do about that?" asked Johnson. "Frankly I don't understand the thinking of some of these students. Democracy doesn't come easy. We've had to work and sweat to preserve ours. All this has been handed to those young people out there, but they don't appreciate how others have had to struggle for it down through the years."

wouldn't worry too much about it, Mrs. President," suggested MacGilliary. "These students are creating a bad image, but they represent only a very small minority of the student population in our universities. What interests me is that they can find the time for such negative activity—that is, to demonstrate against you while you work night and day to preserve the great heritage that has been handed them."

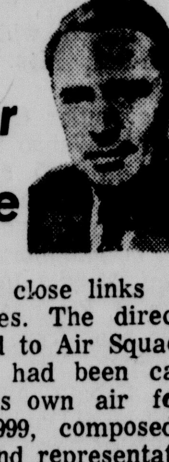
McNamara Center Of Viet Nam Dispute



WASHINGTON — An influential and highly articulate wing of the Republican party has begun the campaign for "victory" in Viet Nam by extending the bombing raids. Bombing can win and therefore, so goes this war cry, it is wrong to commit large numbers of ground troops in a jungle war in Asia. The principal spokesman for this line is former Sen. Barry Goldwater. But increasingly Republicans in Congress are championing the bombing way to easy victory.

For many reasons Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara will be their target of attack. Although it has not been generally understood, he has again and again resisted pressure from the Air Force and the Navy to push the war to limits making any political settlement all but impossible. That pressure is currently concentrated on bombing in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

During the campaign last fall, the secretary did not hesitate to respond when Goldwater fired at him with what McNamara considered an irresponsible or inaccurate charge. LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Most Builders Know They Must Offer Sound Value To Elders

By ROBERT PETERSON

Several magazine articles have inferred that the retirement woods are full of crafty promoters out to foist undesirable lots and crackerbox dwellings on unsuspecting seniors.

But having visited many of the major retirement colonies I'm convinced most builders in this field are experienced, practical men well aware of their competition and smart enough to know they must offer sound value if elder buyers are to be attracted.

Some of these developers are men of considerable wealth who are less interested in profits than in the challenges involved.

One in the latter category is Sam Kellner, 56. He's a rags-to-riches lad who had to quit high school in Hicksville, N.Y., to go to work to help support his family. He was blessed from the beginning with a Midas touch and every decade or so has expanded into a new endeavor — the latest being creation of a Florida retirement colony which he's financing with several million of his own dollars.

Sam's saga began at 20 when he heard about a California firm offering a process by which old tires could be retreaded. He saw the possibilities and invested his savings of $250. He set up a little shop near his home, worked like a house afire, and within 10 years had become a tire retread king with a string of shops

In his 30's he branched into the real estate business and quickly developed the knack of buying and selling profitably.

Reaching 40 didn't curb his incentive. Eager for new worlds to conquer he decided to learn the building business. Working slowly, he studied construction techniques, assembled a crew and eventually became a major builder of homes, office buildings, factories and shopping centers.

At 50 he took a winter trip to Florida and found himself thinking of the many retired folks sitting out their years in cold, snowy climes when they could for the same money or less be enjoying warmth, sun and flowers.

With the big thinking that characterizes men of means and dreams, Sam decided to create a brand new town built of fire-resistant homes to sell under $10,000.

Does he expect his new venture to turn a profit? "Frankly, I don't really care," he concluded. "Profits are always fine as an indication of success. But I don't need the money, and I'm more interested in the challenges involved and the satisfaction of seeing what can be done to provide older people with an attractive setting and a comfortable way of life at the lowest possible cost."

Sales Tax Exemptions Draw Fire

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Exemption provisions in the general sales tax bill proposed by Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance ran into trouble on the floor of the Legislature Monday.

The bill, LB563, was held pending examination of a number of amendments altering exemption features.

Earlier, the sales tax rate was reduced from 3% to 2% at the request of Gerdes.

There will be no tax on purchases of less than 15 cents. A 1% rate would be effective from 15 cents to 49 cents, and the 2% rate would be applied against all purchases between 50 cents and a dollar.

On purchases of more than $1, the tax would be two cents on each even dollar, with the schedule of rates applying to purchases in excess of even dollars.

The bill now provides exemptions for livestock, feed, seed, fertilizer, prescription medicines and manufacturing machinery.

Sales of liquor, beer, gasoline and cigarettes are also exempted since they are now subject to special excise taxes.

Gerdes proposed that original exemptions for farm machinery be removed from the bill, but Sen. Ramey Whitney of Chappell announced his intent to oppose the amendment when it is discussed.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff filed an amendment which would remove all exemptions, except the sale of food to schools, churches and hospitals.

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha said he will propose exemptions of welfare recipients, including the blind, the disabled and persons receiving old age assistance.

The bill, with amendments, limits the maximum sales tax on any single item to $80 and would permit retailers to retain 2% of the total tax for collection costs.

Gerdes has estimated that the measure would raise $40 million a year. Together, with a 2% state income tax, a sales-income combination would raise $70 million, according to Gerdes, with $20 million available for distribution to local school districts.

Lawmakers examined the 52-page bill section by section before bracketing it for later discussion, perhaps on Tuesday.

Pending is a Klaver motion to kill the bill.

Most Builders Know They Must Offer Sound Value To Elders

By ROBERT PETERSON

Several magazine articles have inferred that the retirement woods are full of crafty promoters out to foist undesirable lots and crackerbox dwellings on unsuspecting seniors.

But having visited many of the major retirement colonies I'm convinced most builders in this field are experienced, practical men well aware of their competition and smart enough to know they must offer sound value if elder buyers are to be attracted.

Some of these developers are men of considerable wealth who are less interested in profits than in the challenges involved.

One in the latter category is Sam Kellner, 56. He's a rags-to-riches lad who had to quit high school in Hicksville, N.Y., to go to work to help support his family. He was blessed from the beginning with a Midas touch and every decade or so has expanded into a new endeavor — the latest being creation of a Florida retirement colony which he's financing with several million of his own dollars.

Sam's saga began at 20 when he heard about a California firm offering a process by which old tires could be retreaded. He saw the possibilities and invested his savings of $250. At 50 he took a winter trip to Florida and found himself thinking of the many retired folks sitting out their years in cold, snowy climes when they could for the same money or less be enjoying warmth, sun and flowers.

With the big thinking that characterizes men of means and dreams, Sam decided to create a brand new town built of fire-resistant homes to sell under $10,000.

Does he expect his new venture to turn a profit? "Frankly, I don't really care," he concluded. "Profits are always fine as an indication of success. But I don't need the money, and I'm more interested in the challenges involved and the satisfaction of seeing what can be done to provide older people with an attractive setting and a comfortable way of life at the lowest possible cost."

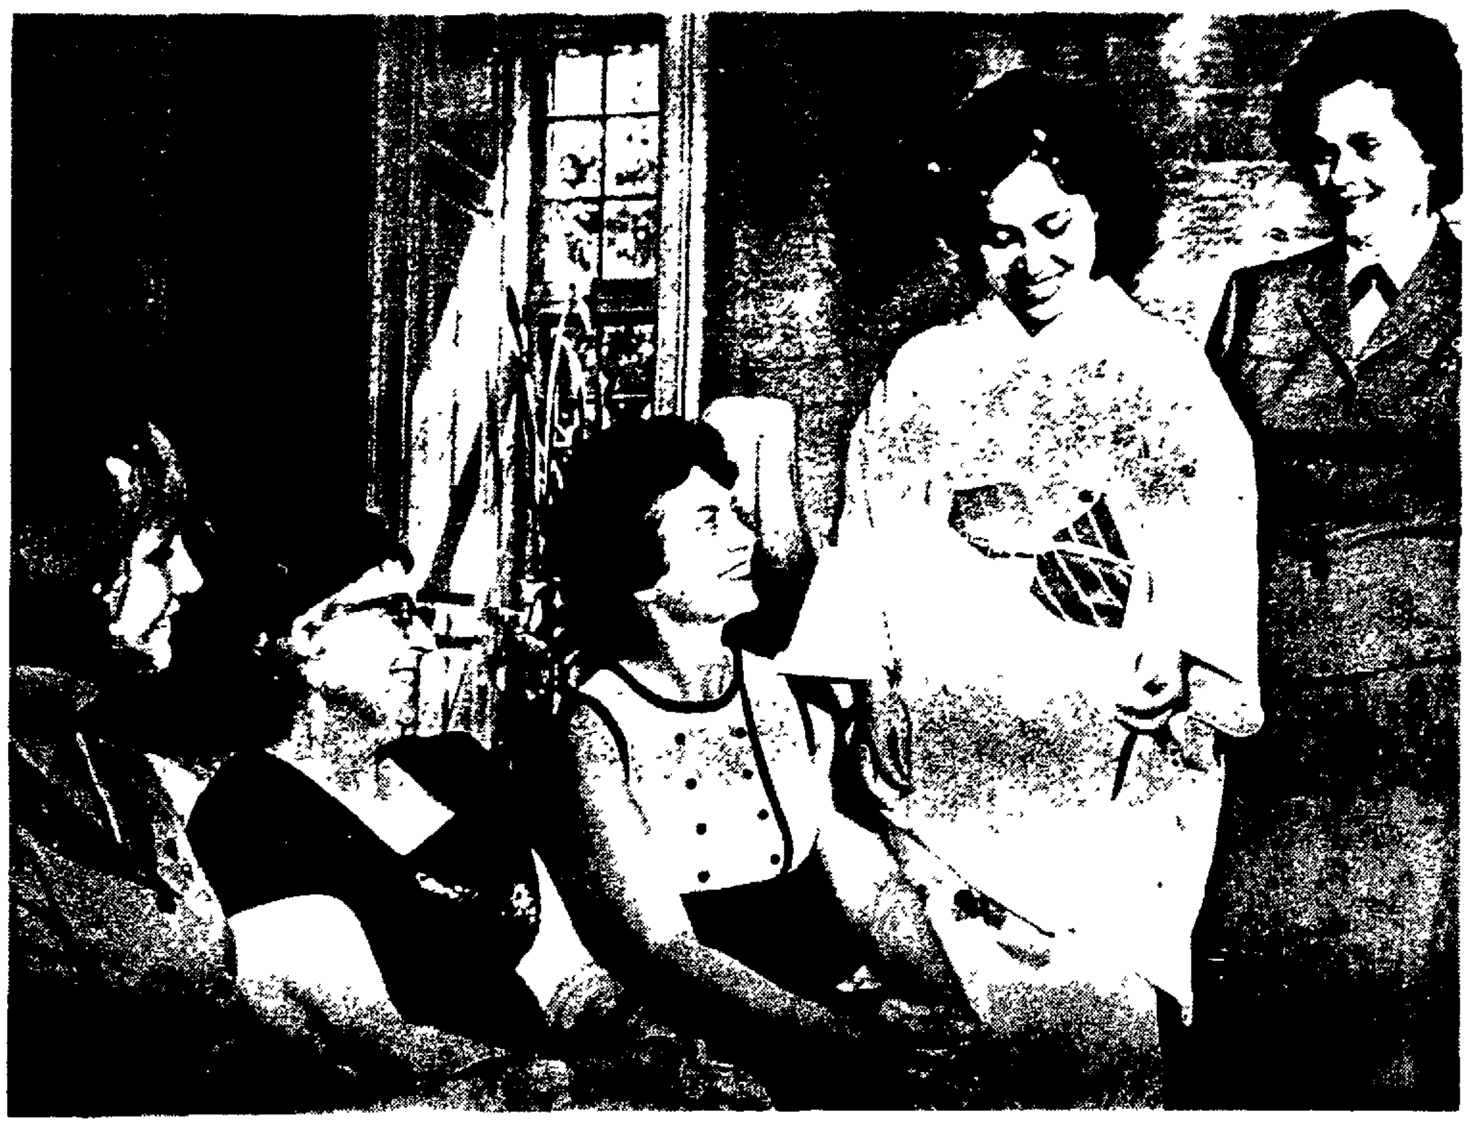
GUEST
from Japan is honored at tea



A visitor in Lincoln whose list of American friends is growing by leaps and bounds is Miss Makiko Kurobe of Japan, who is spending several weeks as the guest of the Jay-Husker Council of Girl Scouts—and the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Maly and their family.

Miss Kurobe came to the United States to attend the Senior Girl Scout Round-Up, to be held at Pend D'Oreille, Idaho, July 15 to 28, and will serve as a member of the Round-Up staff.

Eager to observe youth activities in America, the diminutive visitor rapidly is becoming acquainted with the Lincoln community and its citizens with the help of her Girl Scout hostesses.

Miss Kurobe, whose background training includes teaching English to Japanese kindergarten tots, was honored by Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel at tea last Friday afternoon. More than 150 guests were invited to the Schimmel home and included (from the left) Mrs. Roger Miller, Round-Up training chairman; Mrs Dean Petersen; Mrs. Maly; the guest of honor modeling traditional Japanese dress; and Mrs. Schimmel.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♣	Pass	1 ♦
Dble	Redble	1 ♠	2 ♦
2 ♠	2 NT	Pass	3 NT

Opening lead — five of spades.

The bidding by the opponents frequently helps declarer to choose the right line of play.

When the opponents remain silent during the bidding, declarer will often have lots of trouble trying to figure out the adverse distribution, since there is little he has to go on outside of the plays which have already been made.

But if one or both opponents have entered the bidding, the information which declarer obtains from these bids will frequently guide him to the winning line of play in a situation where he might otherwise go wrong.

Here is such a case. First let's suppose that East-West stay out of the bidding and West leads a spade, South taking the king with the ace.

Declarer's best line of play under these conditions is certainly not clear. He may decide to pin his hopes on a successful finesse in either diamonds or clubs, or else he may play a heart towards the dummy at trick two, intending to decide afterwards which suit to finesse.

In the actual case, all these lines of play would lead to defeat. South would lose five tricks, whichever course he pursued, and go down one.

But with East entering the bidding, South has a much easier task on his hands and should make the contract. He should certainly not find it difficult, missing only 12 high-card points, to arrive at the conclusion that East, the player who doubled one diamond, has the ace of hearts.

Once declarer makes this assumption, the hand is relatively easy to play. At trick two he enters dummy with a diamond and returns a low heart.

If East goes up with the ace, South has nine tricks without a finesse.

If East ducks the heart, South wins with the queen and then proceeds to establish the clubs. This line of play likewise assures him of nine tricks.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: The woman who "talked to her plants" and made them grow is not ready for the booby hatch. There is definitely something to it. Plants not only respond to the right "language," they are affected by music. This is far from a new development. For years the Carnation milk people have had music piped into their barns to keep their cows contented.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is a 17-year-old high school dropout. And it's not that she didn't have the brains to graduate. She was just lazy. She's very pretty and has always been very mature (physically) for her age. But she's spoiled and selfish and emotionally immature. She doesn't want to get a job and go to work. She wants to get married. The boy is 22. He is a nice enough boy who has a steady job, but he's just a kid. My husband is all for her getting married. He says, "Let her. It will grow her up in a hurry." I say she isn't ready to accept the responsibilities of marriage and, if she got married, it wouldn't last a year. Can you give me some good arguments on my side?

ONE AGAINST TWO

DEAR ONE: Marriage is not a kindergarten where wide-eyed, immature adolescents learn to "grow up" in a hurry. It's a difficult school of experience for even the most mature and aware. Lazy, self-centered girls who turn to marriage in order to escape the realities of life learn all too soon that they have jumped from the frying pan into the fire. Let her "grow up" first.

June Wedding

The marriage of Miss Ruth Ann Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil H. Bell of Cheyenne, Wyo., to Gary L. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Anderson of Axtell, was solemnized Sunday, June 13, at the First Christian Church in Cheyenne. The lines of the late afternoon service were read by the Rev. Archie K. Stevenson.

Wearing long-skirted frocks of gold-toned peau de soie were Mrs. Harold Patterson of Dayton, Ohio, who was her sister's matron of honor; and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Dale Schmeichel of Omaha, sister of the bridegroom. Each carried a single, long-stemmed white rose.

Capt. Pres Kendall of Ft. Benning, Ga., served Mr. Anderson as best man, and the ushers were Harold Patterson, Dayton, Ohio; Bill Kelley, Santa Ana, Calif.; Lloyd Erickson, Holdrege; and Ron Meyer, Hastings.

The bride created her wedding gown of white silk, brought from Tokyo, Japan, by the bridegroom. The sculptured bodice was designed with a bateau neckline and long sleeves, and the slim skirt was deeply bordered with Chantilly lace embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The gown was completed by a detachable, aisle-wide train edged in jeweled lace. A petal crown of lace and pearls held her illusion veil, and she carried a small white Bible ornamented with gold-toned roses, stephanotis and valley-lilies.

The couple will honeymoon in Europe, where the bridegroom, a gold medal winner in the 1964 Olympics, will compete in Germany and Switzerland with the United States Army marksmanship unit. After Aug. 1, they will reside in San Anselmo, Calif., where Mr. Anderson, a graduate of Hastings College, will study for the Presbyterian ministry at San Francisco Theological Seminary. The bride is a former student at Hastings College.

BRIDE

at morning wedding

At a 10 o'clock morning wedding on Saturday, June 19, Miss Mary Ellen O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. O'Brien, became the bride of Robert D. MaCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion C. MaCoy of York. The service was solemnized by the Rev. Frank Machovec at Blessed Sacrament Church.

Wearing bell-skirted frocks of pastel blue taffeta were Miss Kathryn O'Brien, the maid of honor; Miss Judy Simons, Omaha, and Miss Joyce Ripp, Hastings, the bridesmaids; and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Larry Schepers, Fairmont.

Joe Ramaekers of Genoa served Mr. MaCoy as best man, and seating the guests were Ike Anderson, Genoa; Larry O'Brien, Columbus, Ga.; Stan Kluter, York; Bob Samuelson, Friend; Larry Schepers, Fairmont; Kent Kelch, McCool Junction; and John Range.

The bride's gown of white organza over taffeta was trimmed with jeweled appliques of Chantilly lace. A rounding neckline accented the long-sleeved basque, and the bell skirt was completed by a Watteau train panel continuing to chapel length. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a pillbox cap of lace and organza petals, and she carried an arrangement of white orchids.

The bride is a graduate of the College of St. Mary in Omaha, and Mr. MaCoy attended the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma.

Anniversary

Nebraska Wesleyan University President Vance Rogers, and Mrs. Rogers, were the honored guests on Sunday at a reception at the Campus Center for which university Faculty Auxiliary members were hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, who will observe their 25th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, greeted the guests with their daughters, Nancy Ann and Mary Lou.

Coming from out of town for the celebration were Mr. Rogers' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rogers of Lake City, Minn., and Mrs. Rogers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Yarwood of Elgin, Ill.

Assisting as hosts and hostesses were Prof and Mrs. Joe Wampler, Prof. and Mrs. Lewis Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Johnson, Dean Ethel Johnson and Prof. Bernice Halbert.

Presiding at the refreshment table were Mrs. Paul Laursen, Mrs. Carroll Moore and Mrs. Lewis A. Schafer.

Members of the arrangements committee were Mrs. Harold Hall, Mrs. Schafer, Mrs. Walter French, Mrs. Fred Blumer, Mrs. Charles E. Sconyers, Mrs. Laursen, Mrs. William Cascini, Mrs. David Clark, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. William Mountcastle and Mrs. Wampler.

always fun in the suburban areas

Howdy-do Suburbia! And away we go on another busy week in those pretty sections that encircle Lincoln. If this week is anything like the one directly behind us, there will be active people galore in Suburbia for the next several days.

Some of those who have been inducted into Suburbia's "Very Busy Set," are residents of the South Hills area and we will begin this morning's social news with some of their recent adventures.

SOUTH HILLS

Vacation time with the grandparents ended Sunday for Debbie and Dwight Starkey. The two had spent one week with first their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Christine Schiven at Cedar Rapids and then with their paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Starkey at Albion. The visiting twosome were met in Albion on Sunday by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Starkey and sons, Dale and Duane, and the six Starkeys returned home the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wichauser also tell us that their children are doing the vacationing in their family. Their traveling daughters are in Chicago and will be there until Thursday. They are attending a convention and taking in the sights of one of the nation's largest cities. The pair, namely Miss Linda and Terri Wichauser were accompanied to Chicago by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Poska.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Smith and their two children, Kevin and Joan, are boxing their beginnings for their end-of-the-month move to Simi, Calif. The foursome is busy with moving plans but still try to find time for making vacation plans. It seems that the four will be on their way east as soon as their belongings are traveling westward towards the new home. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will motor to Punxsutawney, Pa., for a visit with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson. The two-week visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will be followed by an across-the-country trip to the California home.

But we have news of a family moving into the South Hills area. They are Mr. and Mrs. John Berigan who formerly resided in O'Neill before coming to Lincoln and to 3703 So. 17th. Welcome to the area!

TALK

of the town

It's still a young week, and its filled with vim and vigor—if we may trust our calendar, and we do. There was an informal dinner last evening, for instance—when the honored guest was Capt. William Ludwick, USN. The dinner host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bookstrom who invited only members of the family to the party.

Capt. Ludwick arrived from Washington D.C. last week to particpate in the Swingfest activities, and to visit his father, Dr. Ralph Ludwick, and his brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Ludwick, Jr.

And that reminds us that on Sunday morning Dr. and Mrs. Ludwick, Jr., entertained at a post-Swingfest brunch at their home, in courtesy to Capt. Ludwick.

A July bride-elect comes in for attention this morning. She is Miss Mary Quinn whose marriage to Norman William Wilkins will be solemnized on July 10.

Complimenting Miss Quinn at a 10:30 o'clock coffee at the Lincoln Country Club today will be Mrs. C. Robert Mowbray. Twenty-five guests have been invited, and the bride-elect will be presented with a pottery shower.

Incidentally, Miss Quinn tells us that the members of the bridal entourage have been chosen. For her matron of honor the bride-elect has chosen her sister, Mrs. William H. Clark of Omaha, and the maid of honor will be Miss Susie Cole. Included in the foursome of bridesmaids will be Miss Joyce Bartling of Fremont; Miss Ann Kosman of Scottsbluff; Miss Polly Brown of Broken Bow, and Miss Lynn Wilkins of Cozad.

Paul Haumont of Broken Bow will serve Mr. Wilkins as best man, and the groomsmen will be Dwight Sukup, David Burkholder, both of Cozad; Roger Stuhmer, Ron Young, both of North Platte, and Steve Bowers. The ushers include Gary Hergenrader, Jack Wilkins, both of Cozad, and John Quinn II, brother of the bride.

Hear that Dr. and Mrs. John A. Brown, III, and their two guests from Edinburgh, Scotland, Mrs. James Cessford and her daughter, Miss Angela Cessford, have returned from a 'tour' of the Midwest. Dr. and Mrs. Brown wanted to show the visitors the scenery in western Nebraska, the mountains in Colorado, and the Black Hills—and the Badlands. What they didn't plan for their guests was the flood in Colorado. However, the return trip home was made by way of Cheyenne, and all went well.

PARTY

honors Tri-Delta officers

Honored at a reception at the Nebraska Center Monday afternoon were the national officers of Delta Delta Delta women's fraternity who are in Lincoln for the organization's fifth biennial Leadership School.

From the left are Mrs. A. G. Sollberger of Houston, Tex., alumnae vice president, Mrs Ray F. Euse, Seattle, membership director; Mrs. J. Allen Nye, Jr., Dayton, Ohio, collegiate vice president; Mrs. J. D. Searles, Cumberland, Md., finance director; Mrs. Howard L Ramey, Eugene, Ore., associate director and co-chairman for the conference, and Mrs J L Perry, Jr., Nashville, Tenn., national president.

A graduate of Vanderbilt University where she served as president of Mortar Board, Mrs. Perry is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and is a past president of the Nashville Symphony Guild.

at morning wedding

At a 10 o'clock morning wedding on Saturday, June 19, Miss Mary Ellen O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. O'Brien, became the bride of Robert D. MaCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion C. MaCoy of York. The service was solemnized by the Rev. Frank Machovec at Blessed Sacrament Church.

Wearing bell-skirted frocks of pastel blue taffeta were Miss Kathryn O'Brien, the maid of honor; Miss Judy Simons, Omaha, and Miss Joyce Ripp, Hastings, the bridesmaids; and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Larry Schepers, Fairmont.

Joe Ramaekers of Genoa served Mr. MaCoy as best man, and seating the guests were Ike Anderson, Genoa; Larry O'Brien, Columbus, Ga.; Stan Kluter, York; Bob Samuelson, Friend; Larry Schepers, Fairmont; Kent Kelch, McCool Junction; and John Range.

The bride's gown of white organza over taffeta was trimmed with jeweled appliques of Chantilly lace. A rounding neckline accented the long-sleeved basque, and the bell skirt was completed by a Watteau train panel continuing to chapel length. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a pillbox cap of lace and organza petals, and she carried an arrangement of white orchids.

The bride is a graduate of the College of St. Mary in Omaha, and Mr. MaCoy attended the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma.

Anniversary

Nebraska Wesleyan University President Vance Rogers, and Mrs. Rogers, were the honored guests on Sunday at a reception at the Campus Center for which university Faculty Auxiliary members were hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, who will observe their 25th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, greeted the guests with their daughters, Nancy Ann and Mary Lou.

Coming from out of town for the celebration were Mr. Rogers' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rogers of Lake City, Minn., and Mrs. Rogers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Yarwood of Elgin, Ill.

Assisting as hosts and hostesses were Prof. and Mrs. Joe Wampler, Prof. and Mrs. Lewis Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Johnson, Dean Ethel Johnson and Prof. Bernice Halbert.

Presiding at the refreshment table were Mrs. Paul Laursen, Mrs. Carroll Moore and Mrs. Lewis A. Schafer.

Members of the arrangements committee were Mrs. Harold Hall, Mrs. Schafer, Mrs. Walter French, Mrs. Fred Blumer, Mrs. Charles E. Sconyers, Mrs. Laursen, Mrs. William Cascini, Mrs. David Clark, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. William Mountcastle and Mrs. Wampler.

always fun in the suburban areas

Howdy-do Suburbia! And away we go on another busy week in those pretty sections that encircle Lincoln. If this week is anything like the one directly behind us, there will be active people galore in Suburbia for the next several days.

Some of those who have been inducted into Suburbia's "Very Busy Set," are residents of the South Hills area and we will begin this morning's social news with some of their recent adventures.

SOUTH HILLS

Vacation time with the grandparents ended Sunday for Debbie and Dwight Starkey. The two had spent one week with first their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Christine Schiven at Cedar Rapids and then with their paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Starkey at Albion. The visiting twosome were met in Albion on Sunday by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Starkey and sons, Dale and Duane, and the six Starkeys returned home the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wichauser also tell us that their children are doing the vacationing in their family. Their traveling daughters are in Chicago and will be there until Thursday. They are attending a convention and taking in the sights of one of the nation's largest cities. The pair, namely Miss Linda and Terri Wichauser were accompanied to Chicago by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Poska.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Smith and their two children, Kevin and Joan, are boxing their beginnings for their end-of-the-month move to Simi, Calif. The foursome is busy with moving plans but still try to find time for making vacation plans. It seems that the four will be on their way east as soon as their belongings are traveling westward towards the new home. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will motor to Punxsutawney, Pa., for a visit with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson. The two-week visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will be followed by an across-the-country trip to the California home.

But we have news of a family moving into the South Hills area. They are Mr. and Mrs. John Berigan who formerly resided in O'Neill before coming to Lincoln and to 3703 So. 17th. Welcome to the area!

of the town

It's still a young week, and its filled with vim and vigor—if we may trust our calendar, and we do. There was an informal dinner last evening, for instance—when the honored guest was Capt. William Ludwick, USN. The dinner host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bookstrom who invited only members of the family to the party.

Capt. Ludwick arrived from Washington D.C. last week to particpate in the Swingfest activities, and to visit his father, Dr. Ralph Ludwick, and his brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Ludwick, Jr.

And that reminds us that on Sunday morning Dr. and Mrs. Ludwick, Jr., entertained at a post-Swingfest brunch at their home, in courtesy to Capt. Ludwick.

A July bride-elect comes in for attention this morning. She is Miss Mary Quinn whose marriage to Norman William Wilkins will be solemnized on July 10.

Complimenting Miss Quinn at a 10:30 o'clock coffee at the Lincoln Country Club today will be Mrs. C. Robert Mowbray. Twenty-five guests have been invited, and the bride-elect will be presented with a pottery shower.

Incidentally, Miss Quinn tells us that the members of the bridal entourage have been chosen. For her matron of honor the bride-elect has chosen her sister, Mrs. William H. Clark of Omaha, and the maid of honor will be Miss Susie Cole. Included in the foursome of bridesmaids will be Miss Joyce Bartling of Fremont; Miss Ann Kosman of Scottsbluff; Miss Polly Brown of Broken Bow, and Miss Lynn Wilkins of Cozad.

Paul Haumont of Broken Bow will serve Mr. Wilkins as best man, and the groomsmen will be Dwight Sukup, David Burkholder, both of Cozad; Roger Stuhmer, Ron Young, both of North Platte, and Steve Bowers. The ushers include Gary Hergenrader, Jack Wilkins, both of Cozad, and John Quinn II, brother of the bride.

Hear that Dr. and Mrs. John A. Brown, III, and their two guests from Edinburgh, Scotland, Mrs. James Cessford and her daughter, Miss Angela Cessford, have returned from a 'tour' of the Midwest. Dr. and Mrs. Brown wanted to show the visitors the scenery in western Nebraska, the mountains in Colorado, and the Black Hills—and the Badlands. What they didn't plan for their guests was the flood in Colorado. However, the return trip home was made by way of Cheyenne, and all went well.

PARTY

Honored at a reception at the Nebraska Center Monday afternoon were the national officers of Delta Delta Delta women's fraternity who are in Lincoln for the organization's fifth biennial Leadership School.

From the left are Mrs. A. G. Sollberger of Houston, Tex., alumnae vice president; Mrs. Ray F. Euse, Seattle, membership director; Mrs. J. Allen Nye, Jr., Dayton, Ohio, collegiate vice president; Mrs. J. D. Searles, Cumberland, Md., finance director; Mrs. Howard L. Ramey, Eugene, Ore., associate director and co-chairman for the conference; and Mrs. J. L. Perry, Jr., Nashville, Tenn., national president.

A graduate of Vanderbilt University where she served as president of Mortar Board, Mrs. Perry is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and is a past president of the Nashville Symphony Guild.

First Major Spending Measure Passed By Legislature

Nebraska's Legislature passed its first major spending bill of the current session Monday, a measure launching the state on an accelerated, six-year, $68.5 million capital construction program.

LB890, introduced by the Budget Committee, was approved 39-9 on its final test and goes next to Gov. Frank Morrison for signature into law.

Voting against the bill on final reading were Sens. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha, Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, S. H. Brauer of Norfolk, Harold T. Moylan of Omaha, Frank Nelson of O'Neill, Chester Paxton of Thedford, Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha, William Skarda of Omaha and William Wylie of Elgin.

Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper was absent. All others voted for passage

For the first two years beginning July 1, the expenditures for new buildings or improvements will total $23 million of new state money. Added to this will be roughly $5 million in available federal matching money, along with several million dollars in accumulated but unspent money raised by the present building levy.

To finance the program, the state building tax levy, now totaling 2.025 mills, will be increased to 3.2 mills ($3.20 per $1,000 of assessed valuation), a hike of 1.175 mill.

Chief benefactor will be the University of Nebraska, tabbed to receive $15.8 million in the next two years.

Other recipients of construction money and the amounts provided in the biennium beginning July 1 include Chadron State College, $691,617; Kearney State, $200,000; Peru State, $625,230; Wayne State, $282,500; School for Deaf, $720,486, Milford Trade School, $380,000; Home for Children, $185,100; Beatrice State Home, $24,468; Soldiers and Sailors Home, $581,000; Hastings State Hospital, $725,500; Lincoln State Hospital, $226,000; Norfolk State Hospital, $280,000; Orthopedic Hospital in Lincoln, $29,500; Hospital for Tuberculosis at Kearney, $6,500; Penal Complex, $88,000; Women's Reformatory, $8,000, Boys Training School at Kearney, $5,000; Capital Building Commission, $204,010; Military Department, $194,800; Capitol Murals, $18,000.

Other bills passed Monday (E-emergency clause)

LB70 — Providing that candidates for public office in first and second class cities and villages may be nominated at a primary election (Payne) (38-0).

LB360 — Increasing from 20 to 25 mills the maximum city mill levy in first class cities (Kjar, Hasebroock, Holmquist) (32-15)

LB496 — Providing for inspection of livestock consigned within, entering into or passing through the brand inspection area (Adamson, Nelson, Gerdes, Fleming) (48-0).

LB493 — Providing that the Legislature shall appropriate the money to insure actuarial soundness of the Nebraska safety patrolmen's retirement system (Gerdes, Stryker) (40-5).

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes . . . Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N.Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.

This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe when used as directed that now it can be sold—without prescription in most states—in tiny tablets called Primatene®. These Primatene Tablets open bronchial tubes, loosen congestion, relieve taut nervous tension. All without painful injections.

The secret is—Primatene combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress.

Recreation Program Results To Start Showing Up In '66

By LARRY J. FRUHLING
United Press International

The first tangible results of a sweeping new federal recreation development program will begin showing up in Nebraska early next year, State Game Commission Director Mel O. Steen predicted Monday.

Steen said Nebraska's cut of the Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund Act should be about $1,250,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"I doubt there will be much activity in this calendar year," Steen said. "Allocations to the states are virtually assured, but there will be no grants until the money is collected."

Steen said the federal money will come to Nebraska and other states as it is gathered by the federal government.

3 Sources

He said the federal funds will come from three main sources — the sale of surplus government land, the federal tax on motor boat fuel and receipts from a new program of selling annual permits to national parks and recreation areas.

Nebraska's $1.25 million allotment is based on "anticipated income" from the sources, Steen noted.

What will the program mean to Nebraska?

According to Steen, it could result in a $2.5 million spree of recreation development by one year from now if all works out as planned.

And this is only for the first year of the program. Steen expects the federal appropriation to Nebraska to about double in two years as the program "gets rolling."

Must Be Matched

Since the federal money must be matched by state and local government, recreation developments in Nebraska could multiply at the rate of $5 million worth a year.

The State Legislature this session enacted a two cent a pack increase in the cigarette tax that took effect April 1. The commission was allowed 35% of the increase—about $1 million a year—for matching funds for the federal act.

A portion of the state fund will go to political subdivisions (counties, towns, etc.) to help get in on the program. The result, for community developments, will be 50% federal funds, with the state and local group splitting the other half.

For state projects, the state and federal government will share costs 50-50, according to Steen.

Steen said the program could lead to $1 million in local developments during the coming fiscal year, along with $1.5 million in state projects.

Council Tables Annexing Plan

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The controversial ordinance providing for the annexation of 140 acres of land near 70th and Normal Blvd. has been tabled by the City Council until it considers the capital improvements budget for fiscal 1965-66.

Both the original ordinance and an amendment limiting the annexation to the north 80 acres of the tract were put on the pending list Monday so that council members can review sewer and water line construction priorities during July and August budget hearings.

Construction of a water line on South St. and a sewer line through the north 80 acres, both affecting the area considered for annexation, has been proposed for the coming fiscal year.

But council members indicated that to annex the area now would "prejudge the capital improvements budget."

Councilman John Comstock commented. "We should look over the whole program and see if we need to spend the money elsewhere."

Mayor Dean Petersen informed the council that the contract between the rural fire district serving the area and the city is in good standing, but the district can't find an insurance company to insure the city fireman who drives the district's pumper truck.

Major Factor

The fire protection question has been one of the major factors in considering whether to annex the area.

For the third consecutive week area residents attended the council meeting to hear deliberations on the annexation ordinance.

The council has generally agreed that the area will eventually be annexed, but there has been no concensus among the members whether to proceed with annexation now, or wait until land east of 70th is developed.

Council members said that they want a general review of the city's over-all annexation policy.

In other action, the council approved the recommendation of the Board of Zoning Appeals and denied two applications of Tomlinson Advertising, Inc. for the waiver of setback requirements on property between Calvert and 17th, along Neb. 2.

A third application, for property on Neb. 2 between 48th and 56th was approved and the waiver granted.

Tomlinson has located 18 outdoor advertising signs along Neb. 2, and was appealing an ordinance requirement providing for a 30 foot setback from the property line.

Recommended Denial

The appeal board had recommended denial of all of the applications on the basis that the signs were built without a sign permit.

Tomlinson contended that the refusal of the building inspection department to issue a permit does not allow the full utilization of the property.

After the hearing on the appeals, council members agreed that the city should confer with outdoor advertising representatives in an effort to "straighten out" the sign ordinance.

The council passed a resolution introduced by Carroll Thompson calling for the city to improve its ability to facilitate industrial expansion.

The resolution asked for a review by the council and the mayor of city ordinances relating to industry in the city and the administrative procedures relating to the establishment of new industry and the expansion of existing industry.

EXPANSION OF BAR OK'D

The City Council has approved the application of Verne and Eleanor Gibson to enlarge their premises operating under an on-and-off sale beer license at 322 So. 9th.

The Gibsons, owners of The Gaslight, will include in their expanded operation the weekly presentation of "Mellerdrammers".

Attorney Doug Marti told the council that Gibson has complied with police department requirements in remodeling the vacant portion of his building.

The council also approved:

—the application of Beulah M. Bormann and Jean Catt for a bottle club license at the Clayton House, 10th and O.

—An application for an ownership change in the on and off sale beer license at the Happy Hour, 133 No. 12th.

—The manager application of Harold Portis for Moose Lodge No. 175.

Action On Air Zoning Postponed

The City Council Monday postponed until its next meeting final action on the airport zoning ordinance, a measure which will regulate and limit the height of structures in the vicinity of Lincoln Municipal Airport.

The ordinance was held over so that the language of the penalty section can be rewritten to correspond with state law.

The ordinance appears headed for approval, but some members of the council questioned the necessity of restricting to 150 feet the height of structures within approach and turning zones, parts of which fall in portions of the downtown business district.

The council was informed that existing structures which exceed the 150 feet restriction have been determined not to be hazards, or have been marked and lighted.

(Included in this category: Terminal Bldg. with KFMQ tower; NPPS stacks on 9th St.; Stuart Bldg.; Federal Securities Bldg.; and the KLIN radio tower.)

Rolland Harr, Airport Authority executive director, Chauncey Barney, Airport Authority Attorney, and Walter Kreuscher, state airport engineer, appeared at the ordinance's public hearing and made the following points:

—There is a need for wider approach and turning zones for instrument landings.

—Height restrictions in the airport zoning ordinance do not exceed requirements of existing zoning ordinances.

—The ordinance does not regulate land use.

—Standards in the proposed ordinance are virtually the same nation-wide.

—If some form of airport zoning conforming to state and federal regulations is not passed, the Airport Authority will be unable to receive state and federal funds for aviation projects.

The ordinance also provides for the enforcement of its provisions by the city building inspection department and the appointment of the Board of Zoning Appeals, or possibly a similar body, as a board of adjustment to hear appeals from the ordinance.

The decision of the board would be final, with further appeal to the district court instead of the City Council.

Council Tables Annexing Plan

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The controversial ordinance providing for the annexation of 140 acres of land near 70th and Normal Blvd. has been tabled by the City Council until it considers the capital improvements budget for fiscal 1965-66.

Both the original ordinance and an amendment limiting the annexation to the north 80 acres of the tract were put on the pending list Monday so that council members can review sewer and water line construction priorities during July and August budget hearings.

Construction of a water line on South St. and a sewer line through the north 80 acres, both affecting the area considered for annexation, has been proposed for the coming fiscal year.

But council members indicated that to annex the area now would "prejudge the capital improvements budget."

Councilman John Comstock commented, "We should look over the whole program and see if we need to spend the money elsewhere."

Mayor Dean Petersen informed the council that the contract between the rural fire district serving the area and the city is in good standing, but the district can't find an insurance company to insure the city fireman who drives the district's pumper truck.

Major Factor

The fire protection question has been one of the major factors in considering whether to annex the area.

For the third consecutive week area residents attended the council meeting to hear deliberations on the annexation ordinance.

The council has generally agreed that the area will eventually be annexed, but there has been no concensus among the members whether to proceed with annexation now, or wait until land east of 70th is developed.

Council members said that they want a general review of the city's over-all annexation policy.

In other action, the council approved the recommendation of the Board of Zoning Appeals and denied two applications of Tomlinson Advertising, Inc. for the waiver of setback requirements on property between Calvert and 17th, along Neb. 2.

A third application, for property on Neb. 2 between 48th and 56th was approved and the waiver granted.

Tomlinson has located 18 outdoor advertising signs along Neb. 2, and was appealing an ordinance requirement providing for a 30 foot setback from the property line.

Recommended Denial

The appeal board had recommended denial of all of the applications on the basis that the signs were built without a sign permit.

Tomlinson contended that the refusal of the building inspection department to issue a permit does not allow the full utilization of the property.

After the hearing on the appeals, council members agreed that the city should confer with outdoor advertising representatives in an effort to "straighten out" the sign ordinance.

The council passed a resolution introduced by Carroll Thompson calling for the city to improve its ability to facilitate industrial expansion.

The resolution asked for a review by the council and the mayor of city ordinances relating to industry in the city and the administrative procedures relating to the establishment of new industry and the expansion of existing industry.

Women In Closets

A letter from Seward citing bad conditions at Enders Dam brought a quick response from Wiley Green of Wauneta.

Green writes, "In reply to the little gal from Seward who has a hissy over Nebraska being a backward state and cited Enders Dam as consisting of 'green stinking water, dust and burned out trees,' let me say that:

"I'm a resident of this territory and our homes all have a closet where we put our women who speak out of turn. Usually if they are good, we let them out after lunch!"

COMMENT—If they are put in the closet just for speaking out of turn, how do you punish them when they are really bad—make them sit for three hours in the 'green stinking water'?

Friendship Endangered

Had Morris Shapiro and Dave Weil, both of St Louis, not been such agreeable fellows, their friendship could have ended recently on a St. Louis golf course

Both hit iron shots on a 165-yard blind hole and one of the balls wound up in the hole. Both golfers were playing Titlist No. 6 out of same three-pack.

The two golfers carefully studied both balls and finally Shapiro was declared the owner of the hole-in-one because the ball in the cup was the cleaner of the two and Weil had played with his longer.

Impersonal Personalized Balls

A Columbus, Ohio, golfer recently ordered nine dozen personalized golf balls, a dozen for himself and the same for each of eight friends.

He wrote, "See other side, please," on the bottom of the order blank, then listed the nine names on the back side of the sheet.

He now has nine dozen balls stamped, "See other side, please."

No Dashing Adventurer

A recent survey conducted by a leading manufacturer of sports cars shows that the average sports car owner is neither a devil-may-care personality nor a dashing adventurer as portrayed in the movies.

The survey showed the average sports car owner to be 34 years old, well educated, holding a responsible business position and with an income above the national average for new car buyers.

More than half commute to their jobs from the suburbs and a majority have a second car. He also is apt to have a ruddy complexion from driving with the top down.

Yankees Still Paying Tuition

Although Curt Blefary is getting his hits these days for the Baltimore Orioles, the young outfielder is still on the Yankees' payroll. Under the terms of his original bonus pact, the Yankees are still paying for his college education.

The USGA has issued a warning to amateur golfers regarding the amount of prizes they may receive in competition.

An amateur is endangering his amateur status under USGA rules if he (1) accepts any prize with a retail value exceeding $200; (2) accepts any prize of a nature which is the equivalent of money or makes it readily convertible into money; and (3) accepting expenses in any amount to play in golf competition after the 18th birthday.

—AFTER 3-HOLE PLAYOFF—

GI Pro Qualifies

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Omaha — Merle Backlund, pro at Grand Island's Riverside Golf Club, won the playoff on the third extra hole at the Omaha Country Club here Monday to gain a spot in the National PGA, slated for Laurel Valley Country Club at Ligonier, Pa., August 12-15.

Backlund and Bonny Graham of the Sioux City, Iowa, Country Club had tied with one-under-par 141's at the end of Monday's 36-hole sectional qualifying here.

Playing in the same threesome, both fired one-under-par 70's during the morning round, then came in with even par 71's over the tree-laden Omaha Country Club course Monday afternoon.

Both Backlund and Graham parred the first two holes of the playoff, and then Backlund won with a par on the 180-yard par three third hole while Graham took a bogey.

Backlund scored seven birdies during the 36-hole qualifying. His longest birdie putt came at the ninth hole, which he birdied with a 22-foot putt during the morning round and sank a 45-footer for a birdie in the afternoon.

Backlund came back from three straight bogeys on Nos. 4, 5 and 6 during the morning to come in with a one-under-par 70 at the lunch break.

Graham needed an eagle-two on the 346-yard 17th hole to tie Backlund on the first 18 holes. After three-putting the 16th, Graham chipped in from 80 yards away for the eagle on 17 that put him one-under par.

Backlund will join Omaha Country Club pro Bob Popp as Nebraska's representatives in the National PGA tournament. Popp qualified by winning the Nebraska State PGA championship by one stroke over Lincoln Country Club pro Bud Williamson last October in Lincoln.

Qualifying scores:

Merle Backlund, Grand Island	70-71—141
Bonny Graham, Sioux City	70-71—141
(Backlund won playoff on third extra hole).
Bob Schuchart, Omaha Happy Hollow	74-75—149
Tom Weekes, South Sioux City	74-79—153
Al Beister, Fremont	74-81—155

Lincolnites Far Back In Publinks

Omaha—Lincoln golfers finished far back in qualifying for the National Publinks golf tournament here Monday.

The closest Lincoln golfer to the qualifiers was Bob Shields with a 77-78—155, which put him seven strokes away from the qualifiers.

Galen Sorensen of Harlan, Ia., and Walt Smola of Omaha led qualifiers with 145's in the 36-hole test.

Merle Bolte of Omaha won the third qualifying spot with a 148.

Sorenson scored a hole-in-one with a four iron on the 185-yard sixth hole at Miracle Hills during the morning round. Golfers played their second 18 holes at Dodge Park in Council Bluffs.

Dean Wilson of Omaha, who finished second in the National Publinks a year ago, was not entered this year and Bob Mitera, another qualifier from a year ago, overslept and did not make the tee-off time.

her Lincoln scores:

Je y Trimble	76-81—157
Tim Nelson	79 80—159
Jerry Rockwell	76-84—160
Paul Austin	79 82—161

Williamson Loses To Tommy Bolt

Omaha—Touring pro Tommy Bolt shot a two-under-par 33 to win an exhibition golf match over Lincoln Country Club pro Bud Williamson, Omaha Country Club pro Bob Popp and Omaha Miracle Hills pro Lew Sheary here at the Omaha Country Club Monday afternoon.

Williamson birdied the first two holes en route to a par 35 while Popp had 37 and Sheary had 39.

'Blade Of Destruction' Gives Player Open Playoff Victory

Nagle Falters To 74 In Final Bid For Crown

. . . BLACK KNIGHT WINS WITH 71

St. Louis (AP)—Gary Player's putter was a blade of destruction Monday and the little master from Johannesburg carved out a three-stroke victory over demoralized Kel Nagle of Australia and became the first foreigner in 45 years to win the National Open Golf Championship.

Player, deadly on the greens, fired a one-over-par 71 and Nagle, going from hardship to disaster, shot 74 in the third Open playoff in the last four years. They had tied for the title Sunday at 282.

The triumph placed the nerveless, black-clad South African on a pinnacle with immortals Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan as the only men to complete a professional grand slam — the Masters, American PGA, U.S. and British Opens—in their lifetime.

Player won the British in 1959, the Masters in 1961 and the PGA in 1962.

"This is the realization of a dream for me," the 29-year-old mechanical man said afterward, his brown eyes welling with traces of tears. "I feel I have reached my goal."

The playoff match, played in sweltering heat before a small gallery of 6,790 over the exasperatingly long and tough Bellerive Country club course, was over almost before it started.

Intent and almost flawless until meaningless bogeys on the final two holes, Player ran in consecutive putts of 35 feet on the second and third holes, sank a downhill 10-footer to save a par at the sixth and hit the back of the cup from 20 feet on the long eighth.

These were like sword wounds to Nagle, a crusty, 44-year-old former anti-tank gunner of World War II, who three-putted two of the first seven holes and caromed two shots off spectators in taking a double bogey 6 at the rugged fifth.

He was almost glassy-eyed—a beaten man—when he reached the ninth, five shots down. He had a six-foot putt for a birdie to reduce the margin but, obviously shaken, he missed.

Player was out in 33, Nagle in 38 and the back nine was all down hill for the South African, who played it safe, down the middle and to the fat part of the greens.

The last invader to take this blue ribbon of golf championships was a paunchy Briton, Edward Ted Ray, who won at Toledo's Inverness in 1920. Ray at 43 became the oldest ever to capture the title.

The die appeared to have been cast on the opening hole, a 435-yard, par four downhill from the sprawling brick club house. Both were on the massive green in two, but Nagle three-putted from 30 feet, missing a four-footer, to get into a hole from which he never recovered.

He electrified the gallery by rolling in a 32-footer on top of Gary's 35-footer at the second, but Player repeated with another 35-footer at the third and Nagle had no answer.

He undoubtedly was pressing when he teed the ball up at the fifth, a terrifying hole with a pond 230 to 260 yards out at the right with a fairway tilted toward the hazard.

Trying to avoid this, Nagle hooked his tee shot into the crowd jammed on a small knoll on the left.

The ball struck a woman spectator, Alma Pearson of Milwaukee, on the head, and she fell to the ground.

When Nagle got to his ball, lying in the thick Bermuda rough on the side of the hill, the woman was lying prone on the ground, seemingly unconscious.

There was bedlam. Photographers were snapping flash bulbs. Curious spectators were pressing forward. U.S. Golf Association officials, in blue arm bands, were attempting to restore order.

"How is she? Is she all right?" Nagle inquired.

"She's okay—go ahead and shoot," someone replied.

Nagle appeared to be shaking a bit when he addressed the ball, deep in the grass and with a sidehill lie.

He ripped into the ball. The ball veered to the left again, striking another spectator, Mrs. Carmen Barrea of Plainfield, N.J., on the ankle, and then dribbling about 15 feet onto the fairway.

This was enough to stagger the strongest man. Nagle played his third into a gaping trap, blasted out 35 feet short and took two putts for a double bogey 6.

The two women were taken to a nearby hospital. Authorities announced neither was hurt seriously—Miss Pearson had a scalp wound and Mrs. Barrea a swollen ankle.

He three-putted the seventh, missing from 18 inches, and went five shots down when Player got his 20-foot birdie putt on the 580-yard eighth. When Nagle missed the six-footer at the ninth, everybody knew it was all over.

The 10th hole was halved in bogeys, and Player maintained his five-stroke advantage through the 16th.

Playing cautiously with his big lead, he bogeyed the 606-yard 17th with a 6 when his first two shots were in the rough and went one over again on the par 4 18th after his drive went into some trees.

The victory was worth $25,000 for Player, plus a $1,000 playoff bonus, with Nagle, winner of the 1960 British Open, collecting $12,500 plus $1,000.

However, Player's business manager, Mark McCormack of Cleveland, said the achievement would be worth half a million dollars during the next year in endorsements, television appearances and added exhibitions.

This will help feed the mouths of Player's wife and four children in Johannesburg, the children's ages ranging from six years to 14 days.

The little South African, a member of golf's big three which also includes Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, is one of the most colorful figures in golf.

Concerned about his lack of size, he went on a spartan training schedule which included dietetic foods such as raisins and bananas and took weight-lifting and push-up exercises to build his strength.

He developed arms like Popeye the Sailor and lengthened his drives by 15 yards.

Cold and methodical, he is a South African Ben Hogan. He plays management—instead of power—golf. He plays for position instead of length.

"I have to," he says. "I am not a giant, you know." But there are those who will disagree with him there.

Witt's Juniors Waylay LAFB With 9-Hit Attack

. . . LED BY JOHN McENIRY

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Sports Writer

Witt's Juniors, smarting from a no-hit loss to Bellevue, unleashed a nine hit attack to defeat the Lincoln Air Force Base Colts, 9-4, at Sherman Field Monday night.

Witt's right-hander John McEniry, taking the win in relief, was also the big gun at the plate, doubling twice and bringing in three runs.

LAFB jumped off to a 2-0 lead, scoring one run in the first on a walk to Jim Thomas who scored on a throwing error by Witt's shortstop Dick Burke, and another run in the second when Bill King doubled and crossed the plate on a wild pitch by starter Craig Carlson.

But Witt's broke loose in the third with three runs when Burke singled, went to second on a wild pitch by loser Bruce Holmes and scored on a single by Don Duncan.

Duncan crossed the plate via an error by shortstop Thomas on Mike Bohaty's line drive, and Bohaty scored on McEniry's first double.

LAFB took the lead again in the top of the fourth, scoring two runs on a double by Roger Holmes which brought in Bruce Holmes and Ed Couture.

George Hanigan and Joe Sutera scored on a single by Duncan and a double by Dana Stephenson in the bottom of the fourth and put Witt's in the lead permanently

Hanigan walked, took third on two consecutive fielder's choices and scored on Duncan's single.

Sutera reached first on a fielder's choice, grabbed third on Duncan's single, and crossed the plate via Stephenson's double to left field.

After scoring single insurance runs in the fifth and sixth, Witt's iced the game in the eighth with two runs on McEniry's second double.

Stephenson led off the attack with a single to center, and Bohaty doubled him to third with a shot to left that hit the fence on one bounce before McEniry delivered his blow.

LAFB's record now stands at one win and five losses while Witt's is five and two.

Jim Brown Faces Assault Charge

Cleveland, Ohio (UPI)—Jim Brown, the dazzling fullback of the Cleveland Browns, was charged Monday with assault and battery upon an 18-year-old girl in a motel room.

Brenda Ayres, an attractive Negro girl whose mother said she quit high school after meeting the record-smashing fullback, filed the charge in police court.

Miss Ayres, with her mother standing nearby, said that Brown slapped and bruised her in a motel room early Sunday morning.

Brown, one of the greatest Negro athletes of all times, surrendered at Central Police Station upon hearing the warrant had been issued. He was released in personal bond for an appearance in Municipal Court (at 9 a.m. EDT) Monday morning. He was not available for comment.

Miss Ayres was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Barbara Ayres, when she arrived at the police station to file the complaint.

The girl told Police Prosecutor Edward Kane that the 29-year-old Brown slapped her several times on the face and body, and squeezed her arms and legs until they hurt.

Mrs. Ayres said she took her daughter to St. Luke Hospital for treatment of bruises.

Miss Ayres said that she met the big fullback, who earned All-America honors at Syracuse University, at the home of a friend May 12.

Her mother joined in to say the girl dropped out of the 11th grade shortly after meeting Brown.

Brown was married to the former Sue Jones of Columbus, Ga. in 1958. They have three children. The family lives here and Brown is a public relations man for a soft drink firm during the off-season.

The police prosecutor said that Miss Ayres "came in and said she wanted to make a complaint, that she felt assault and battery had been committed."

"She made a personal complaint and signed it." Kaane said.

Brown left the police station immediately after authorities released him on his own word to appear in Municipal Court Monday.

Brown's wife said that the record-breaking fullback left home Monday morning to play golf and she did not know when he would return.

Women In Closets

A letter from Seward citing bad conditions at Enders Dam brought a quick response from Wiley Green of Wauneta.

Green writes, "In reply to the little gal from Seward who has a hissy over Nebraska being a backward state and cited Enders Dam as consisting of 'green stinking water, dust and burned out trees,' let me say that:

"I'm a resident of this territory and our homes all have a closet where we put our women who speak out of turn. Usually if they are good, we let them out after lunch!"

COMMENT—If they are put in the closet just for speaking out of turn, how do you punish them when they are really bad—make them sit for three hours in the 'green stinking water'?

Friendship Endangered

Had Morris Shapiro and Dave Weil, both of St. Louis, not been such agreeable fellows, their friendship could have ended recently on a St. Louis golf course.

Both hit iron shots on a 165-yard blind hole and one of the balls wound up in the hole. Both golfers were playing Titlist No. 6 out of same three-pack.

The two golfers carefully studied both balls and finally Shapiro was declared the owner of the hole-in-one because the ball in the cup was the cleaner of the two and Weil had played with his longer.

Impersonal Personalized Balls

A Columbus, Ohio, golfer recently ordered nine dozen personalized golf balls, a dozen for himself and the same for each of eight friends.

He wrote, "See other side, please," on the bottom of the order blank, then listed the nine names on the back side of the sheet.

He now has nine dozen balls stamped, "See other side, please."

No Dashing Adventurer

A recent survey conducted by a leading manufacturer of sports cars shows that the average sports car owner is neither a devil-may-care personality nor a dashing adventurer as portrayed in the movies.

The survey showed the average sports car owner to be 34 years old, well educated, holding a responsible business position and with an income above the national average for new car buyers.

More than half commute to their jobs from the suburbs and a majority have a second car. He also is apt to have a ruddy complexion from driving with the top down.

Yankees Still Paying Tuition

Although Curt Blefary is getting his hits these days for the Baltimore Orioles, the young outfielder is still on the Yankees' payroll. Under the terms of his original bonus pact, the Yankees are still paying for his college education.

The USGA has issued a warning to amateur golfers regarding the amount of prizes they may receive in competition.

An amateur is endangering his amateur status under USGA rules if he (1) accepts any prize with a retail value exceeding $200; (2) accepts any prize of a nature which is the equivalent of money or makes it readily convertible into money; and (3) accepting expenses in any amount to play in golf competition after the 18th birthday.

GI Pro Qualifies

Omaha — Merle Backlund, pro at Grand Island's Riverside Golf Club, won the playoff on the third extra hole at the Omaha Country Club here Monday to gain a spot in the National PGA, slated for Laurel Valley Country Club at Ligonier, Pa., August 12-15.

Backlund and Bonny Graham of the Sioux City, Iowa, Country Club had tied with one-under-par 141's at the end of Monday's 36-hole sectional qualifying here.

Playing in the same threesome, both fired one-under-par 70's during the morning round, then came in with even par 71's over the tree-laden Omaha Country Club course Monday afternoon.

Both Backlund and Graham parred the first two holes of the playoff, and then Backlund won with a par on the 180-yard par three third hole while Graham took a bogey.

Backlund scored seven birdies during the 36-hole qualifying. His longest birdie putt came at the ninth hole, which he birdied with a 22-foot putt during the morning round and sank a 45-footer for a birdie in the afternoon.

Backlund came back from three straight bogeys on Nos. 4, 5 and 6 during the morning to come in with a one-under-par 70 at the lunch break.

Graham needed an eagle-two on the 346-yard 17th hole to tie Backlund on the first 18 holes. After three-putting the 16th, Graham chipped in from 80 yards away for the eagle on 17 that put him one-under par.

Backlund will join Omaha Country Club pro Bob Popp as Nebraska's representatives in the National PGA tournament. Popp qualified by winning the Nebraska State PGA championship by one stroke over Lincoln Country Club pro Bud Williamson last October in Lincoln.

Qualifying scores:

Merle Backlund, Grand Island	70-71—141
Bonny Graham, Sioux City	70-71—141
(Backlund won playoff on third extra hole).
Bob Schuchart, Omaha Happy Hollow	74-75—149
Tom Weekes, South Sioux City	74-79—153
Al Beister, Fremont	74-81—155

Lincolnites Far Back In Publinks

Omaha—Lincoln golfers finished far back in qualifying for the National Publinks golf tournament here Monday.

The closest Lincoln golfer to the qualifiers was Bob Shields with a 77-78—155, which put him seven strokes away from the qualifiers.

Galen Sorensen of Harlan, Ia., and Walt Smola of Omaha led qualifiers with 145's in the 36-hole test.

Merle Bolte of Omaha won the third qualifying spot with a 148.

Sorenson scored a hole-in-one with a four iron on the 185-yard sixth hole at Miracle Hills during the morning round. Golfers played their second 18 holes at Dodge Park in Council Bluffs.

Dean Wilson of Omaha, who finished second in the National Publinks a year ago, was not entered this year and Bob Mitera, another qualifier from a year ago, overslept and did not make the tee-off time.

Other Lincoln scores:

Jerry Trimble	76-81—157
Tim Nelson	79-80—159
Jerry Rockwell	76-84—160
Paul Austin	79-82—161
George Snider	withdrew

Williamson Loses To Tommy Bolt

Omaha—Touring pro Tommy Bolt shot a two-under-par 33 to win an exhibition golf match over Lincoln Country Club pro Bud Williamson, Omaha Country Club pro Bob Popp and Omaha Miracle Hills pro Lew Sheary here at the Omaha Country Club Monday afternoon.

Williamson birdied the first two holes en route to a par 35 while Popp had 37 and Sheary had 39.

'Blade Of Destruction' Gives Player Open Playoff Victory

. . . BLACK KNIGHT WINS WITH 71

St. Louis (AP)—Gary Player's putter was a blade of destruction Monday and the little master from Johannesburg carved out a three-stroke victory over demoralized Kel Nagle of Australia and became the first foreigner in 45 years to win the National Open Golf Championship.

Player, deadly on the greens, fired a one-over-par 71 and Nagle, going from hardship to disaster, shot 74 in the third Open playoff in the last four years. They had tied for the title Sunday at 282.

The triumph placed the nerveless, black-clad South African on a pinnacle with immortals Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan as the only men to complete a professional grand slam — the Masters, American PGA, U.S. and British Opens—in their lifetime.

Player won the British in 1959, the Masters in 1961 and the PGA in 1962.

"This is the realization of a dream for me," the 29-year-old mechanical man said afterward, his brown eyes welling with traces of tears. "I feel I have reached my goal."

The playoff match, played in sweltering heat before a small gallery of 6,790 over the exasperatingly long and tough Bellerive Country club course, was over almost before it started.

Intent and almost flawless until meaningless bogeys on the final two holes, Player ran in consecutive putts of 35 feet on the second and third holes, sank a downhill 10-footer to save a par at the sixth and hit the back of the cup from 20 feet on the long eighth.

These were like sword wounds to Nagle, a crusty, 44-year-old former anti-tank gunner of World War II, who three-putted two of the first seven holes and caromed two shots off spectators in taking a double bogey 6 at the rugged fifth.

He was almost glassy-eyed—a beaten man—when he reached the ninth, five shots down. He had a six-foot putt for a birdie to reduce the margin but, obviously shaken, he missed.

Player was out in 33, Nagle in 38 and the back nine was all down hill for the South African, who played it safe, down the middle and to the fat part of the greens.

The last invader to take this blue ribbon of golf championships was a paunchy Briton, Edward Ted Ray, who won at Toledo's Inverness in 1920. Ray at 43 became the oldest ever to capture the title.

The die appeared to have been cast on the opening hole, a 435-yard, par four downhill from the sprawling brick club house. Both were on the massive green in two, but Nagle three-putted from 30 feet, missing a four-footer, to get into a hole from which he never recovered.

He electrified the gallery by rolling in a 32-footer on top of Gary's 35-footer at the second, but Player repeated with another 35-footer at the third and Nagle had no answer.

He undoubtedly was pressing when he teed the ball up at the fifth, a terrifying hole with a pond 230 to 260 yards out at the right with a fairway tilted toward the hazard.

Trying to avoid this, Nagle hooked his tee shot into the crowd jammed on a small knoll on the left.

The ball struck a woman spectator, Alma Pearson of Milwaukee, on the head, and she fell to the ground.

When Nagle got to his ball, lying in the thick Bermuda rough on the side of the hill, the woman was lying prone on the ground, seemingly unconscious.

There was bedlam. Photographers were snapping flash bulbs. Curious spectators were pressing forward. U.S. Golf Association officials, in blue arm bands, were attempting to restore order.

"How is she? Is she all right?" Nagle inquired.

"She's okay—go ahead and shoot," someone replied.

Nagle appeared to be shaking a bit when he addressed the ball, deep in the grass and with a sidehill lie.

He ripped into the ball. The ball veered to the left again, striking another spectator, Mrs. Carmen Barrea of Plainfield, N.J., on the ankle, and then dribbling about 15 feet onto the fairway.

This was enough to stagger the strongest man. Nagle played his third into a gaping trap, blasted out 35 feet short and took two putts for a double bogey 6.

The two women were taken to a nearby hospital. Authorities announced neither was hurt seriously—Miss Pearson had a scalp wound and Mrs. Barrea a swollen ankle.

He three-putted the seventh, missing from 18 inches, and went five shots down when Player got his 20-foot birdie putt on the 580-yard eighth. When Nagle missed the six-footer at the ninth, everybody knew it was all over.

The 10th hole was halved in bogeys, and Player maintained his five-stroke advantage through the 16th.

Playing cautiously with his big lead, he bogeyed the 606-yard 17th with a 6 when his first two shots were in the rough and went one over again on the par 4 18th after his drive went into some trees.

The victory was worth $25,000 for Player, plus a $1,000 playoff bonus, with Nagle, winner of the 1960 British Open, collecting $12,500 plus $1,000.

However, Player's business manager, Mark McCormack of Cleveland, said the achievement would be worth half a million dollars during the next year in endorsements, television appearances and added exhibitions.

This will help feed the mouths of Player's wife and four children in Johannesburg, the children's ages ranging from six years to 14 days.

The little South African, a member of golf's big three which also includes Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, is one of the most colorful figures in golf.

Concerned about his lack of size, he went on a spartan training schedule which included dietetic foods such as raisins and bananas and took weight-lifting and push-up exercises to build his strength.

He developed arms like Popeye the Sailor and lengthened his drives by 15 yards.

Cold and methodical, he is a South African Ben Hogan. He plays management—instead of power—golf. He plays for position instead of length.

"I have to," he says. "I am not a giant, you know." But there are those who will disagree with him there.

Witt's Juniors Waylay LAFB With 9-Hit Attack

. . . LED BY JOHN McENIRY

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Sports Writer

Witt's Juniors, smarting from a no-hit loss to Bellevue, unleashed a nine hit attack to defeat the Lincoln Air Force Base Colts, 9-4, at Sherman Field Monday night.

Witt's right-hander John McEniry, taking the win in relief, was also the big gun at the plate, doubling twice and bringing in three runs.

LAFB jumped off to a 2-0 lead, scoring one run in the first on a walk to Jim Thomas who scored on a throwing error by Witt's shortstop Dick Burke, and another run in the second when Bill King doubled and crossed the plate on a wild pitch by starter Craig Carlson.

But Witt's broke loose in the third with three runs when Burke singled, went to second on a wild pitch by loser Bruce Holmes and scored on a single by Don Duncan.

Duncan crossed the plate via an error by shortstop Thomas on Mike Bohaty's line drive, and Bohaty scored on McEniry's first double.

LAFB took the lead again in the top of the fourth, scoring two runs on a double by Roger Holmes which brought in Bruce Holmes and Ed Couture.

George Hanigan and Joe Sutera scored on a single by Duncan and a double by Dana Stephenson in the bottom of the fourth and put Witt's in the lead permanently.

Hanigan walked, took third on two consecutive fielder's choices and scored on Duncan's single.

Sutera reached first on a fielder's choice, grabbed third on Duncan's single, and crossed the plate via Stephenson's double to left field.

After scoring single insurance runs in the fifth and sixth, Witt's iced the game in the eighth with two runs on McEniry's second double.

Stephenson led off the attack with a single to center, and Bohaty doubled him to third with a shot to left that hit the fence on one bounce before McEniry delivered his blow.

LAFB's record now stands at one win and five losses while Witt's is five and two.

NFL Team To Atlanta

. . . FRANCHISE APPROVED FOR '66

New York (AP)—The National Football League staked its first claim in the Deep South Monday, voting a franchise to Atlanta for 1966 and apparently taking the prized Dixie metropolis away from the rival American Football League.

In a unanimous vote, the 14 NFL club owners approved—as expected—the initial step in the league's second major expansion project in five years.

"Our goal still is 16 teams in 1967," said an obviously pleased Peter Rozelle, the NFL commissioner. He added, however, that nothing definite on further expansion would be done until the league meeting next February.

The NFL did not say which of several interested Atlanta groups would be given the new franchise. But it did attach one proviso to the awarding of the franchise: Whoever gets it is in business only if a lease on the city's new $18 million stadium is acquired.

This is not expected to be a problem. Atlantans in general, and the people who run the stadium in particular, are known to be anxious to get into the popular and powerful NFL.

Rozelle said he had talked by phone with Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the Atlanta Stadium Authority, and reported the Atlantan Stadium Authority, and as being "very happy" over the NFL's vote.

The commissioner also said Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia "was elated" over the prospect of having an NFL team in his state.

Robert Richardson, a legal advisor to the Stadium Authority, said the group "would meet promptly on the matter, but I can't say exactly when."

Rozelle named three of the applicants for the Atlanta franchise-Rankin Smith of Atlanta, an insurance executive; Lindsey Hopkins Jr., Miami sportsman; and William Reynolds, Richmond, Va., of Reynolds Metals.

Rozelle said he would choose the new franchise holder within a short time and submit his choice to the club owners for confirmation. He added that he was certain the owners would go along with his choice.

The AFL acted first on Atlanta when it awarded a franchise to the Cox Broadcasting Corp. two weeks ago for a record $7.5 million, but its plan to put a club into the Georgia capital developed an immediate hitch.

On that same day, Rozelle told the stadium officials his league was interested in coming into the city—and the authority announced it would take no action of a pro football tenant until July 1.

That gave Rozelle time to survey the Atlanta potential and marshall the support of his club owners.

When it became apparent the NFL intended to take Atlanta in, Commissioner Joe Foss capitulated, saying that if the older league voted a franchise to Atlanta, his league would place a franchise elsewhere

Foss' assistant, Milt Woodard, softened that stand somewhat when told of the NFL's action Monday: "We also voted unanimously, so now it's up to the Atlanta stadium people."

Neely Says Oilers Used Pressure

Oklahoma City (AP)— Ralph Neely, former University of Oklahoma football lineman, testified Monday he was under pressure when he signed an undated contract with the Houston Oilers of the professional American Football League

The Oilers filed suit in U.S. District Court here contending Neely remains bound by a contract he signed at Houston last Dec. 1 and is not free to fill a contract signed Jan. 1 with the Dallas Cowboys of the rival National Football League.

Neely testified he sent the contract back to the Oilers on Dec. 29 after notifying them by telephone that he was canceling the contract. He said the contract was undated, and it was his understanding that it would not go into effect until Jan. 2.

The former OU player said when he met with Oiler owner K. S. Bud Adams Jr., and General Manager Carroll Martin at Houston to discuss playing with the Houston club, he was offered a $25,000 bonus, a four-year contract at $16,000 a year and a guaranteed annual income of $5,000 from a real estate business and service station.

But Neely said Martin told him he must sign immediately, "Otherwise, they would withdraw their offer."

Neely said he signed after specifying that the contract would not be dated until Jan. 2, following the Gator Bowl game between OU and Florida State.

Neely and three other OU lettermen were dropped from the line-up on the eve of the bowl appearance when OU coach Gomer Jones learned they had signed with professional clubs before completing their collegiate schedule.

Neely said it was after being dropped from the squad that he signed with Dallas. He said he had already notified the Cowboys he would sign and they deposited a check for $25,000 in his account at a Dallas bank on Dec. 31.

The trial resumes Tuesday.

Maye's Blow Leads Astros By Phils, 6-2

Houston (AP)— Slump-ridden Lee Maye, who earlier singled in a run, cracked a two-run triple in the seventh inning Monday night, breaking a tie and sending Houston to a 6-2 victory over Philadelphia.

Dick Farrell pitched a six-hitter for his fifth triumph against two defeats. He also clubbed a two-run single in the eighth inning when the Astros clinched the decision with three runs.

Philadelphia starter Ray Culp, now 3-4, scattered five singles in the first six innings, but his wildness got him into trouble in the seventh

Bob Lillis walked, and after Farrell sacrificed him to second, Culp walked Joe Morgan. Maye, whose batting average had shrunk to .216, brought both across with a triple, his third hit of the night.

Lindgren To Run In AAU Carnival

. . . DEFIES NCAA BAN

Spokane (AP)—Gerry Lindgren, Washington State University freshman distance star, said here Monday he would enter the National Amateur Athletic Union Track and Field Championships Saturday and Sunday in San Diego, Calif.

Lindgren's announcement came in the face of a National Collegiate Athletic Association warning that schools and athletes would be subject to penalty if they competed in the AAU event.

Lindgren said he hoped other collegiate performers would join in a boycott of the NCAA ban.

WSU Athletic Director Stan Bates reportedly was disturbed by the report and said that the school is obligated to follow the NCAA rules.

He said penalties for violation of those rules have not been determined but said Lindgren's decision could result in the loss of his athletic scholarship.

Lindgren reportedly will compete in the six-mile event at San Diego Sunday night. The best performers at the AAU meet will compete against Russia in July in Kiev.

"I feel that I have an obligation to try and make the American team," Lindgren said, "and I think all other Americans who wish to try should be permitted to do so."

Lindgren, who beat the Russians in the 10,000-meter event last year at Los Angeles, said he did not want WSU to be penalized for his action.

"If it should be, then I've thought about not returning to Pullman next year," he said.

Undergraduates from Southern California and Oregon, co-winners of the NCAA team title last weekend, reportedly will not compete in the AAU championships unless the NCAA-AAU feud is settled.

Bob Hergenrader Fires No-Hitter

Bonebright's Bob Hergenrader struck out 18 while pitching a seven inning no-hit, 4-1 victory over Gerry's in the Elks League at Elks Field Monday night.

Hergenrader lost his shutout in the second inning when Gerry's catcher Stan Grell walked, stole second and third and then scored on Jon Ogden's sacrifice fly.

Opening Night ceremonies were held Monday night with an estimated 325 on hand.

Cowan's HR Paces Mets

Los Angeles (AP)—Billy Cowan's leadoff home run in the ninth inning broke up a brilliant pitching duel between New York's Al Jackson and Los Angeles' Claude Osteen and gave the Mets a 1-0 victory Monday night.

Osteen, who pitched a one-hitter only last Wednesday night against San Francisco, held the Mets hitless for six innings. Joe Christopher, who had struck out twice, then broke the spell with a bunt single leading off the seventh.

Cowan, however, led off the ninth with his first homer of the season, a shot that sailed into the left field bullpen.

Jackson, now 3-9, allowed only three hits, coasting against the Dodgers after they failed to score with the bases loaded and two out in the first inning. Jackson ended that threat by throwing out Jeff Torborg on a grounder.

Osteen, now 6-7, and Jackson each walked three.

Small Faces Tough Test

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)— Defending champion Terry Small tapped in a two-foot putt for a par 4 on the 18th hole and said the game on the greens will be the decisive factor in the NCAA Golf Tournament this week.

Small, of San Jose, Calif., State, toured the 6,944-yard par 36-36-72 Holston Hills Country Club course in a practice round Monday in one-over-par 73. Teammate Ron Cerrudo, a strong challenger, fired a 71.

Small, who won last year's tourney in match play, said he believed he would have had a better chance to retain the title in matches but added that the 72-hole medal play being used in the college tourney for the first time "is the fair way to do it."

"I like that head-to-head competition" Small said. "I just need more experience in medal play."

The University of Houston is favored to retain its team championship, which will be decided on the basis of team totals in Wednesday's and Thursday's rounds.

Rated as strong contenders are Oklahoma State, San Jose State, Georgia, Purdue and New Mexico.

Rain Hampers Wimbledon Play

Wimbledon, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston, 22-year-old tennis star from Bakersfield, Calif., led countryman Ham Richardson 7-6 in the first set Monday when rain and fading light ended the rain-wrecked opening day of the Wimbledon Tennis Championship.

Ralston, the top-ranked U.S. player and the only American seeded in the Wimbledon men's draw, took a calculated risk in playing. He suffered a badly strained right thumb and when he went on the court his hand was wrapped in a bandage from the tip of his thumb to the top of his wrist.

Richardson, a 31-year-old veteran who has played on six U.S. Davis Cup teams, can be a formidable opponent for a sound player.

There were 64 men's singles matches scheduled Monday. Only 17 were completed.

Frick Apologizes For Braves' Ban

. . . 'HIGH-HANDED GESTURE'

Milwaukee (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick apologized to the Milwaukee Baseball Writers Monday for the one-day barring of Milwaukee Sentinel baseball reporter Lou Chapman by the Milwaukee Braves Sunday.

The Braves announced Saturday night that Chapman was barred from their clubhouse because of his stories which the club believed "of a negative nature."

The ban was lifted Sunday after the Milwaukee chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America denounced the Braves action as an "unwarranted and an infringement on the freedom of the press."

Copies of a telegram of protest were sent to Frick, among others.

In his telegraphed reply Monday to Lloyd Larson, sports editor of the Sentinel and president of the Milwaukee writers chapter, Frick said:

"Your telegram is the first information I have had concerning the press box incident. I can only apologize to you and all the writers for a thoughtless, ill considered and high handed gesture by someone in the Milwaukee organization.

"This office, while frequently disagreeing with opinions expressed by writers, has always recognized the sanctity of the press box. If this problem has not been completely resolved, I volunteer to you my full support in making sure that such incidents will not be recurrent."

Jim Fanning, assistant general manager in charge of the Milwaukee Braves operation here, took full responsibility for the ban on Chapman. The Braves' higher officials are headquartered in Atlanta in preparation for the club's move there next year.

"The stories were only part of it," Fanning said Sunday. "However, I hope the matter has been resolved. There never would have been all this trouble if I had been able to see him Saturday, but he wasn't at the ball game. Then the story broke."

The Sentinel does not publish on Sundays.

Chapman was twice rebuffed in trying to enter the clubhouse Sunday. Then he and Fanning held a conference with the result that the ban was restricted to one day and Chapman was offered a chance to interview players in the office.

Chapman said Fanning told him, "You've had a disquieting effect on ballplayers, ticket office employes and others." Fanning conceded that none of Chapman's stories, quoting visiting players on the Braves situation in Milwaukee were inaccurate or distorted.

NFL Team To Atlanta

... FRANCHISE APPROVED FOR '66

New York (AP)—The National Football League staked its first claim in the Deep South Monday, voting a franchise to Atlanta for 1966 and apparently taking the prized Dixie metropolis away from the rival American Football League.

In a unanimous vote, the 14 NFL club owners approved—as expected—the initial step in the league's second major expansion project in five years.

"Our goal still is 16 teams in 1967," said an obviously pleased Peter Rozelle, the NFL commissioner. He added, however, that nothing definite on further expansion would be done until the league meeting next February.

The NFL did not say which of several interested Atlanta groups would be given the new franchise. But it did attach one proviso to the awarding of the franchise: Whoever gets it is in business only if a lease on the city's new $18 million stadium is acquired.

This is not expected to be a problem. Atlantans in general, and the people who run the stadium in particular, are known to be anxious to get into the popular and powerful NFL.

Rozelle said he had talked by phone with Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the Atlanta Stadium Authority, and reported the Atlantan Stadium Authority, and as being "very happy" over the NFL's vote.

The commissioner also said Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia "was elated" over the prospect of having an NFL team in his state.

Robert Richardson, a legal advisor to the Stadium Authority, said the group "would meet promptly on the matter, but I can't say exactly when."

Rozelle named three of the applicants for the Atlanta franchise-Rankin Smith of Atlanta, an insurance executive; Lindsey Hopkins Jr., Miami sportsman; and William Reynolds, Richmond, Va., of Reynolds Metals.

Rozelle said he would choose the new franchise holder within a short time and submit his choice to the club owners for confirmation. He added that he was certain the owners would go along with his choice.

The AFL acted first on Atlanta when it awarded a franchise to the Cox Broadcasting Corp. two weeks ago for a record $7.5 million, but its plan to put a club into the Georgia capital developed an immediate hitch.

On that same day, Rozelle told the stadium officials his league was interested in coming into the city—and the authority announced it would take no action of a pro football tenant until July 1.

That gave Rozelle time to survey the Atlanta potential and marshall the support of his club owners.

When it became apparent the NFL intended to take Atlanta in, Commissioner Joe Foss capitulated, saying that if the older league voted a franchise to Atlanta, his league would place a franchise elsewhere.

Foss' assistant, Milt Woodard, softened that stand somewhat when told of the NFL's action Monday: "We also voted unanimously, so now it's up to the Atlanta stadium people."

Neely Says Oilers Used Pressure

Oklahoma City (AP)— Ralph Neely, former University of Oklahoma football lineman, testified Monday he was under pressure when he signed an undated contract with the Houston Oilers of the professional American Football League.

The Oilers filed suit in U.S. District Court here contending Neely remains bound by a contract he signed at Houston last Dec. 1 and is not free to fill a contract signed Jan. 1 with the Dallas Cowboys of the rival National Football League.

Neely testified he sent the contract back to the Oilers on Dec. 29 after notifying them by telephone that he was canceling the contract. He said the contract was undated, and it was his understanding that it would not go into effect until Jan. 2.

The former OU player said when he met with Oiler owner K. S. Bud Adams Jr., and General Manager Carroll Martin at Houston to discuss playing with the Houston club, he was offered a $25,000 bonus, a four-year contract at $16,000 a year and a guaranteed annual income of $5,000 from a real estate business and service station.

But Neely said Martin told him he must sign immediately, "Otherwise, they would withdraw their offer."

Neely said he signed after specifying that the contract would not be dated until Jan. 2, following the Gator Bowl game between OU and Florida State.

Neely and three other OU lettermen were dropped from the line-up on the eve of the bowl appearance when OU coach Gomer Jones learned they had signed with professional clubs before completing their collegiate schedule.

Neely said it was after being dropped from the squad that he signed with Dallas. He said he had already notified the Cowboys he would sign and they deposited a check for $25,000 in his account at a Dallas bank on Dec. 31.

The trial resumes Tuesday.

Maye's Blow Leads Astros By Phils, 6-2

Houston (AP)— Slump-ridden Lee Maye, who earlier singled in a run, cracked a two-run triple in the seventh inning Monday night, breaking a tie and sending Houston to a 6-2 victory over Philadelphia.

Dick Farrell pitched a six-hitter for his fifth triumph against two defeats. He also clubbed a two-run single in the eighth inning when the Astros clinched the decision with three runs.

Philadelphia starter Ray Culp, now 3-4, scattered five singles in the first six innings, but his wildness got him into trouble in the seventh.

Bob Lillis walked, and after Farrell sacrificed him to second, Culp walked Joe Morgan. Maye, whose batting average had shrunk to .216, brought both across with a triple, his third hit of the night.

Lindgren To Run In AAU Carnival

... DEFIES NCAA BAN

Spokane (AP)—Gerry Lindgren, Washington State University freshman distance star, said here Monday he would enter the National Amateur Athletic Union Track and Field Championships Saturday and Sunday in San Diego, Calif.

Lindgren's announcement came in the face of a National Collegiate Athletic Association warning that schools and athletes would be subject to penalty if they competed in the AAU event.

Lindgren said he hoped other collegiate performers would join in a boycott of the NCAA ban.

WSU Athletic Director Stan Bates reportedly was disturbed by the report and said that the school is obligated to follow the NCAA rules.

He said penalties for violation of those rules have not been determined but said Lindgren's decision could result in the loss of his athletic scholarship.

Lindgren reportedly will compete in the six-mile event at San Diego Sunday night. The best performers at the AAU meet will compete against Russia in July in Kiev.

"I feel that I have an obligation to try and make the American team," Lindgren said, "and I think all other Americans who wish to try should be permitted to do so."

Lindgren, who beat the Russians in the 10,000-meter event last year at Los Angeles, said he did not want WSU to be penalized for his action.

"If it should be, then I've thought about not returning to Pullman next year," he said.

Undergraduates from Southern California and Oregon, co-winners of the NCAA team title last weekend, reportedly will not compete in the AAU championships unless the NCAA-AAU feud is settled.

Bob Hergenrader Fires No-Hitter

Bonebright's Bob Hergenrader struck out 18 while pitching a seven inning no-hit, 4-1 victory over Gerry's in the Elks League at Elks Field Monday night.

Hergenrader lost his shutout in the second inning when Gerry's catcher Stan Grell walked, stole second and third and then scored on Jon Ogden's sacrifice fly.

Opening Night ceremonies were held Monday night with an estimated 325 on hand.

Cowan's HR Paces Mets

Los Angeles (AP)—Billy Cowan's leadoff home run in the ninth inning broke up a brilliant pitching duel between New York's Al Jackson and Los Angeles' Claude Osteen and gave the Mets a 1-0 victory Monday night.

Osteen, who pitched a one-hitter only last Wednesday night against San Francisco, held the Mets hitless for six innings. Joe Christopher, who had struck out twice, then broke the spell with a bunt single leading off the seventh.

Cowan, however, led off the ninth with his first homer of the season, a shot that sailed into the left field bullpen.

Jackson, now 3-9, allowed only three hits, coasting against the Dodgers after they failed to score with the bases loaded and two out in the first inning. Jackson ended that threat by throwing out Jeff Torborg on a grounder.

Osteen, now 6-7, and Jackson each walked three.

Small Faces Tough Test

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)— Defending champion Terry Small tapped in a two-foot putt for a par 4 on the 18th hole and said the game on the greens will be the decisive factor in the NCAA Golf Tournament this week.

Small, of San Jose, Calif., State, toured the 6,944-yard par 36-36-72 Holston Hills Country Club course in a practice round Monday in one-over-par 73. Teammate Ron Cerrudo, a strong challenger, fired a 71.

Small, who won last year's tourney in match play, said he believed he would have had a better chance to retain the title in matches but added that the 72-hole medal play being used in the college tourney for the first time "is the fair way to do it."

"I like that head-to-head competition" Small said. "I just need more experience in medal play."

The University of Houston is favored to retain its team championship, which will be decided on the basis of team totals in Wednesday's and Thursday's rounds.

Rated as strong contenders are Oklahoma State, San Jose State, Georgia, Purdue and New Mexico.

Rain Hampers Wimbledon Play

Wimbledon, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston, 22-year-old tennis star from Bakersfield, Calif., led countryman Ham Richardson 7-6 in the first set Monday when rain and fading light ended the rain-wrecked opening day of the Wimbledon Tennis Championship.

Ralston, the top-ranked U.S. player and the only American seeded in the Wimbledon men's draw, took a calculated risk in playing. He suffered a badly strained right thumb and when he went on the court his hand was wrapped in a bandage from the tip of his thumb to the top of his wrist.

Richardson, a 31-year-old veteran who has played on six U.S. Davis Cup teams, can be a formidable opponent for a sound player.

There were 64 men's singles matches scheduled Monday. Only 17 were completed.

... 'HIGH-HANDED GESTURE'

Milwaukee (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick apologized to the Milwaukee Baseball Writers Monday for the one-day barring of Milwaukee Sentinel baseball reporter Lou Chapman by the Milwaukee Braves Sunday.

The Braves announced Saturday night that Chapman was barred from their clubhouse because of his stories which the club believed "of a negative nature."

The ban was lifted Sunday after the Milwaukee chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America denounced the Braves action as an "unwarranted and an infringement on the freedom of the press."

Copies of a telegram of protest were sent to Frick, among others.

In his telegraphed reply Monday to Lloyd Larson, sports editor of the Sentinel and president of the Milwaukee writers chapter, Frick said:

"Your telegram is the first information I have had concerning the press box incident. I can only apologize to you and all the writers for a thoughtless, ill considered and high handed gesture by someone in the Milwaukee organization.

"This office, while frequently disagreeing with opinions expressed by writers, has always recognized the sanctity of the press box. If this problem has not been completely resolved, I volunteer to you my full support in making sure that such incidents will not be recurrent."

Jim Fanning, assistant general manager in charge of the Milwaukee Braves operation here, took full responsibility for the ban on Chapman. The Braves' higher officials are headquartered in Atlanta in preparation for the club's move there next year.

"The stories were only part of it," Fannng said Sunday. "However, I hope the matter has been resolved. There never would have been all this trouble if I had been able to see him Saturday, but he wasn't at the ball game. Then the story broke."

The Sentinel does not publish on Sundays.

Chapman was twice rebuffed in trying to enter the clubhouse Sunday. Then he and Fanning held a conference with the result that the ban was restricted to one day and Chapman was offered a chance to interview players in the office.

Chapman said Fanning told him, "You've had a disquieting effect on ballplayers, ticket office employes and others." Fanning conceded that none of Chapman's stories, quoting visiting players on the Braves situation in Milwaukee were inaccurate or distorted.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

The news that the Beatles are now Members of the Order of the British Empire is greeted around our place with mixed emotions.

The teenagers hereabouts think, "It's just too tough!" (Tough, dear hearts, is what you used to call "keen.")

The MBE was dropped on the young men of Liverpool by Her Gracious Majesty, good gracious. It is mystifying to people who thought such initials were tagged onto discoverers of penicillin.

Anyway, it is a great shot in the arm for all of us home musicians. And I immediately got out the guitar

I do a thing on—"Before he went away so far, she kissed him in the Pullman car." It brings tears to your eyes. And if I could get that song piped into Buckingham Palace, I would probably have a whole string of initials after my name.

Music has its double edges. In Stafford, England, a group of men working on electronic brains went on strike

For more pay? Shorter hours? Not so. They struck for the right to whistle while they work. It appears the management does not want them to whistle at work.

Maybe it is a superstition. You should not whistle in theatrical dressing rooms For that is bad luck It is also bad luck on ships. Also girls should not whistle

"A whistling girl and a crowing hen,
"Always come to no good end."

I have been tuning up my guitar on "The Night the Firemen Came to Mother Kelly's"

I do a few cowboy numbers —sad ones.

"They loo-uked through her fee-ew possessions,
"For the na-um that she tried to caaaa-ull."

I have a heart of gold but a tin ear. However, I don't see why I shouldn't get some honors from a queen. I am as musical as many a number I hear by the Beatles.

Music can be a comfort. I recall that "Sad Sam" Shockley used to get music without a radio. Got tuned in by something built into his head, he said.

"Sad Sam" was in stony-lonesome. Waiting for the state to give him a lethal shot of gas for his part in a prison break at Alcatraz.

The doctors said Sam was sane enough to make the legal payoff. Sam said he was a walking radio receiver. He sat in death row and tuned in on all kinds of programs. He liked music.

When they sat him down in the never-no-more chair that fatal day, he seemed happy enough. He said he was getting great reception and had a good program on.

I play a thing called, "The Night Before They Stretched O'Leary" I notice the Beatles do not play sad stuff like this. Music that puts a lump in your throat.

I play one that goes:

"He said to her right in the station,
"I hope you reach your destination."

I could put "SSHL" after my name. Old single-string hot-licks. I don't see any modern guitar players doing single-string hot licks. It is almost a lost art. Only a few of us left now. Yeah! Yeah! Yeah!

WINTERGREEN FLAVORED
SKOAL
CHEWING TOBACCO

Here's how to enjoy it most:

1. Take a small pinch of wintergreen flavored Skoal between your thumb and forefinger.
2. Place the Skoal between cheek and upper or lower gum.
3. Tuck it in comfortably with your tongue, and just leave it there. Skoal releases its rich tobacco pleasure slowly, without chewing. Every can is dated for freshness.

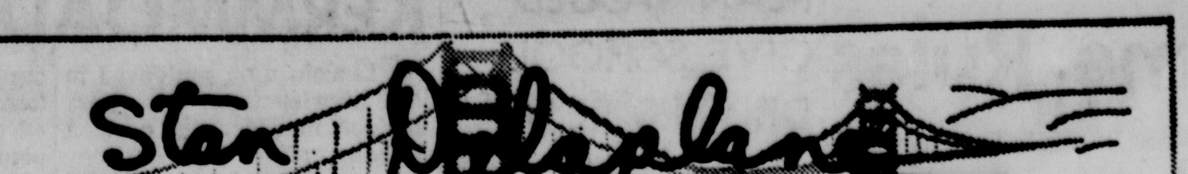
POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane



The news that the Beatles are now Members of the Order of the British Empire is greeted around our place with mixed emotions.

The teenagers hereabouts think, 'It's just too tough!" (Tough, dear hearts, is what you used to call "keen.")

The MBE was dropped on the young men of Liverpool by Her Gracious Majesty, good gracious. It is mystifying to people who thought such initials were tagged onto discoverers of penicillin.

Anyway, it is a great shot in the arm for all of us home musicians. And I immediately got out the guitar.

I do a thing on—"Before he went away so far, she kissed him in the Pullman car." It brings tears to your eyes. And if I could get that song piped into Buckingham Palace, I would probably have a whole string of initials after my name.

Music has its double edges. In Stafford, England, a group of men working on electronic brains went on strike.

For more pay? Shorter hours? Not so. They struck for the right to whistle while they work. It appears the management does not want them to whistle at work.

Maybe it is a superstition. You should not whistle in theatrical dressing rooms. For that is bad luck. It is also bad luck on ships. Also girls should not whistle.

"A whistling girl and a crowing hen,
"Always come to no good end."

I have been tuning up my guitar on "The Night the Firemen Came to Mother Kelly's."

I do a few cowboy numbers—sad ones.

"They loo-uked through her fee-ew possessions,
"For the na-um that she tried to caaaa-ull."

I have a heart of gold but a tin ear. However, I don't see why I shouldn't get some honors from a queen. I am as musical as many a number I hear by the Beatles.

Music can be a comfort. I recall that "Sad Sam" Shockley used to get music without a radio. Got tuned in by something built into his head, he said.

"Sad Sam" was in stony-lonesome. Waiting for the state to give him a lethal shot of gas for his part in a prison break at Alcatraz.

The doctors said Sam was sane enough to make the legal payoff. Sam said he was a walking radio receiver. He sat in death row and tuned in on all kinds of programs. He liked music.

When they sat him down in the never-no-more chair that fatal day, he seemed happy enough. He said he was getting great reception and had a good program on.

I play a thing called, "The Night Before They Stretched O'Leary." I notice the Beatles do not play sad stuff like this. Music that puts a lump in your throat.

I play one that goes:

"He said to her right in the station,
"I hope you reach your destination."

I could put "SSHL" after my name. Old single-string-hot-licks. I don't see any modern guitar players doing single-string hot licks. It is almost a lost art. Only a few of us left now. Yeah! Yeah! Yeah!

Two Of Carson's Teachers To Appear On His Show

Two of television personality Johnny Carson's high school teachers at Norfolk will appear on Carson's nationally televised "Johnny Carson Show" in New York City June 30.

They are Miss Faye Gordon, who was Carson's English teacher when he attended Norfolk High School, and Ted Skillstad, who was then principal of the school. Skillstad now is associated with Norfolk Junior College.

The Nebraska State Education Association is sponsoring the trip for the pair.

The appearance on the Carson show will be made in conjunction with the National Education Association Convention in New York which will run from June 27 through July 3rd. The state association will have about 70 delegates at the convention.

Mission Call

Minneapolis (UPI) — Calls have been issued to 22 prospective missionaries by The American Lutheran Church's board of world missions. The calls were extended to 10 senior seminarians, four parish pastors and eight lay persons.

Hearing Set On Nursing Home Rules

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The State Board of Health Monday agreed to hold public hearing after Sept 1 on proposed new regulations tightening Nebraska licensing standards for nursing homes

Final draft of the new regulations recommended by the State Hospital Advisory Council and developed by a special joint committee will be mailed to nursing home and other interested groups.

After hearing the standards are subject to adoption, rejection or revision by the health board

The board's attempt to hike standards for state approval of homes for he aged and infirm drew fire from the Nebraska Nursing Home Association Inc

'Adequate If Enforced'

A spokesman for the group said the current rules are adequate if properly enforced and charged the organization was "not adequately represented on the committee drafting the new standards

Under board questioning the spokesman said "not sufficient nursing home administrators were put on the committee," but a health department spokesman said the organization "had two representatives plus its executive secretary "

"That was more than any other organization some of which only had one," he added

The organization's board of directors resolution also called for "a conference with health board representatives" prior to the public hearing.

Verne Pangborn, state hospitals chief, said the majority of nursing homes in Nebraska will have to upgrade to comply with new standards.

Not Before 1957

New standards will not apply to nursing homes in existence prior to 1957, when the regulations were first revised. Pangborn said eventually Nebraska will have to throw out "the grandfather clause "

In other action, the board·

—Received a report from State Sanitation Engineer T. A Filipi that Gering has requested $61,000 in federal aid for a sewage treatment project

—Was advised that approximately $2 million in federal funds for sewage treatment has been requested, but the State Water Pollution Control Council won't determine project priorities until the amount of the federal allocation is known.

—Learned from Filipi that Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen will meet Thursday with packing house operators to enlist their cooperation on preliminary and permanent waste treatment facilities.

—Was advised that Pangborn and Dr E. A Rogers, state health director, plan to meet June 28 in Kearney with the Buffalo County Medical Society to discuss the concept of regional planning for medical facilities.

Tougher Pool Rules 'Might Be Necessary'

State Sanitation Engineer T. A Filipi told the State Board of Health Monday that it may be necessary to adopt a tougher policy to improve substandard conditions which he said exist at more than half of the municipal swimming pools in Nebraska

He said municipal pool regulations may have to be strengthened, possibly through some type of permit system or licensing of public pool operators.

Describing some of the substandard conditions discovered at many pools, he said, "This pools situation is unforgiveable."

Some of it is poor housekeeping or just sloppy operating, like poor restroom and locker room facilities and dirty water, he said

Filipi said he had "hoped to see improvement by alerting local boards of health and the public," but "more drastic means may be necessary."

Board Member Charles Fowler of Lincoln said the state can't afford to have "one public health engineer babysitting for 400 to 500 pools," but agreed improvements must be made in most public pools between the design stage and the operational stage.

Committee Will Meet With Attorney On Redistricting

The legislative committee studying Nebraska's knotty reapportionment problem will meet Thursday night with a private Omaha attorney.

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine, chairman of the 13-member group, said Cecil Johnson has accepted an invitation to appear before the Committee on Committees.

Johnson was described as a student of legislative redistricting.

The committee voted last week to invite outside legal counsel to discuss the state's reapportionment matter in an effort to break an enduring stalemate.

Haven't Replied

Adamson said representatives of the State AFL-CIO have not replied yet to an invitation to express their views. He said he expects an answer soon.

The AFL-CIO successfully opposed the two reapportionment acts passed by the Legislature. It acted as an intervenor in the court action.

The core of the Nebraska problem revolves around crossing county lines or not in setting up new districts.

Prohibited

The attorney general has said the state constitution prohibits the Legislature from fashioning districts which contain only parts of counties.

The Thursday meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. and will be held in the West Senate Lounge in the Capitol.

48% More Gas Taxed In March

The State Roads Department reported Monday the amount of gasoline taxed last March increased 48% over March, 1964.

The surge of some 58 1 million gallons of motor fuel, excluding aviation fuel, was for stockpiling to beat the half-cent gasoline tax increase that went in effect April 1.

During the first three months, gallons taxed increased five per cent over the same period a year ago, according to the department.

Iowa Youth Killed

Cresco, Iowa (AP)—Robert J. Langman, 18, of rural Elma, was killed in a one-car accident about seven miles west of here

PLAN WOULD GIVE SCHOOL DRIVERS REST

School bus drivers would not be allowed to remain on duty more than 16 consecutive hours without taking a 10-hour rest interval under a tentative decision of the Legislature Monday

Sen H C Crandall of Curtis got the amendment written into LB99, a measure providing for periodic inspections of school buses, whether owned by the school district or not

In other action, lawmakers refused to tamper with a pending bill, LB526, which would eliminate the special white band on State Safety Patrol cars but would call for a flashing type light on the top of each such vehicle. Sen. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland made the unsuccessful move to eliminate the flashing light requirement.

Resolution Puts Senators Behind Accelerator Bid

A resolution pledging legislative cooperation in attempts to land the Atomic Energy Commission's proposed proton accelerator laboratory for Nebraska was introduced in the Legislature Monday.

Action on the resolution, No. 63, was deferred.

The resolution puts the Legislature on record "as pledging the cooperation of the various departments of the state government, and the support of the science program at the University of Nebraska to assist in the activation and continuation of this project if it is assigned to this state."

Sites near Mead and Sidney have been advocated by Nebraskans.

Pair To Participate In Auto Contest In Detroit

Dale Burback and John Grevich of Lincoln High School will represent Nebraska in the national Chrysler-Plymouth Division "Automobile Trouble-Shooting" contest to be held in Detroit, Mich. The two mechanics, sponsored by Dennis Weixelman, their instructor, won the annual Nebraska contest last month.

KERMMOADE GAINS PAROLE

A Lincoln man sentenced to life imprisonment 13 years ago for murder was paroled Monday after the attorney who prosecuted his case pleaded for his release.

Floyd N. Kermmoade, 35, was convicted in 1952 of second-degree murder in the rifle slaying of Charles F. Rundle, 67, who lived alone in north Lincoln. The shooting followed an argument about some coins owned by Rundle.

Frederick Wagener, Lancaster County attorney at the time, asked the State Board of Pardons and Paroles to give Kermmoade a chance on the outside.

"I have followed this young man and I personally like him," Wagener, now a private lawyer, said. "I think he has acquired the maturity he lacked and I don't think he's a risk."

Also supporting Kermmoade's parole petition was Lincoln Police Chief Joseph Carroll, who made his first appearance in 35 years before the state board.

"If there's a reason for the board of pardons to operate I would be for such a case as this," Carroll said

His life term was reduced to 45 years by the state board two years ago This made him eligible for parole.

The board deferred for one month action on the parole application of Edward Austion, 36 of Omaha and granted paroles to five other state penitentiary inmates.

Austion was sentenced to seven years on March 6, 1962, by the Douglas County District Court for manslaughter.

Other paroles granted, giving name of inmate, age, home, crime, county in which convicted, sentence in years and date sentenced:

Clifford Jackson, 40, Fremont, armed robbery, Cuming, 30, Jan. 9, 1956.
Jerry Barker, 23, Fremont, breaking and entering, Dodge, three, Jan. 15, 1964.
Busby Smith, 43, Omaha; manslaughter Douglas, five, May 3, 1963.
Fred Hancock, 60, Omaha, manslaughter, Douglas, six, Oct 23, 1962.
Paul Small, 44, Omaha, robbery and attempted prison escape, Douglas and Lancaster, 15 and one, Dec. 10, 1957 and Sept 6, 1960

Hearing Set On Nursing Home Rules

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The State Board of Health Monday agreed to hold public hearing after Sept. 1 on proposed new regulations tightening Nebraska licensing standards for nursing homes.

Final draft of the new regulations recommended by the State Hospital Advisory Council and developed by a special joint committee will be mailed to nursing home and other interested groups.

After hearing, the standards are subject to adoption, rejection or revision by the health board.

The board's attempt to hike standards for state approval of homes for he aged and infirm drew fire from the Nebraska Nursing Home Association Inc.

'Adequate If Enforced'

A spokesman for the group said the current rules are adequate if properly enforced and charged the organization was "not adequately represented on the committee" drafting the new standards.

Under board questioning, the spokesman said "not sufficient nursing home administrators were put on the committee," but a health department spokesman said the organization "had two representatives plus its executive secretary."

"That was more than any other organization, some of which only had one," he added

The organization's board of directors resolution also called for "a conference with health board representatives" prior to the public hearing.

Verne Pangborn, state hospitals chief, said the majority of nursing homes in Nebraska will have to upgrade to comply with new standards.

Not Before 1957

New standards will not apply to nursing homes in existence prior to 1957, when the regulations were first revised. Pangborn said eventually Nebraska will have to throw out "the grandfather clause."

In other action, the board:

—Set a July 1 deadline for receiving local applications for Hill-Burton hospital construction funds for fiscal 1965-66.

—Received a report from State Sanitation Engineer T. A. Filipi that Gering has requested $61,000 in federal aid for a sewage treatment project.

—Was advised that approximately $2 million in federal funds for sewage treatment has been requested, but the State Water Pollution Control Council won't determine project priorities until the amount of the federal allocation is known.

—Learned from Filipi that Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen will meet Thursday with packing house operators to enlist their cooperation on preliminary and permanent waste treatment facilities.

—Was advised that Pangborn and Dr. E. A. Rogers, state health director, plan to meet June 28 in Kearney with the Buffalo County Medical Society to discuss the concept of regional planning for medical facilities.

Tougher Pool Rules 'Might Be Necessary'

State Sanitation Engineer T. A. Filipi told the State Board of Health Monday that it may be necessary to adopt a tougher policy to improve substandard conditions which he said exist at more than half of the municipal swimming pools in Nebraska.

He said municipal pool regulations may have to be strengthened, possibly through some type of permit system or licensing of public pool operators.

Describing some of the substandard conditions discovered at many pools, he said, "This pools situation is unforgiveable."

Some of it is poor housekeeping or just sloppy operating, like poor restroom and locker room facilities and dirty water, he said.

Filipi said he had "hoped to see improvement by alerting local boards of health and the public," but "more drastic means may be necessary."

Board Member Charles Fowler of Lincoln said the state can't afford to have "one public health engineer babysitting for 400 to 500 pools," but agreed improvements must be made in most public pools between the design stage and the operational stage.

Committee Will Meet With Attorney On Redistricting

The legislative committee studying Nebraska's knotty reapportionment problem will meet Thursday night with a private Omaha attorney.

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine, chairman of the 13-member group, said Cecil Johnson has accepted an invitation to appear before the Committee on Committees.

Johnson was described as a student of legislative redistricting.

The committee voted last week to invite outside legal counsel to discuss the state's reapportionment matter in an effort to break an enduring stalemate.

Haven't Replied

Adamson said representatives of the State AFL-CIO have not replied yet to an invitation to express their views. He said he expects an answer soon.

The AFL-CIO successfully opposed the two reapportionment acts passed by the Legislature. It acted as an intervenor in the court action.

The core of the Nebraska problem revolves around crossing county lines or not in setting up new districts.

Generally, rural lawmakers proposed staying within county borders and urban senators seek to cross them.

Prohibited

The attorney general has said the state constitution prohibits the Legislature from fashioning districts which contain only parts of counties.

The Thursday meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. and will be held in the West Senate Lounge in the Capitol.

48% More Gas Taxed In March

The State Roads Department reported Monday the amount of gasoline taxed last March increased 48% over March, 1964.

The surge of some 58.1 million gallons of motor fuel, excluding aviation fuel, was for stockpiling to beat the half-cent gasoline tax increase that went in effect April 1.

During the first three months, gallons taxed increased five per cent over the same period a year ago, according to the department.

Iowa Youth Killed

PLAN WOULD GIVE SCHOOL DRIVERS REST

School bus drivers would not be allowed to remain on duty more than 16 consecutive hours without taking a 10-hour rest interval under a tentative decision of the Legislature Monday.

Sen. H. C. Crandall of Curtis got the amendment written into LB99, a measure providing for periodic inspections of school buses, whether owned by the school district or not.

In other action, lawmakers refused to tamper with a pending bill, LB526, which would eliminate the special white band on State Safety Patrol cars but would call for a flashing type light on the top of each such vehicle. Sen. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland made the unsuccessful move to eliminate the flashing light requirement.

Resolution Puts Senators Behind Accelerator Bid

A resolution pledging legislative cooperation in attempts to land the Atomic Energy Commission's proposed proton accelerator laboratory for Nebraska was introduced in the Legislature Monday.

Chiefly sponsored by Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, it carried the names of about one-third of the senators as introducers.

Action on the resolution, No. 63, was deferred.

The resolution puts the Legislature on record "as pledging the cooperation of the various departments of the state government, and the support of the science program at the University of Nebraska to assist in the activation and continuation of this project if it is assigned to this state."

Sites near Mead and Sidney have been advocated by Nebraskans.

Pair To Participate In Auto Contest In Detroit

Dale Burback and John Grevich of Lincoln High School will represent Nebraska in the national Chrysler-Plymouth Division "Automobile Trouble-Shooting" contest to be held in Detroit, Mich. The two mechanics, sponsored by Dennis Weixelman, their instructor, won the annual Nebraska contest last month.

KERMMOADE GAINS PAROLE

A Lincoln man sentenced to life imprisonment 13 years ago for murder was paroled Monday after the attorney who prosecuted his case pleaded for his release.

Floyd N. Kermmoade, 35, was convicted in 1952 of second-degree murder in the rifle slaying of Charles F. Rundle, 67, who lived alone in north Lincoln. The shooting followed an argument about some coins owned by Rundle.

Frederick Wagener, Lancaster County attorney at the time, asked the State Board of Pardons and Paroles to give Kermmoade a chance on the outside.

"I have followed this young man and I personally like him," Wagener, now a private lawyer, said. "I think he has acquired the maturity he lacked and I don't think he's a risk."

Also supporting Kermmoade's parole petition was Lincoln Police Chief Joseph Carroll, who made his first appearance in 35 years before the state board.

"If there's a reason for the board of pardons to operate I would be for such a case as this," Carroll said.

His life term was reduced to 45 years by the state board two years ago. This made him eligible for parole.

The board deferred for one month action on the parole application of Edward Austion, 36, of Omaha, and granted paroles to five other state penitentiary inmates.

Austion was sentenced to seven years on March 6, 1962, by the Douglas County District Court for manslaughter.

Other paroles granted, giving name of inmate, age, home, crime, county in which convicted, sentence in years and date sentenced:

Clifford Jackson, 49, Fremont; armed robbery, Cuming, 30, Jan. 9, 1956.
Jerry Barker, 23, Fremont; breaking and entering, Dodge, three Jan. 15, 1964.
Busby Smith, 43, Omaha; manslaughter, Douglas, five, May 1, 1963.
Fred Hancock, 60, Omaha; manslaughter, Douglas, six, Oct. 23, 1962.
Paul Small, 44, Omaha; robbery and attempted prison escape, Douglas and Lancaster, 15 and one, Dec. 10, 1957 and Sept. 6, 1960.

Better Cooks And Bookkeepers Goal Of School Lunch Workshop

By MARV McNEFF
Star Staff Writer

What the kids will and won't eat and everything from planning school lunch menus to controlling costs is being discussed at the school lunch workshop running from Monday until Friday in Lincoln.

School lunches are big business in Nebraska, with more than 20 million meals being served yearly. Allen Elliott, director of school food services for the State Department of Education, said the workshop is held to provide in-service training for new employes unfamiliar with school lunch programs.

Elliott noted that "we try to make better cooks and Bookkeepers for the average cook is only familiar with kitchens and cooking in the home."

The workshop is also sponsored by the State Department of Health and Nebraska School Food Service Association. The last mentioned group is also holding its annual convention during the workshop.

125,000 Receive Meals

There are 609 public schools and 125 parochial schools now participating in Nebraska, with 125,000 children receiving meals.

Lunch programs range from the smallest, at the Mascot community school, with 27 served, to Omaha, with 40,000. Lunch programs are operating in 33 Lincoln schools, with milk programs in all 56.

Lunch programs do more than provide good meals for school children. Miss Margaret Saunders, field consultant in nutrition for the State Department of Health, said the programs give schools the chance to teach proper nutrition habits in the classroom also.

Miss Saunders, who has been visiting schools having lunch programs for the last 17 years, said parents have told her their children will eat foods at school which they refuse to eat at home.

She said the programs do encourage the children to eat a great variety of foods, even so much that mothers sometimes ask for recipes of foods which have been served at school.

One Lincoln mother said her son thinks the only thing she cooks better than the school cooks is pizza.

Miss Saunders said one little boy told her that he had learned to like a lot of different things, even things he had never eaten but thought weren't good."

'Mainly Up Here'

"It was mainly up here," he told her, pointing at his head.

Cooking the food is not exclusively a women's job. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swartsley of Riverdale, both attending the workshop, handle the lunch program at Riverdale, a small school near Kearney, which serves 65 lunches daily.

Swartsley, who also farms 200 acres, had been a 15-year member of the Riverdale school board, and when the regular custodian quit, two years ago, he took over. When the regular cook later quit, Mrs. Swartsley took over that job, and now Mr. Swartsley keeps the books and helps with the cooking occasionally.

Elliot said the average price of the school lunch is 27.5 cents. The basic type A meal, said Mrs. Luella McMillan, school lunch manager of Crete Public schools, an instructor at the workshop, must have two ounces of edible protein, three-fourths cup of fruit or vegetable, a slice of bread or equivalent, two teaspoons of butter and one-half pint of milk.

Besides planning menus and controlling costs, the workshop instructors will discuss evaluating menus, making market orders, storing foods, serving foods, practicing sanitation and safety, and scheduling jobs.

Seven Tons of Meat

Elliot said 125,000 children would drink 15,000 gallons of milk daily and eat seven tons of meat, if ground beef were being served.

Participation by the federal government in the school lunch program amounts to four cents a meal, with an additional 10 cents worth of surplus federal commodities being donated by the government.

Commodities include such items as beef, flour, butter, cheese, dried milk, turkey and chicken.

Between 2,500 and 3,000 cooks and associated helpers are employed in lunch programs in Nebraska. Wednesday, when the food service association convention starts the number attending should be nearly 600, according to estimates from the State Department of Education.

300 Register For Speech Tourney

Omaha (AP)—Three hundred contestants registered Monday for the national speech tournament which opens Tuesday.

There were 140 coaches registered and contestants represented 150 schools in 37 states, Additional registration will be held Tuesday morning.

The tournament, sponsored by the National Forensic League, brings together top speakers for speech competition ranging from drama to extemporaneous.

Among the early registerants Monday was James Hawker, speech coach from Jefferson High School in LaFayette, Ind. Hawker, 1964 coach-of-the year, had the largest delegation in the tournament, seven students. Last year his students won the sweepstakes.

Each coach gets one-tenth of a point for every point a student wins in a contest. With more than 6,000 points, Hawker is a triple-diamond coach. He shares this honor with three other speech teachers.

Malaysia Plans Expanded Forces

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (AP)—Acting Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak announced Malaysia will spend $1.5 billion on the expansion of the armed forces in the next five years.

Razak, who is also defense minister, said a number of army battalions will be raised next year.

The strength of Malaysia's regular armed forces including air force and navy personnel is about 20,000 men.

Ryan Resigns

Nebraska City — Ben Ryan has resigned as head of the recently formed Community Betterment Committee. He blamed a lack of co-operation between the committee and the Chamber of Commerce for his action.

E.U.B. BACKS EQUAL JOB, HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES

A resolution supporting legislation for equal opportunities in employment and housing was passed at the final business session of the 92nd annual conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. (EUB) Nebraska Conference, Monday afternoon.

Another resolution, prepared by the same Standing Committee on Christian Social Action of the church, referred the question of the churche's position on U.S. involvement in Viet Nam to the church's Department of Social Action for further study. A statement is then to be issued outlining "The Christian approach" to the situation.

The conference also adopted a new mission to local communities for the next year. Called the 4-C mission, derived from "cooperative, comprehensive Christian confrontation," the program will entail study groups and inspirational meetings for both pastors and laymen.

Another resolution from the social action committee adopted by the conference deals with encouraging church members to refrain from smoking. March 6, 1966, was designated as a special day to encourage abstaining from smoking.

A resolution prepared by the social action committee dealing with the problem of pornographic literature insures that the Department of Christian Social Action will provide to local churches copies of the "Salt Lake City" and "St. Louis" plans, which outline legal procedure for the control of pornographic literature.

In adopting the resolutions prepared by the Ways and Means Committee, the conference set the minimum cash pastor's salary at $4,800, and conference superintendents salaries at $6,500.

A total conference budget of $126,011 was adopted, divided into $45,360 for general causes and $80,651 for conference causes.

The conference listed 18 separate pieces of property which are to be sold, resulting from mergers and discontinuations of congregations.

The denomination's church camp at Milford is involved in a legal dispute regarding removal of a dam on the Blue River. The plaintiff in the case, now in the Supreme Court, is the Milford Kiwanis Camp.

An improvement planned for the camp is a new dining hall for 450 people, winterized and air-conditioned. A committee is to study further relocation or location of the caretaker's house, dormitories, trailer and tent campsites and parking lots.

The camp schedule for 1965 is May 24 to Aug. 27, with ten groups, EUB and otherwise, using the camp facilities.

Other reports adopted Monday were from the Christian educational and evangelism committees.

HEMORRHOIDS?

New formula works 5 ways for faster, longer-lasting relief!

In clinical tests of new M.P.O.—an advanced treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—doctors reported "results were good to excellent" for 5 out of every 6 patients! M.P.O. works five ways for faster, longer-lasting relief:

1. Helps ease pain faster. You get more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients, including Benzocaine, than in the preparation you may now be using.
2. Helps shrink swollen tissues. M.P.O. quickly releases the proven vaso-constrictor, Ephedrine Sulfate, to reduce swelling.
3. Relieves embarrassing itch. M.P.O. is homogenized for faster absorption, faster relief.
4. Gives longer relief. A more temperature-stable base holds medication in place, prolongs relief-bringing action.
5. Fights danger of infection. Proven germ-killer Hexachlorophene combats bacteria.

M.P.O. is a development of Mentholatum Laboratories. Available in stainless ointment or suppositories at all drug counters.

Better Cooks And Bookkeepers Goal Of School Lunch Workshop

By MARV McNEFF
Star Staff Writer

What the kids will and won't eat and everything from planning school lunch menus to controlling costs is being discussed at the school lunch workshop running from Monday until Friday in Lincoln.

School lunches are big business in Nebraska, with more than 20 million meals being served yearly. Allen Elliott, director of school food services for the State Department of Education, said the workshop is held to provide in-service training for new employes unfamiliar with school lunch programs.

Elliott noted that "we try to make better cooks and Bookkeepers for the average cook is only familiar with kitchens and cooking in the home."

The workshop is also sponsored by the State Department of Health and Nebraska School Food Service Association. The last mentioned group is also holding its annual convention during the workshop.

125,000 Receive Meals

There are 609 public schools and 125 parochial schools now participating in Nebraska, with 125,000 children receiving meals.

Lunch programs range from the smallest, at the Mascot community school, with 27 served, to Omaha, with 40,000. Lunch programs are operating in 33 Lincoln schools, with milk programs in all 56.

Lunch programs do more than provide good meals for school chldren. Miss Margaret Saunders, field consultant in nutrition for the State Department of Health, said the programs give schools the chance to teach proper nutrition habits in the classroom also.

Miss Saunders, who has been visiting schools having lunch programs for the last 17 years, said parents have told her their children will eat foods at school which they refuse to eat at home.

She said the programs do encourage the children to eat a great variety of foods, even so much that mothers sometimes ask for recipes of foods which have been served at school.

One Lincoln mother said her son thinks the only thing she cooks better than the school cooks is pizza.

Miss Saunders said one little boy told her that he had learned to like a lot of different things, even things he had never eaten but thought weren't good."

'Mainly Up Here'

"It was mainly up here," he told her, pointing at his head.

Cooking the food is not exclusively a women's job. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swartsley of Riverdale, both attending the workshop, handle the lunch program at Riverdale, a small school near Kearney, which serves 65 lunches daily.

Swartsley, who also farms 200 acres, had been a 15-year member of the Riverdale school board, and when the regular custodian quit, two years ago, he took over. When the regular cook later quit, Mrs. Swartsley took over that job, and now Mr. Swartsley keeps the books and helps with the cooking occasionally.

Elliot said the average price of the school lunch is 27.5 cents. The basic type A meal, said Mrs. Luella McMillan, school lunch manager of Crete Public schools, an instructor at the workshop, must have two ounces of edible protein, three-fourths cup of fruit or vegetable, a slice of bread or equivalent, two teaspoons of butter and one-half pint of milk.

Besides planning menus and controlling costs, the workshop instructors will discuss evaluating menus, making market orders, storing foods, serving foods, practicing sanitation and safety, and scheduling jobs.

Seven Tons of Meat

Elliot said 125,000 children would drink 15,000 gallons of milk daily and eat seven tons of meat, if ground beef were being served.

Participation by the federal government in the school lunch program amounts to four cents a meal, with an additional 10 cents worth of surplus federal commodities being donated by the government.

Commodities include such items as beef, flour, butter, cheese, dried milk, turkey and chicken.

Between 2,500 and 3,000 cooks and associated helpers are employed in lunch programs in Nebraska. Wednesday, when the food service association convention starts the number attending should be nearly 600, according to estimates from the State Department of Education.

300 Register For Speech Tourney

Omaha (AP)—Three hundred contestants registered Monday for the national speech tournament which opens Tuesday.

There were 140 coaches registered and contestants represented 150 schools in 37 states, Additional registration will be held Tuesday morning.

The tournament, sponsored by the National Forensic League, brings together top speakers for speech competition ranging from drama to extemporaneous.

Among those registering Monday was a contingent from Hawaii which arrived with leis and pineapples, symbols of their state.

Among the early registerants Monday was James Hawker, speech coach from Jefferson High School in LaFayette, Ind. Hawker, 1964 coach-of-the year, had the largest delegation in the tournament, seven students. Last year his students won the sweepstakes.

Each coach gets one-tenth of a point for every point a student wins in a contest. With more than 6,000 points, Hawker is a triple-diamond coach. He shares this honor with three other speech teachers.

Malaysia Plans Expanded Forces

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (AP)—Acting Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak announced Malaysia will spend $1.5 billion on the expansion of the armed forces in the next five years.

Razak, who is also defense minister, said a number of army battalions will be raised next year.

The strength of Malaysia's regular armed forces including air force and navy personnel is about 20,000 men.

Ryan Resigns

Nebraska City — Ben Ryan has resigned as head of the recently formed Community Betterment Committee. He blamed a lack of co-operation between the committee and the Chamber of Commerce for his action.

E.U.B. BACKS EQUAL JOB, HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES

A resolution supporting legislation for equal opportunities in employment and housing was passed at the final business session of the 92nd annual conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, (EUB) Nebraska Conference, Monday afternoon.

Another resolution, prepared by the same Standing Committee on Christian Social Action of the church, referred the question of the churche's position on U.S. involvement in Viet Nam to the church's Department of Social Action for further study. A statement is then to be issued outlining "The Christian approach" to the situation.

The conference also adopted a new mission to local communities for the next year. Called the 4-C mission, derived from "cooperative, comprehensive Christian confrontation," the program will entail study groups and inspirational meetings for both pastors and laymen.

Another resolution from the social action committee adopted by the conference deals with encouraging church members to refrain from smoking. March 6, 1966, was designated as a special day to encourage abstaining from smoking.

A resolution prepared by the social action committee dealing with the problem of pornographic literature insures that the Department of Christian Social Action will provide to local churches copies of the "Salt Lake City" and "St. Louis" plans, which outline legal procedure for the control of pornographic literature.

In adopting the resolutions prepared by the Ways and Means Committee, the conference set the minimum cash pastor's salary at $4,800, and conference superintendents salaries at $6,500.

A total conference budget of $126,011 was adopted, divided into $45,360 for general causes and $80,651 for conference causes.

The conference listed 18 separate pieces of property which are to be sold, resulting from mergers and discontinuations of congregations.

The denomination's church camp at Milford is involved in a legal dispute regarding removal of a dam on the Blue River. The plaintiff in the case, now in the Supreme Court, is the Milford Kiwanis Camp.

An improvement planned for the camp is a new dining hall for 450 people, winterized and air-conditioned. A committee is to study further relocation or location of the caretaker's house, dormitories, trailer and tent campsites and parking lots.

The camp schedule for 1965 is May 24 to Aug. 27, with ten groups, EUB and otherwise, using the camp facilities.

Other reports adopted Monday were from the Christian educational and evangelism committees.

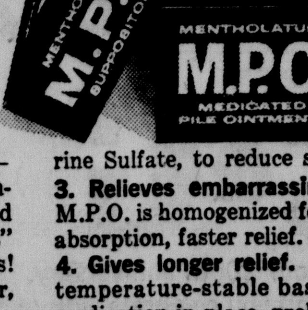
HEMORRHOIDS?



New formula works 5 ways for faster, longer-lasting relief!

In clinical tests of new M.P.O.—an advanced treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—doctors reported "results were good to excellent" for 5 out of every 6 patients! M.P.O. works five ways for faster, longer-lasting relief:

1. Helps ease pain faster. You get more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients, including Benzocaine, than in the preparation you may now be using.
2. Helps shrink swollen tissues. M.P.O. quickly releases the proven vaso-constrictor, Ephedrine Sulfate, to reduce swelling.
3. Relieves embarrassing itch. M.P.O. is homogenized for faster absorption, faster relief.
4. Gives longer relief. A more temperature-stable base holds medication in place, prolongs relief-bringing action.
5. Fights danger of infection. Proven germ-killer Hexachlorophene combats bacteria.

M.P.O. is a development of Mentholatum Laboratories. Available in stainless ointment or suppositories at all drug counters.

Prices Sag In Quiet Stock Mart

New York (AP)—The stock market groped for support Monday as trading diminished to the lightest rate in more than 10 months. Prices sagged.

Although stocks fell, they did not penetrate the closing low made last Monday in advance of the vigorous three-day rally. Much of this Monday's action was regarded by analysts as a "test" of that low.

After a mixed opening, prices began to melt. Their decline deepened until an hour before the close, then they recovered in a slow and leisurely manner.

The Dow Jones industrial average ended the day with a net loss of 5.05 at 874.12. An hour earlier it was off 7.69. Last Monday's closing figure of 868.71 was the one being tested. It was approached but not penetrated so, from the chartist's viewpoint, the test was successful.

Trading was so light, however, that the action's significance was watered down. Volume of 3.28 million shares compared with 4.32 million Friday and was the smallest since Aug. 10, 1964 when 3.05 million shares changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.2 to 320.2, with industrials down 1.9, rails off .8 and utilities off .3.

Of 1,348 issues traded, 744 declined and 318 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 5 and new lows 68.

Weekend economic news was mixed. The market seemed to lack stimulus. Most of the session's trading was featureless.

American photocopy continued as the most active stock, closing unchanged at 9½ on 63,000 shares.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks fell, 3 rose and 2 were unchanged.

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.11 million shares compared with 1.25 million on Friday.

Corporate bonds declined in light dealings. U.S. Treasury bonds advanced.

Grains Post More Gains Than Losses

Chicago (AP)—The grain futures market finished with more gains than losses Monday but some setbacks in wheat and corn were fairly broad for the small trade volume.

Old crop soybeans were in best demand and closed with net gains ranging to more than 2 cents a bushel, down more than a cent from the days highs. Oats were firm and rye mixed.

Brokers said profit cashing weakened corn somewhat, particularly the new crop months.

Wheat was under pressure of moderate hedge selling and it, like corn, lost major fractions in spots.

Soybeans were unchanged to 2¼ cents a bushel higher at the close, July $2.93⅜-¼; wheat ¾ lower to ⅜ higher, July new grade $1.38⅜; corn ¼ higher to ⅜ lower, July $1.32⅞-33; oats ⅜-¾ higher, July 68 cents; rye ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, July $1.15¼.

Appeals Filed In Connection With 1965 Valuations

Two appeals were filed in Lancaster District Court Monday against the Board of Equalization in connection with 1965 property valuations

The Lincoln Building Corp. asks the court to declare the $181,845 assessed valuation "unjust, arbitrary, in violation of the law, and in excess of its actual value."

The firm claims its assessed valuation should not exceed $141,750.

The Fleming Co. filed an appeal on its personal property assessed valuation alleging that its actual value should not exceed $998,534.

Quicker To Walk

LB164 Advance Is Pleasing To Demo Chairman

Kearney (AP)—State Democratic Chairman John C. Mitchell complimented the Nebraska Legislature Monday for advancing LB164, the measure to return selection of national party convention delegates to the primary election.

Under a 1963 act delegates at large were chosen at the state party convention last year with only district delegates elected. Republicans chose 10 delegates at large, Democrats four.

"The Nebraska Democratic party chose to have the maximum number of its convention delegates chosen directly by the people in the primary election," Mitchell said.

"The Democratic Party now favors and will continue to favor any proposal which allows the people a greater voice in the selection of party delegates and the determination of the party's affairs, ..." he said.

Prices Sag In Quiet Stock Mart

New York (AP)—The stock market groped for support Monday as trading diminished to the lightest rate in more than 10 months. Prices sagged.

Although stocks fell, they did not penetrate the closing low made last Monday in advance of the vigorous three-day rally. Much of this Monday's action was regarded by analysts as a "test" of that low.

After a mixed opening, prices began to melt. Their decline deepened until an hour before the close, then they recovered in a slow and leisurely manner.

The Dow Jones industrial average ended the day with a net loss of 5.05 at 874.12. An hour earlier it was off 7.69. Last Monday's closing figure of 868.71 was the one being tested. It was approached but not penetrated so, from the chartist's viewpoint, the test was successful.

Trading was so light, however, that the action's significance was watered down. Volume of 3.28 million shares compared with 4.32 million Friday and was the smallest since Aug. 10, 1964 when 3.05 million shares changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.2 to 320.2, with industrials down 1.9, rails off .8 and utilities off .3.

Of 1,348 issues traded, 744 declined and 318 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 5 and new lows 68.

Weekend economic news was mixed. The market seemed to lack stimulus. Most of the session's trading was featureless.

American photocopy continued as the most active stock, closing unchanged at 9½ on 63,000 shares.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks fell, 3 rose and 2 were unchanged.

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.11 million shares compared with 1.25 million on Friday.

Corporate bonds declined in light dealings. U.S. Treasury bonds advanced.

Grains Post More Gains Than Losses

Chicago (AP)—The grain futures market finished with more gains than losses Monday but some setbacks in wheat and corn were fairly broad for the small trade volume.

Old crop soybeans were in best demand and closed with net gains ranging to more than 2 cents a bushel, down more than a cent from the days highs. Oats were firm and rye mixed.

Brokers said profit cashing weakened corn somewhat, particularly the new crop months.

Wheat was under pressure of moderate hedge selling and it, like corn, lost major fractions in spots.

Soybeans were unchanged to 2¼ cents a bushel higher at the close, July $2.93⅜-⅝; wheat ¾ lower to ⅜ higher, July new grade $1.38⅜; corn ¼ higher to ⅞ lower, July $1.32⅞-33; oats ⅜-¾ higher, July 68 cents; rye ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, July $1.15¼.

Appeals Filed In Connection With 1965 Valuations

Two appeals were filed in Lancaster District Court Monday against the Board of Equalization in connection with 1965 property valuations

The Lincoln Building Corp. asks the court to declare the $181,845 assessed valuation "unjust, arbitrary, in violation of the law, and in excess of its actual value."

The firm claims its assessed valuation should not exceed $141,750.

The Fleming Co. filed an appeal on its personal property assessed valuation alleging that its actual value should not exceed $998,534.

Quicker To Walk

Glasgow, Scotland (AP) — Charles McNally, a 19-year-old cook, discovered its quicker to walk than ride. He hiked the 400 miles from London to visit his parents in Glasgow in seven days. But his suitcase, sent by train, still hadn't arrived two weeks after it was sent. British railways are investigating.

LB164 Advance Is Pleasing To Demo Chairman

Kearney (AP)—State Democratic Chairman John C. Mitchell complimented the Nebraska Legislature Monday for advancing LB164, the measure to return selection of national party convention delegates to the primary election.

Under a 1963 act delegates at large were chosen at the state party convention last year with only district delegates elected. Republicans chose 10 delegates at large, Democrats four.

"The Nebraska Democratic party chose to have the maximum number of its convention delegates chosen directly by the people in the primary election," Mitchell said.

"The Democratic Party now favors and will continue to favor any proposal which allows the people a greater voice in the selection of party delegates and the determination of the party's affairs, ..." he said.

NU's Summer Enrollments Near Record

Summer session enrollment at the University of Nebraska passed the 5,100 mark Monday and University officials anticipated an all-time high registration of 5,400 would be reached by the end of the August session.

The previous summer school enrollment record was set a year ago when 4,536 students had enrolled at the close of the regular summer session, according to University Registrar Floyd Hoover.

Dr. Frank Sorenson, director of summer sessions, said the concept of all-year education has been chiefly responsible for the increased enrollments.

Sorenson said the number of new high school graduates enrolled this summer will likely be larger than in any previous session.

More than 7,100 students of all ages are engaged in studies on the campus this summer. In addition to regular students, more than 2,000 Nebraska high school students are attending various educational programs on the Lincoln campuses.

Lincolnite Named DirectorOfDakota ExpansionAgency

Pierre, S.D. (UPI) — A Lincoln, Neb., man was named Monday as the new director of the S. D. Industrial Development and Expansion Agency (IDEA).

James Monroe, 29, was selected to succeed Eugene Stearns who resigned last week.

Monroe, who was born at Fairfax, S. D., and attended Huron, S. D., College for two years has been assistant chief of the Nebraska Resources Division in Lincoln since 1962.

Stearns resigned to accept the position of executive secretary of the South Dakota Petroleum Council.

Charges Filed In Fatal Knifing

Plattsmouth (AP)—A charge of second degree murder was filed Monday against Jesse J. Bressman, 30, in the fatal knifing of Ronald E. Hall, 33, Omaha, Sunday night during a fight at a La Platte tavern.

Sarpy County Sheriff Richard Whitted said the fight at the Longhorn Tavern occurred after the bartender sought to eject Bressman. Hall went to the aid of the bartender and was stabbed in the heart, the sheriff said.

Motor Scooter, 2 Cars Collide

A Lincoln youth was taken to Bryan Memorial Hospital in good condition Monday night after the motor scooter he was riding collided with two automobiles on Capitol Parkway at 27th.

The automobiles were traveling east on Capitol Parkway and were abreast of each other when the accident occurred. The first automobile, driven by Marvin Mills, 34, of 1221 C, struck the northbound motor scooter operated by Fridemann J. Bender, 21, of 2601 B, causing him to hit the right rear of the second automobile, driven by Robert A. Murray, 32, of 4521 Meredeth, police said.

Neither car operator was injured, but Bender suffered serious facial injury, authorities said.

Man, 33, Held For Firing Gun At Elks Club

Police have arrested a Lincoln man, 33, for firing a pistol at the Elks Club, 229 So. 9th.

Police said the man drew the weapon after an argument and as he left the building, fired the weapon into a concrete wall.

Police said that no one was injured.

Russell Joins Staff Of Chadron College

Chadron—The appointment of Berl C. Russell at assistant professor of speech and drama at Chadron State College has been announced by Dr. F. Clark Elkins, president.

Russell has taught at the University of South Dakota at Vermillion; Makato Minnesota State College; Valparaiso (Indiana) University) Georgia Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga.; and General Beadle College, Madison, S.D.

NU's Summer Enrollments Near Record

Summer session enrollment at the University of Nebraska passed the 5,100 mark Monday and University officials anticipated an all-time high registration of 5,400 would be reached by the end of the August session.

The previous summer school enrollment record was set a year ago when 4,536 students had enrolled at the close of the regular summer session, according to University Registrar Floyd Hoover.

Dr. Frank Sorenson, director of summer sessions, said the concept of all-year education has been chiefly responsible for the increased enrollments.

Sorenson said the number of new high school graduates enrolled this summer will likely be larger than in any previous session.

More than 7,100 students of all ages are engaged in studies on the campus this summer. In addition to regular students, more than 2,000 Nebraska high school students are attending various educational programs on the Lincoln campuses.

Lincolnite Named DirectorOfDakota ExpansionAgency

Pierre, S.D. (UPI) — A Lincoln, Neb., man was named Monday as the new director of the S. D. Industrial Development and Expansion Agency (IDEA).

James Monroe, 29, was selected to succeed Eugene Stearns who resigned last week.

Monroe, who was born at Fairfax, S. D., and attended Huron, S. D., College for two years has been assistant chief of the Nebraska Resources Division in Lincoln since 1962.

Stearns resigned to accept the position of executive secretary of the South Dakota Petroleum Council.

Charges Filed In Fatal Knifing

Plattsmouth (AP)—A charge of second degree murder was filed Monday against Jesse J. Bressman, 30, in the fatal knifing of Ronald E. Hall, 33, Omaha, Sunday night during a fight at a La Platte tavern.

Sarpy County Sheriff Richard Whitted said the fight at the Longhorn Tavern occurred after the bartender sought to eject Bressman. Hall went to the aid of the bartender and was stabbed in the heart, the sheriff said.

Motor Scooter, 2 Cars Collide

A Lincoln youth was taken to Bryan Memorial Hospital in good condition Monday night after the motor scooter he was riding collided with two automobiles on Capitol Parkway at 27th.

The automobiles were traveling east on Capitol Parkway and were abreast of each other when the accident occurred. The first automobile, driven by Marvin Mills, 34, of 1221 C, struck the northbound motor scooter operated by Fridemann J. Bender, 21, of 2601 B, causing him to hit the right rear of the second automobile, driven by Robert A. Murray, 32, of 4521 Meredeth, police said.

Neither car operator was injured, but Bender suffered serious facial injury, authorities said.

Man, 33, Held For Firing Gun At Elks Club

Police have arrested a Lincoln man, 33, for firing a pistol at the Elks Club, 229 So. 9th.

Police said the man drew the weapon after an argument and as he left the building, fired the weapon into a concrete wall.

Police said that no one was injured.

9. INTERPRETATION OF CONTRACT DOCUMENTS:

If any person contemplating submitting a bid for the proposed contract is in doubt as to the true meaning of any part of plans, specifications, or other proposal contract documents, he may submit to the Architect-Engineer a written request for an interpretation thereof. The person submitting the request will be responsible for its prompt delivery. Any interpretation of the documents will be made only by Addendum duly issued and a copy of such addendum will be mailed or delivered to each person receiving a set of such documents. All inquiries shall be made prior to five (5) days before the date set for receipt of bids, to allow time for the Architect-Engineer to issue addenda to all bidders.

Bill Killing Exemption Survives

A bill to eliminate the $200 exemption on household goods valuation for property tax purposes survived a new kill attempt in the Legislature Monday.

Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha was rebuffed 11-37 in his motion to ax LB850 on select file.

Pedersen said he expects the state income tax to pass and LB850 "is adding a little too much on our tax paying constituents."

He drew support from Omaha Sen. Sam Klaver, who termed it a "bad bill" which "won't raise much money but will hurt the people who have but a little."

Sen Jules Burbach of Crofton, whose Revenue Committee introduced the measure, termed it "a good piece of legislation" which will yield $245,000 per year to the state, and 1.6 million to lower political subdivisions.

Voting to kill were Sens. Pedersen, Edward Danner, Sam Klaver, Eugene Mahoney, Pat Moulton, Harold Moylan, Richard Proud, William Skarda and George Syas, all of Omaha, and Frank Nelson of O'Neill and Ira Paine of Grand Island.

Danner Agrees To Amend Fair Employment Bill

Sen. Edward R. Danner of Omaha said Monday he will attempt to amend his state fair employment practices act to broaden employer exemptions.

HE spoke out after the State Chamber of Commerce and Associated Industries of Nebraska (AIN) indicated they would withdraw support of the legislation unless the employer section was changed.

Now, LB656 would apply to all persons with more than one person in their employ.

Danner, the Legislature's only Negro member, said he will ask this be amended to include only those employing 25 or more workers.

"I don't think I can get it passed with the narrow employer exemption section," he said. "I am willing to go along with the 25 or more proviso."

The bill received 25-10 preliminary approval last week. Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff tacked on the employer exemption amendment.

Governor Asks Eminent Domain For ETV's Use

Gov. Frank Morrison sent to the Legislature Monday a bill authorizing the Nebraska Educational Television Commission to use eminent domain powers to acquire a 3.58 acre tract of land for transmitter purposes four miles east and two miles south of Angora.

The desired tract is on state school lands.

A different tract northwest of Angora on which the ETV Commission had acquired option earlier was objected to by aeronautics interests and a new site had to be obtained, according to Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance, who delivered the bill for the governor.

The bill was placed on general file without a public hearing.

HURRAH!

FEDERAL EXCISE TAXES ARE A THING OF THE PAST!

Hip, hip hurray for the repeal of the Federal Excise Tax. We've been having a great time lowering our prices on TV, stereo, radios and window air conditioners and many, many other items so we can pass this savings on to you right away. However, if you bought any of these items since May 15th you are entitled to a refund of the federal tax paid. Just come into our appliance department and apply for your refund and look around at the new savings on many items. Don't forget your credit plate—it's as good as gold—buy with no down payment and only a few dollars a month.
